

Jimmie THE Messenger Boy GOES COON HUNTING.

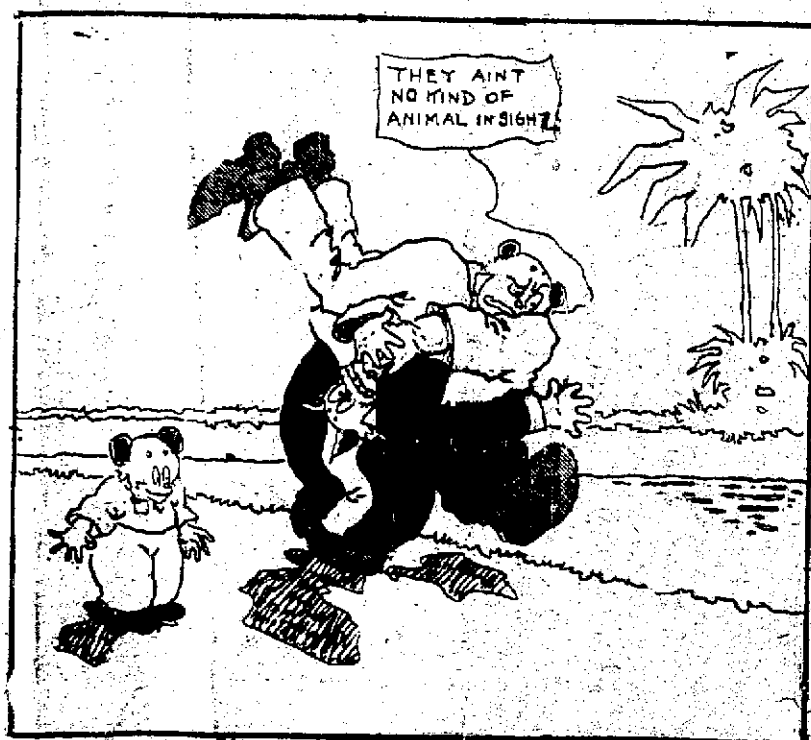

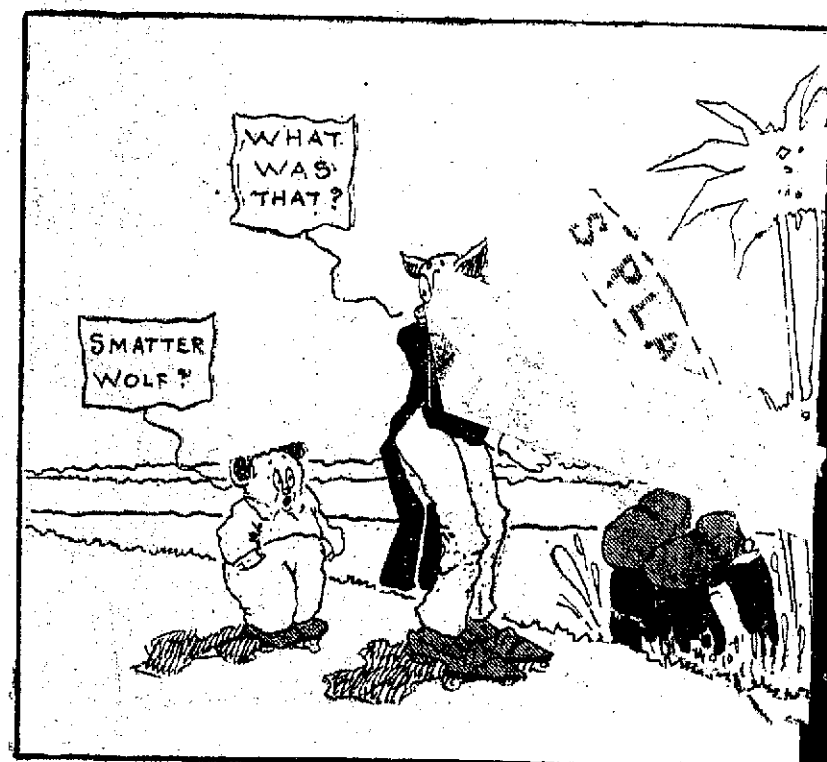

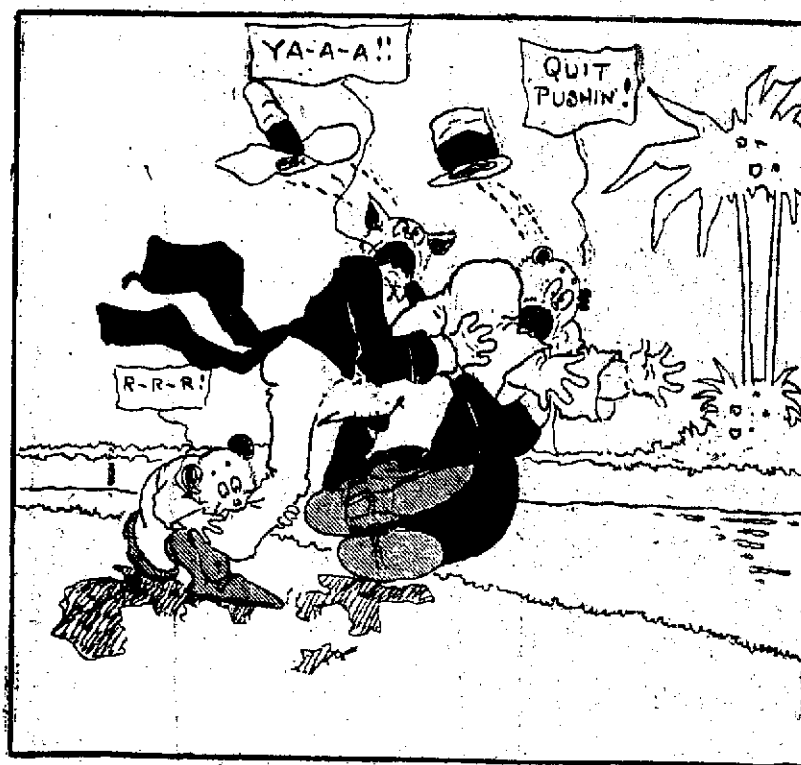

FARMER JUDKINS HAS A BARREL OF TROUBLE

THE HIPPO TAKES THE MONK FOR A RIDE

No sir. You can never tell what's GOIN' TO JUMP UP AND GRAB YOU

AMERICA'S BUSTLE CONFUSES DAUGHTER OF NO

MISS LAURENCE ALMA-TADEMA IS LOST IN WONDER AT NEW YORK'S STRANGE ACTIVITY

"So Amazing, So Vast, and So Seethingly Restless!"

(By VIOLA ROGERS)

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—Miss Laurence Alma-Tadema, daughter of a famous English painter, novelist, playwright and author who has just come to this country from London, was asked yesterday to give her impressions of the Horse Show.

Miss Tadema, who saw the ocean for the first time a little more than a week ago and was sick all the way across, now is sleeping at the Fraytor. The American way of doing things, the hustle of the city, the restaurants, elevators, service and mail in the hotel, the letters to the office floor are a something of a revelation to her. The fact that the English system of having the left instead of the right, is not in vogue, or the thoroughfares here is a surprise to her.

Of her impressions of the Horse Show, a young woman who appeared in a class, she said she was for which she had been asked to give her impressions of the Horse Show.

NO JUDGE OF HORSES
Your judges are all quite different from those on the other side. I like when you ask me for my impression of your Horse Show, you tell me that I am to tell your paper and I am to tell your paper.

I am not a judge of horses, as I don't know anything about horses and how to judge them. I am not a judge of horses, as I don't know anything about horses and how to judge them.

CANNOT THINK A THOUGHT
I am not a judge of horses, as I don't know anything about horses and how to judge them. I am not a judge of horses, as I don't know anything about horses and how to judge them.

MISS LAURENCE ALMA-TADEMA, ENGLISH WOMAN, WHO GIVES HER IMPRESSIONS OF CONDITIONS OF LIFE IN NEW YORK

my window if I shall not find some loss with the confusion about me. The confusion about me is really I should say it is a confusion of the telephone bell in my mind.

"And the Way One Eats, Here-- In Such a Great Rush"

Really one's waiter has carried on one's plate before one has made up one's mind if one is happy with the dinner it most remarkable.

And your streets look so congested and your carriages all seem to turn the wrong way in the streets and one is really afraid to risk one's poor life in crossing them.

I have seen no libraries at all. Isn't it truly confusing? But I shall be delighted with my visit here. Really I shouldn't have come if I had not had my lectures for you. I am far more interested in my own individual work than I am in your America.

I am sure to take a great deal back with me—Miss Tadema didn't specify whether it would be pounds sterling or experience (it couldn't be impressions)—and it will be of some avail of course.

One never does anything in life without getting good out of it. Else unhappiness for everything a life comes is a result of our selves. We risk or make our own lives. I firmly believe.

I'M

H E

Who Loves Pin Nice

CONSERV

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—An English girl like a reputation—one must live up to it. I am not extravagant, my extended stay here of my woman of my mother. Mrs. Julia Watts, Currier, the English woman, has given her a very despatch denouncing her as the most beautiful woman in New York. The American reporter the story of her stay with her wealth. She talked length of the demands of society and the world at large upon moneyed people, the unhappiness which follows.

Arrived in a canary and gold spangled gown which was being used for the first time, so that it might be perfect at the Horse Show. Miss Watts received the reporter in her apartment in Eighty-sixth street.

NO MONEY NO BOTHER
It is a good thing not to have money at all, she continued.

CHILDREN HAVE TO PLAY IN SPACE OF A GRAVE

Open School Playgrounds for Tenement Youngsters Are Urged by League Women.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—Do you realize that in the crowded parts of the city thousands of children have no place of opportunity for play or exercise after school? An officer of the Public Schools Athletic League pointed out the problem in a speech before the League of Women Voters. He said that in the tenement houses of the city, where the children are crowded together, there is no room for them to play. The children are forced to play in the streets, which are often dirty and dangerous. The League of Women Voters is urging the city to open school playgrounds for tenement children.

Women Raid British Courts

A dispatch from London says that Suffragettes raided the police court in the leading cities of the United Kingdom a few days ago and made man admiral and laws. The women were protesting against the treatment of women in the courts. They were demanding equal rights for women in the legal system.

PLAYGROUND IN PARK

The only playground in the park is the one small park of that district, and is much of the street space is not occupied by the crowd of adults and the push carts and sidewalk stunts. The district thing to remedy this would be to open the playgrounds of the schools with teachers in charge. We are doing this at the present time to supervise by giving them the instruction in all dancing and athletic for the girls in return for which they give an equal amount of time and instruction to boys of their schools. We have five classes in each afternoon.

AFFINITY Made Paramount MARRIAGE By This Soul

CHICAGO, Nov. 30.—Love set forth in a legal document that made affinity paramount in marriage. The document was signed by a man and a woman who were about to be married. The document stated that the man and woman were in love and that they wanted to be married. The document was signed by the man and the woman.

Robert Gilray, who has been for twelve years a practicing attorney, at the Chicago bar, declared that he had never been married to Adelaide Lawton of Boise, Idaho, who claimed that she was his wife.

My God, does this mean say I am not his wife? He declared that he had never been married to Adelaide Lawton of Boise, Idaho, who claimed that she was his wife.

REMARKABLE AGREEMENT
Know all men by these presents that we Robert Gilray and Adelaide Lawton both of the city of Boise in the county of Ada, State of Idaho, being of the mature age of 21 and being students of the highest thought science and natural law.

Whereas they recognize the fact that marriage is the sacrament of the soul, the union of two accident minds, the blending of two perfect harmonious lives in one, and through the greater natural law through which no person is isolated one of persons who are part of a whole.

Whereas The said Robert Gilray and Adelaide Lawton recognizing these facts and the fact that they are both of the mature age of 21 and being students of the highest thought science and natural law, and that they are both of the mature age of 21 and being students of the highest thought science and natural law, and that they are both of the mature age of 21 and being students of the highest thought science and natural law.

"CHIVALRY? BAH!"

Girl Wants Work, But Refuses to Act as Darling

Says Men Who Advertise for Stenographer Only Want a Pretty Female Companion

SHEALON WANTED I want to be a stenographer. I want to be a stenographer. I want to be a stenographer. I want to be a stenographer. I want to be a stenographer.

was dead in earnest and really meant what she says in her public statement for work. She said that she had been asked how long she had been in the city. She said that she had been in the city for a long time.

CHIVALRY? BAH!
I don't believe so much in the chivalry of men. I don't believe so much in the chivalry of men. I don't believe so much in the chivalry of men. I don't believe so much in the chivalry of men.

CHICAGO, Nov. 30.—The above advertisement was broadcast by the advertiser of the Chicago Tribune. The advertiser was a man who was looking for a stenographer.

Another letter written in German, and bearing the signature of a Bronx architect said:

Dear Miss Mushwick—Allow me to congratulate you on your pluck and nerve. You certainly are a brave woman and you have my admiration for coming all the way from Germany to this country and announcing to the public frankly that you wish to marry a honest man. I studied your photograph for some time, and must say that you ought to feel proud of your beauty. I don't think that you will have much trouble in finding a good husband in this city. There are plenty of American single women around here but they think too much about pictures hats silk gowns and expensive gloves instead of learning how to cook and make a husband happy. I reside in this city and you can depend upon me that you will find in me a true friend. I would be delighted to meet you personally some day and talk matters over with you.

Home Is Flooded With Proposals
NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—Fully three hundred young men of all ages and conditions have been through letter and personal calls during the past few days, saying that they want to marry Miss Mushwick.

LETTER IN GERMAN
Another letter written in German, and bearing the signature of a Bronx architect said:

Dear Miss Mushwick—Allow me to congratulate you on your pluck and nerve. You certainly are a brave woman and you have my admiration for coming all the way from Germany to this country and announcing to the public frankly that you wish to marry a honest man. I studied your photograph for some time, and must say that you ought to feel proud of your beauty. I don't think that you will have much trouble in finding a good husband in this city. There are plenty of American single women around here but they think too much about pictures hats silk gowns and expensive gloves instead of learning how to cook and make a husband happy. I reside in this city and you can depend upon me that you will find in me a true friend. I would be delighted to meet you personally some day and talk matters over with you.

Home Is Flooded With Proposals
NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—Fully three hundred young men of all ages and conditions have been through letter and personal calls during the past few days, saying that they want to marry Miss Mushwick.

LETTER IN GERMAN
Another letter written in German, and bearing the signature of a Bronx architect said:

Dear Miss Mushwick—Allow me to congratulate you on your pluck and nerve. You certainly are a brave woman and you have my admiration for coming all the way from Germany to this country and announcing to the public frankly that you wish to marry a honest man. I studied your photograph for some time, and must say that you ought to feel proud of your beauty. I don't think that you will have much trouble in finding a good husband in this city. There are plenty of American single women around here but they think too much about pictures hats silk gowns and expensive gloves instead of learning how to cook and make a husband happy. I reside in this city and you can depend upon me that you will find in me a true friend. I would be delighted to meet you personally some day and talk matters over with you.

Home Is Flooded With Proposals
NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—Fully three hundred young men of all ages and conditions have been through letter and personal calls during the past few days, saying that they want to marry Miss Mushwick.

LETTER IN GERMAN
Another letter written in German, and bearing the signature of a Bronx architect said:

Dear Miss Mushwick—Allow me to congratulate you on your pluck and nerve. You certainly are a brave woman and you have my admiration for coming all the way from Germany to this country and announcing to the public frankly that you wish to marry a honest man. I studied your photograph for some time, and must say that you ought to feel proud of your beauty. I don't think that you will have much trouble in finding a good husband in this city. There are plenty of American single women around here but they think too much about pictures hats silk gowns and expensive gloves instead of learning how to cook and make a husband happy. I reside in this city and you can depend upon me that you will find in me a true friend. I would be delighted to meet you personally some day and talk matters over with you.

Home Is Flooded With Proposals
NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—Fully three hundred young men of all ages and conditions have been through letter and personal calls during the past few days, saying that they want to marry Miss Mushwick.

LETTER IN GERMAN
Another letter written in German, and bearing the signature of a Bronx architect said:

Dear Miss Mushwick—Allow me to congratulate you on your pluck and nerve. You certainly are a brave woman and you have my admiration for coming all the way from Germany to this country and announcing to the public frankly that you wish to marry a honest man. I studied your photograph for some time, and must say that you ought to feel proud of your beauty. I don't think that you will have much trouble in finding a good husband in this city. There are plenty of American single women around here but they think too much about pictures hats silk gowns and expensive gloves instead of learning how to cook and make a husband happy. I reside in this city and you can depend upon me that you will find in me a true friend. I would be delighted to meet you personally some day and talk matters over with you.

Home Is Flooded With Proposals
NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—Fully three hundred young men of all ages and conditions have been through letter and personal calls during the past few days, saying that they want to marry Miss Mushwick.

LETTER IN GERMAN
Another letter written in German, and bearing the signature of a Bronx architect said:

Dear Miss Mushwick—Allow me to congratulate you on your pluck and nerve. You certainly are a brave woman and you have my admiration for coming all the way from Germany to this country and announcing to the public frankly that you wish to marry a honest man. I studied your photograph for some time, and must say that you ought to feel proud of your beauty. I don't think that you will have much trouble in finding a good husband in this city. There are plenty of American single women around here but they think too much about pictures hats silk gowns and expensive gloves instead of learning how to cook and make a husband happy. I reside in this city and you can depend upon me that you will find in me a true friend. I would be delighted to meet you personally some day and talk matters over with you.

Home Is Flooded With Proposals
NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—Fully three hundred young men of all ages and conditions have been through letter and personal calls during the past few days, saying that they want to marry Miss Mushwick.

LETTER IN GERMAN
Another letter written in German, and bearing the signature of a Bronx architect said:

Dear Miss Mushwick—Allow me to congratulate you on your pluck and nerve. You certainly are a brave woman and you have my admiration for coming all the way from Germany to this country and announcing to the public frankly that you wish to marry a honest man. I studied your photograph for some time, and must say that you ought to feel proud of your beauty. I don't think that you will have much trouble in finding a good husband in this city. There are plenty of American single women around here but they think too much about pictures hats silk gowns and expensive gloves instead of learning how to cook and make a husband happy. I reside in this city and you can depend upon me that you will find in me a true friend. I would be delighted to meet you personally some day and talk matters over with you.

Home Is Flooded With Proposals
NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—Fully three hundred young men of all ages and conditions have been through letter and personal calls during the past few days, saying that they want to marry Miss Mushwick.

LETTER IN GERMAN
Another letter written in German, and bearing the signature of a Bronx architect said:

Dear Miss Mushwick—Allow me to congratulate you on your pluck and nerve. You certainly are a brave woman and you have my admiration for coming all the way from Germany to this country and announcing to the public frankly that you wish to marry a honest man. I studied your photograph for some time, and must say that you ought to feel proud of your beauty. I don't think that you will have much trouble in finding a good husband in this city. There are plenty of American single women around here but they think too much about pictures hats silk gowns and expensive gloves instead of learning how to cook and make a husband happy. I reside in this city and you can depend upon me that you will find in me a true friend. I would be delighted to meet you personally some day and talk matters over with you.

Home Is Flooded With Proposals
NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—Fully three hundred young men of all ages and conditions have been through letter and personal calls during the past few days, saying that they want to marry Miss Mushwick.

LETTER IN GERMAN
Another letter written in German, and bearing the signature of a Bronx architect said:

Dear Miss Mushwick—Allow me to congratulate you on your pluck and nerve. You certainly are a brave woman and you have my admiration for coming all the way from Germany to this country and announcing to the public frankly that you wish to marry a honest man. I studied your photograph for some time, and must say that you ought to feel proud of your beauty. I don't think that you will have much trouble in finding a good husband in this city. There are plenty of American single women around here but they think too much about pictures hats silk gowns and expensive gloves instead of learning how to cook and make a husband happy. I reside in this city and you can depend upon me that you will find in me a true friend. I would be delighted to meet you personally some day and talk matters over with you.

Home Is Flooded With Proposals
NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—Fully three hundred young men of all ages and conditions have been through letter and personal calls during the past few days, saying that they want to marry Miss Mushwick.

LETTER IN GERMAN
Another letter written in German, and bearing the signature of a Bronx architect said:

Dear Miss Mushwick—Allow me to congratulate you on your pluck and nerve. You certainly are a brave woman and you have my admiration for coming all the way from Germany to this country and announcing to the public frankly that you wish to marry a honest man. I studied your photograph for some time, and must say that you ought to feel proud of your beauty. I don't think that you will have much trouble in finding a good husband in this city. There are plenty of American single women around here but they think too much about pictures hats silk gowns and expensive gloves instead of learning how to cook and make a husband happy. I reside in this city and you can depend upon me that you will find in me a true friend. I would be delighted to meet you personally some day and talk matters over with you.

The Title of Princess Marie Bonaparte, Whose Fortune Came From Monte Carlo's Gambling Hell

It Brings Her Only Sorrow

ups of every young hude at first sight of her completed trousseau. She did not even smile that satisfied smile of poses and of some wolly new and wholly entrancing thing. And here were the dainties that the most beautiful of the things every woman loves—a why should she not?

There before her were 200 gowns, 100 hats and 120 pairs of shoes and 50 pairs of gloves and shoes were of every conceivable shade and tint most of them designed to carry out the color scheme of a single costume.

One of these hats was more than a year old. This single piece of headgear alone cost $1000. It is in the latest Parisian disposition of the off-the-face fashion sweeping upward on the left side of the head and adorned with a mass of Bird of Paradise plumes falling over the side of the upturned sweep. Even at Paradise-feathers have taken the place of ostrich plumes among the ultra fashionable, and the ostrich

WOULD RATHER DECORATOR T

SHE

Is 45, But Folk
Forget it Because
Marie Tempest
Is Best Dressed

Actress

Woman Trails Man | Lands Him For Five Years and in Denver

[illegible]

HERO, AGE 9, RESCUES TINY SWEETHEART FROM RIVER

PLUNGES IN AND PULLS LITTLE MISS FROM STREAM WITH GREATEST OF SANG FROIL

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—Jake Schreier and Francis Hoffman aged 11, the best plumbers in the world ever. They have lived a very sad life in an apartment house at 121 East One Hundred and Forty-ninth street and each to the other is his own dear friend.

Jake and Francis didn't seem to give with the rest of the youngsters in their block and went off to take a long walk with Jake's sister Minnie's little girl. Little Pinkie came out for a mile. Little Minnie said that she was so away that she had to go home.

Francis by that time had found what he wanted. He had found a most wonderful place for growing things and for taking some of the things that he had. She said some beautiful things about the place.

MRS. JOHN COPLEY WESTER
SOCIAL CAREER IN NEW YORK AND TO INTERIOR DECORATING AT

Married on an Ambulance; Dies Next Day

A Politician of Stephanie LEXISIS whose record had been underlined by his appointment as a political prisoner in Russia knowing he was dying personally in his

VOLT WHO GAVE UP A BRILLIANT
PARIS TO DEVOTE HER ENERGIES WHICH SHE IS A GENIUS.

TWENTY MILLION DOLLARS

LONDON Now in spite of the anti-Americanism which prevails in America, only five million Americans had been in London in 1939. In 1940 more than 100,000 Americans were in London.

Here the Miss London was born so long ago as 1870, and that it is now twenty three years she made her first hit" in the Little Theatre, London, hereafter she joined up the musical and upper class, and was a phenomenon in her line, and she had a very opera stage in the Little Theatre, London, on her top-notch way, and she sang in that place a song, and then she sang the now has the Little Theatre, London, on the first extra day, and then she sang on the first day of the week, and she sang the Little

♦

Violet Perfume Popular

Much consideration and attention were manifested to the waxes possessed by the fashionable women of former days. Today the number of perfumes at the disposal of wealthy women runs into hunshade. And greater variety is introduced by the custom of blending several kind of essences. According to a fashionable perfume, the most popular of all scents is that extracted from violets.

ARE TO GO WITH MISS GLADYS VANDERBILT AND SAGAN TO THEIR HOME IN HUNGARY

"NEW YORK '400'
LIKE THE JOLIET CONVICT CROWD

WIPE OUT SOCIAL DISTINCTIONS SAYS PROFESSOR

[illegible]

Woman Asks Heirs to Pay Respect to Her Jewel

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 30. — When William MacAlister, a broker, failed to appear at Saginaw for his wedding to Miss Marie Groat, all the city wondered. Now an explanation is out.

A night with the boys in New York before he left for Saginaw was the cause of his losing his bride.

MacAlister stopped in Detroit on his way home. He said that his intentions were good but that he straited late and consequently arrived in Saginaw too late to take his place at the altar. At the home of the prospective bride he was met by the groom and told it was all over. In Saginaw they gave out the statement that each had filed the other.

The wedding was to have been the most elaborate Saginaw had ever seen.

First Kaffir Woman To Be Appointed Nurse

Cecilia Masikane, a Kaffir woman has been appointed nurse at Butterworth Hospital, Cape Colony, after a three years course of training at the Lovedale Native Institute. She is the first colored woman in South Africa to hold such an appointment.

1. I wish to make a request to come to
 2. my native land to live with me in
 3. Riverside, Texas, and dress me in my
 4. white, satin dress and other clothes
 5. which you will find plenty in my house
 6. to get show my body to go out and
 7. make me remain in my own home.
 8. All I ask has me away respectable, as
 9. I have lived. The balance you may divide
 10. between Stella Nelson and her sis-
 11. ter, Clara Nelson. My all is very dear
 12. to me, and I am used to hold so of
 13. my life. I wish you to hold so of
 14. it would rather my lovely jewels be
 15. held by your family. My bracelets are
 16. something I have had for many years

A black and white portrait of a woman with dark, wavy hair, wearing a light-colored, high-collared dress and a necklace. The portrait is framed by an ornate, decorative border with floral motifs and a small label in the top right corner that reads "FRANKLIN DERRICK".

MRS. JOHN COPLEY WESTERVELT WHO GAVE UP A BRILLIANT SOCIAL CAREER IN NEW YORK AND PARIS TO DEVOTE HER ENERGIES TO INTERIOR DECORATING AT WHICH SHE IS A GENIUS.

SHE

Is 45, But Folk
Forget it Because
Marie Tempest
Is Best Dressed

Actress

The notion of being described as the best dressed actress is generally conceded to Miss Marie. To meet, which is her strength at the Comedy Theatre, London, to make Mr. Sutton's new play, The Barber, a record success. Not only will you meet Miss Foustett at the theatre, but in the street or at her apartment, 105, in Portman Square—she always impresses you as being dressed to perfection. Not only in her gowns and lace, but in her personality, too, you will find her different from the crowd of the theatre. It is difficult indeed to believe that Miss Foustett was born so long ago as 1850, and that it is now twenty-three years since she made her first "hit" in the little comedy, Hereafter. If she is tired by the work and up-ward march of the modern opera stage, she is not likely to drop on the top-notch way of the song in that old-fashioned and little-known play, which she now has made her last. So she will not be the extraordinary individual to appear on the final night of the wonderful season. —The Bits.

Violet Perfume Popular

most of the scents possessed by the faithful women of former days. Therefore the number of perfumes at the disposal of wealthy women runs into hundreds. A still greater variety is introduced by the custom of blending several kinds of essences. According to a fashionable perfume the most popular of all scents is that extracted from violets.

Married on an Ambulance; Dies Next Day

A Police man and Stephanie Levis (left) whose head had been under arrest by him. The man is a political prisoner in Russia. Knowing he was dying, personal friends came in to marry him at home. He was in a hospital on his own and finally responded to the usual questions his son, but not of the time he was. After the ceremony the bridegroom was carried back to his bed. He died the following day.

Women as Cab Drivers

Paris has now several women license cabs drivers and they have led the current experience of finding that only men wish to be driven by them. In fact, as up to the present I think some what less.

Golden Weddings

Only one out of 10 is left out of even thousand married couples lives to celebrate their golden wedding.

TWENTY MILLION DOLLARS

[illegible]

ARE TO GO WITH MISS GLADYS
VANDERBILT AND SAGAN TO THEIR HOME IN HUNGARY

ler trait. The Count and Miss Vanderbilt were in the local trap the mob was holding. A quick escape was effected. Humbert was rescued the Count d'Albarrat shifted the reins to his right hand and put his left arm around his fiancée's waist, and obligations of a dozen years' importance were cast aside. A quick kiss. A quick smile. Vanderbilt blushed deeply and evagely, darting out the highly-edified, covered droppery, snatched the reins away and sped into the city.

The Count laughed and out of a pile of furs, caught her in his arms, kissed her and delivered a second salute. It is a pretty story and certainly maintains the reputation of the American journalist.

THINK IT LOVE

This romance of love and riches for Miss d'Albarrat like her brother Cornelius who was practically disinherited by his father for marrying the daughter of a poor man, and always firmly rejected the matrimonial projects held out to her by members of the family—really began in August when she stayed for a few days at the home of the Vanderbilts who were received from the Count with whom the Vanderbilt family has

REVELS ALL NIGHT--- LATE AT THE ALTAR--- DISMISSED BY BRIDE

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 30. — When William MacAlister, a broker, failed to appear at Saginaw for his wedding to Miss Marie Groat, all the city wondered. Now an explanation is out.

A night with the boys in New York before he left for Saginaw was the cause of his losing his bride.

MacAlister stopped in Detroit on his way home. He said that his intentions were good but that he straited late and consequently arrived in Saginaw too late to take his place at the altar. At the home of the prospective bride he was met by the groom and told it was all over. In Saginaw they gave out the statement that each had filed the other.

The wedding was to have been the most elaborate Saginaw had ever seen.

First Kaffir Woman To Be Appointed Nurse

Cecilia Masikane, a Kaffir woman has been appointed nurse at Butterworth Hospital, Cape Colony, after a three years course of training at the Lovedale Native Institute. She is the first colored woman in South Africa to hold such an appointment.

Woman Asks Heirs to Pay Respect to Her Jewel

1. I wish to make a request to come to
 2. my native land to live with me in
 3. Riverside, Texas, and dress me in my
 4. white, satin dress and other clothes
 5. which you will find plenty in my house
 6. to get show my body to go out and
 7. make me remain in my own home.
 8. All I ask has me away respectable, as
 9. I have lived. The balance you may divide
 10. between Stella Nelson and her sis-
 11. ter, Clara Nelson. My all is very dear
 12. to me, and I am used to hold so of
 13. my life. I wish you to hold so of
 14. it would rather my lovely jewels be
 15. held by your family. My bracelets are
 16. something I have had for many years

FLIRTS WITH PAT CAMPBELL

[illegible]

GROOM'S FAMILY
Count Szecseny's grandfather did much to increase his prosperity. Having what his father called family as in soldier equipping at his own expense, an expedition which he conducted along the frontiers of Tibet and China, finally coming in Burma.

future suitors. Miss Vanderhoffance is a tall good looking young woman twenty eight years of age who has spent several years in traveling the fine world and who is evidently not lacking in boldness and daring and is to believe an account of her courtship published in an American paper.

OSCULATORY FEAT

The humorists at Newport say the report that she has been kissing the girl as for her inheritance after her words to the late war minister's speech that happened when many a romantic dress has plighted

MUST GO OR BE

(CHI AG.) Nov. 31.—Chicago husband who use all public stimulants have been pronounced unskillful. The brand was placed on them at a self denial prayer day meeting at Willard hall called by the Cook County Woman's Christian Temperance union to aid the Sunday closing movement.

While the live action was taken at "self denial meeting" the temperance women made it clear that no self den

Miss Vanderbilt, who is now twenty-two years of age while not exactly pretty is exceedingly attractive. Her brightness and vivacity making her a general favorite in society. She has one hobby to which she devotes a great deal of time and attention—namely, singing. Miss Vanderbilt possesses a beautiful voice.

Juan de Hovate. She also by the way takes a keen interest in adding to the costly bra-a-brac which adorn the parlour rooms of the family mansion in Fifth Avenue—a residence which was built on the site of four houses and possesses a small garden on which $10,000 has been lavished.
 The bra-a-brac is so valuable that Mrs. Underhill refuses to let a servant dust it on the ground that clumsy handling would cause more damage than she could afford to make good.
 Instead a young lady with a University education has been engaged at a salary of $100 a year to do all the dusting.

THIRSTY UNKISSED

is a quality in refraining from osculations when the recipient had been inducing in that which taints the breath
 as well as it is understanding.
 Miss Marie C. Brichm voiced the sentiment of those present by declaring that if the saloons were closed and married men patronized barber shops instead of many wives who have not kissed their husbands in years would take a chance to do so.

11 Men Plunge to Death Down Shaft; Workings on Fire; No Hope of Rescue

MISS KERFOOT, SUFFERING FROM SHOCK OF TRAGEDY, TO ARRIVE IN OAKLAND TODAY

Young Woman in the Kleinschmidt Case Is Coming to Testify Before the Grand Jury.

(Special to The Tribune.)

SUTTER CREEK, Nov. 30.—Miss Blanche Kerfoot, who is to appear before the grand jury in connection with the Kleinschmidt case, will leave her home here tomorrow morning for Oakland. Dr. Goodman, who has been in attendance on the girl since her collapse the other day, said tonight that his patient was not as well as he would like to have her, but that, with care, she would be able to make the tedious journey from this place.

Miss Kerfoot will be accompanied by her father and one or more of the other members of the family. The party will leave here at 7 o'clock in the morning by stage and will reach Oakland late Sunday afternoon.

When seen tonight, Mr. Kerfoot, Blanche's father, said that, ac-

(Continued on Page Ten.)

Kleinschmidt's Parents Reach Home

The broken-hearted parents of Harry Kleinschmidt, prisoner on a charge of murder, reached their beautiful home in the Fremont district in Berkeley at noon yesterday. A Kleinschmidt, the father of the accused student, will at once enter his consultation with the boy's attorneys and will place his time and wealth at the disposal of his son in an endeavor to free him.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Kleinschmidt are indignant over the arrest of their son, declaring it persecution. They were notified of Harry's alleged crime by letters written to them by their daughter, the Misses Bertha and Ellen Kleinschmidt, who are doing all in their power to help bear the burden of their aged parents, who have been away from home for the past year. Mr. and Mrs. Kleinschmidt declare that their children have been shamefully slandered, persecuted and unnecessarily wronged by the allegation that Harry Kleinschmidt killed Frank Bellows with poison because he stole the affections of Blanche Kerfoot. They say that the entire accusation from beginning to end is false.

Mother Defends Blanche Kerfoot

"We know in the sight of Heaven that Blanche is not guilty of any wrong. She has told the truth, the same story from the first night and always. To her it seemed a deathly confession, as she had no idea she would recover." In these words the mother of Blanche Kerfoot, defends her daughter, the 19-year-old Sutter Creek girl so intimately concerned in the death of Frank Bellows, for which Harry Kleinschmidt is under arrest. They form part of a long and pitiful letter received by Mrs. D. Clarke Kerfoot yesterday.

FEAR FOR MIND.

Mrs. Kerfoot is said to be suffering great mental torture and her friends fear her mind may not stand the strain. In this letter Mrs. Kerfoot, for the first time breaks the silence she and every other member of her family has main-

(Continued on Page 10.)

AGITATING INTERMARRIAGE OF JAPANESE AND AMERICAN PEOPLE

Four Decorated With Order of Rising Sun

(Special to The Tribune.) SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 30.—To give expression to the desire for an entire cordiality between Japan and the Pacific Coast, the Imperial Majesty, Mutsu, has decorated President David Starr Jordan of Stanford University, Dr. Ernest Adolphus Surge, Dr. Herbert B. Johnson and David Bush with the order of the Rising Sun.

WANTS MATE TO BE AN ADMIRAL

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 30.—To be offered the billet of admiral of a navy while serving in the humble capacity of mate of a coasting steamer is the luck of W. E. Moore of the Pacific Mail Company's steamer liner, which came into port today from the southern coast. The officer came to Moore direct from President Figueroa of Salvador. President Figueroa wants Moore to assume entire charge of the republic's navy, with as much authority as Fighting Bob Evans will have over his battleship fleet. As compensation, though, Moore was to bandy the pay of a battleship admiral about like the wage of a

(Continued on Page 10.)

Double of Murdered Woman Creates Sensation at Inquest

MISS WELLS OF ELMHURST, WHO APPEARED AS A BEAUTIFUL EXHIBIT BEFORE THE CORONER'S JURY AT ELMHURST, WHICH CHARGED M. A. WILKINS WITH THE MURDER OF MRS. WALAS.

Pretty Girl of Elmhurst Appears as a Fair Exhibit for the Prosecution in Case Against Mark A. Wilkins.

As a result of the inquest at Elmhurst yesterday morning the authorities have been furnished with additional evidence against M. A. Wilkins, and declare that they will present a complete case at the grand jury meeting tomorrow, showing how he murdered Mrs. Verna Walas. The desire of the prosecution to secure an absolute description of Mrs. Walas, so that they might be able to learn more of her, was gratified yesterday morning in a peculiar manner during the inquest. Mrs. M. E. Burke, who probably was better acquainted with the murdered woman than any other person, was astounded on entering the jury room to find a young woman sitting near the door, who, she declared, bore a perfect resemblance to Mrs. Walas.

"Look," she exclaimed to her daughter, Mrs. G. B. Bejace, as they entered, "that girl looks just like her." The girl is a Miss Wells, residing at Elmhurst. During the course of the testimony, Mrs. Burke was

(Continued on Page 10.)

STUYVESANT FISH CHARGED WITH LOOTING TREASURY OF I. C. R. R.

DIRECTORS ISSUE THE STATEMENT

Astounding Allegations Furnish Climax to Quarrel.

CHICAGO, Nov. 30.—In the most sensational statement ever given by the management of a big railroad property, the board of directors of the Illinois Central charges Stuyvesant Fish, one of their number and former president of the road, with systematically looting the treasury of the Illinois Central while acting as president and bringing the road to a crisis from which it was only saved by Fish putting up his magnificent New York home as security.

MAIL STATEMENT.

The statement, which purports to give for the first time the "real reasons" why the Fish was removed from the presidency of the Illinois Central, was mailed last night to every stockholder. It was signed by J. T. Harahan, Charles A. Peabody, Robert Goetz, John Auchincloss, Cornelius Vanderbilt, J. J. Astor, E. H. Harriman and H. B. Harkness.

The charges made against Mr. Fish are astounding, and they furnish a sensational climax to the long quarrel between the two factions in the management of the Illinois Central—a quarrel in which Fish has recently posed as the aggressor, and in which he even has resorted to a crisis from which it was only saved by Fish putting up his magnificent New York home as security.

CHANGED COLLATERAL. The collateral which Fish had deposited

FREMONT MINE, OWNED BY OAKLANDERS, SCENE OF AN AWFUL ACCIDENT

Miners Maimed or Killed by Fall of 500 Feet, Surrounded by Flames and Smoke.

(Special to The Tribune.)

DRYTOWN, Cal., Nov. 30.—With a wall of fire between them and freedom, eleven miners are entombed in the shaft of the Fremont mine at this place, largely owned by Senator Perkins and the Goodall family of Oakland, and all hope of their rescue has been abandoned.

Of a party of thirteen men who were lowered into the Fremont mine shortly after the noon hour today, two miners, both Italians, fought their way through the blinding smoke and the blistering flames to safety. Their companions have not been heard from. One hundred miners have toiled heroically all through the day in an effort to save their entombed comrades. In the shaft where the fire rages they have been driven back by the scorching flames. In the side drifts they have been met by the blinding, suffocating smoke. And now they must wait until the fire subsides in the faint hope that they may find the eleven workmen safe from the smoke and the fire in some sheltering drift.

The entombed party includes five Italians, two Slavonians and four Americans. The Americans are James Drewes, James Cronin, D. O'Brien and J. Wilson of Plymouth.

It was shortly before 1 o'clock today when thirteen men, the first shift, were lowered unsuspectingly into a living furnace that raged below them. The engineer in charge of the skip was igno-

(Continued on Page Ten.)

GIRL'S FALL BREAKS GAS JET AND SHE IS ASPHYXIATED

Young Woman Meets a Strange Death by Missing Footing on Staircase.

BERKELEY, Nov. 30.—Breaking a gas jet in a fall which rendered her unconscious brought death by asphyxiation to Miss Leah Sue Young of 2207 Oregon street. The case is one of the strangest that has come under the coroner's notice. The body was found by Minnie Young, sister of the dead girl. The odor of escaping gas attracted the attention of the family to the upper portion of the house. When found the body had a natural appearance, the eyes being closed as though in sleep. The girl had then been dead for some little time. MYSTERY IN DEATH. Considerable mystery as to the exact manner of the young lady's death surrounds the case, yet there is little thought of suicide on the part of the family. The deceased was the daughter of Carl Young. She was a native of Wisconsin, aged 30 years. All that can be learned of the tragedy is that the dead girl had been alone in the room for some little time, when the strong odor of escaping gas attracted the attention of her sister to the hallway. Upon climbing the stairway she was horrified to find her sister lying dead on the floor. Dr. Frank Simpson was summoned, and upon learning that the young lady was dead, he notified the coroner, who took charge of the remains. An inquest will be held.

MRS. BRADLEY FAINTS AS LAWYER DEMANDS HER LIFE

Prosecutor Is Also Overcome in Pleading That the Woman Being Tried for Murder Go to Scaffold.

BY VIOLA RODGERS. (Special to The Tribune.) WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—Pleading that Mrs. Annie Bradley, be sent to the scaffold for the murder of former Senator Arthur Brown, Assistant District Attorney Charles H. Turner was so overcome by emotion today that he collapsed. A recess of five minutes had to be taken while he recovered his composure.

Mrs. Bradley also gave way under the strain and had to be supported in her chair by Judge Powers, her senior counsel, and throughout the crowded trial chamber there was scarcely a spectator who was not visibly affected by the scene.

No more dramatic episode has ever been witnessed in a court of justice. Judge, jurors and counsel on both sides felt the strain of the affair, and it was with genuine relief that at 12:30 o'clock recess was welcomed after Monday morning.

When she reached the cell room after court adjourned, Mrs. Bradley was in such an exhausted condition that

(Continued on Page 10.)

Taft Arrives in Old City of Moscow

MOSCOW, Nov. 30.—Secretary of War Taft and his party arrived here this afternoon and will remain in the city until Monday.

THE TRIBUNE'S Paid Circulation Yesterday Was 42,383

REV. B. F. MILLS WILL LECTURE

Prominent Minister to Deliver Course at Golden Gate Hall,
San Francisco.

Many will be interested to know that Benjamin F. Mills, the well-known preacher and lecturer, is to visit San Francisco, Sunday, December 8, and during the ensuing days of that week he will deliver a course of addresses in the new Golden Gate Hall, 237 Sutter street. From that city Mills went to Los Angeles, where he has organized a creedless church called the Los Angeles Fellowship. He has just delivered two courses of lectures in Portland, Oregon, and Tacoma, Washington, and is at present in Seattle.

Mills will speak three times on Sunday, December 8, in the morning on "His Own People," in the afternoon on "The Progress of the World," and in the evening on "What the World May Know of the Future." The course of lectures will be free at all of these services.

During the ensuing week Mills will give addresses in the same place on "Interpretations of Emerson," and in the evening on "The Progress of the World." The course of lectures will be free at all of these services.

DUCHESS OF MARLBOROUGH SAILS ON THE MAURETANIA

Anxious to See Her Children for the Period Allotted to Her by the English Courts.

(Special to The Tribune.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—The Duchess of Marlborough, after an extended visit to the Mauretania, after an extended visit to New York with her mother, Mrs. O. H. Belmont, Mrs. Belmont and Mr. Belmont went to the Cunard line pier to see her off. No member of the Vanderbilt family was present, but some of the Duchess's old friends in society called upon her just before she sailed.

The Duchess wore a long fur coat and a turban trimmed with fur. She occupied suite D87 on the promenade deck, and is unattended, save by one maid. She said she had had a most enjoyable time during her visit to her old home. A reporter asked her what object she had in her trip of investigation to the Tomb and Ellis Island.

"I am deeply interested in settlement work in London and in England generally," she replied.

"Of course, my interests extend to the general condition of the poor and unfortunate. While here I determined to look into matters in which I felt an interest and for that reason made the investigation you speak of. I find that New York is surprisingly better than London with respect to the position and care of the unfortunate."

"It has been reported that you would return to New York to attend the wedding of Miss Clara Vanderbilt and Count Saxonberg," said the reporter.

"That is not true," she answered with a laugh. "I do not even know when the wedding will be."

The Duchess explained that she was hurrying back to England to visit her children. The English courts, when she was separated from the Duke, her husband, stipulated that she should have the children part of the time and the Duke the remainder of the time. The Duchess explained that the children would soon be with her again and she was anxious to go to England for that reason.

WORKING GIRLS FORM CLUB

Seventy-five of the Unemployed
Organize and Establish Home and Agency.

Unemployed girls of the city to the number of about seventy-five have banded together and founded a Working Women's Protective Association, with headquarters at 523 Ninth street. The object of the new club is to provide those who have no male support and who are out of work means of finding employment and a place to spend the hours of day and evening. For this end, besides an information bureau, an employment agency has been established.

Miss A. Brastle is the founder and the guiding spirit of the working girls' exchange. For many years she has interested herself and has tried to interest others in the work of advancing the lot of poor girls who are forced to toil.

DAMAGING TO CALEB POWERS

Judge is Witness and Alleges Threats of Mountain Men at Meeting.

GEORGETOWN, Ky., Nov. 30.—The Commonwealth in the Caleb Powers murder trial today introduced a number of witnesses to prove that a conspiracy had been formed among the Republicans to assassinate Governor Geisel, and that Caleb Powers was one of the moving spirits in the alleged conspiracy. Among the witnesses were Captain Thompson, State-house policeman; Judge D. D. Field of Whitesburg; Mrs. Fannie Hilder and Col. Bennett H. Young.

The most damaging testimony against the accused was given by Judge Field, who testified that on his way to Frankfort on business, he fell in with a detachment of the mountain men in charge of Wharton Golden. Golden asked him "if I could find any men in Letcher county who would kill Governor Powers."

Caleb Powers, on Trial for His Life

NAVY DEFEATS WEST POINTERS

Football Contest is Bitter, Ferocious and Constant While Game Lasts.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 30.—Before the most spectacular crowd that ever gathered on a football field, those two ancient foes, the Army and the Navy, met on Franklin field this afternoon and in a grueling contest lasting two hours the Navy won by a score of 6 to 0.

It was not a "battle of roses." It was a throat-grappling, greed-like contest in which every moment of play was marked by desperate action. The fight was bitter, ferocious, and constant, except for the occasional when some gaunt hero of the game was laid on, dazed or senseless. It was not an occasion for the proletariat. It was by invitation that admittance could be gained.

ONLY ONE TEAM.

There was only one team in it today and that was the Navy. The Army started off with an excellent kick-off, which went well behind the navy line. But from that time on every play in the Army proved weak, their ends were boxed and the Navy on take kicks repeatedly circled the Army ends.

FANS FEUD BY FLEET ORDER

Factions in British Navy Grow Bitter Over Beresford's Rebukes of Scott.

(Special Cable to The Tribune.)
LONDON, Nov. 30.—Behind the story of Lord Charles Beresford's rebuke of Admiral Sir Percy Scott, who is a little and whose name has been a slip of service clubs for months past.

It is an open secret that Sir Percy Scott has not been very modest since his success in the South African war with his wife and children. For the past year the navy has been divided into two camps, and the larger one, which admires Lord Charles, has been rebuked by the smaller one, which backs up Sir Percy Scott.

The leaders of these two camps dislike each other cordially and more particularly for the reason that Sir John Fisher, the King's great friend, who is first lord of the Admiralty, is known to be the friend of Lord Charles Beresford's prominence, popularity and so favor Sir Percy Scott.

Moreover, it is an open fact that the women have begun to make matters more difficult and Lady Charles Beresford, who is the most "talkative" woman in town, did not hesitate to lead attacks on the Scott contingent.

PRIEST BURNS WITH ACADEMY

Fire Wipes Out Convent, Monastery, Church and School—
Firemen Missing.

COVINGTON, La., Nov. 30.—The Rev. Joseph Buck was burned to death, a fireman is believed to have been killed, and more than $100,000 worth of property was destroyed in a fire near here today which destroyed the Catholic convent, monastery and school. The fire broke out in a building near Covington. The Rev. Father Buck, who was attached to the academy, was cut off from escape by the flames in the academy building and perished.

BIG INSURANCE FIRMS TO QUIT

Many Companies to Leave State Without Asking for License.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 30.—The news that Insurance Commissioner Myron Wolf, upon the advice of Attorney-General Webb, has declined to license the Commercial Union, Palatine and Williamsburg City fire insurance companies has created a stir in insurance circles.

The Commercial Union, Palatine and Williamsburg City are the only three companies among those that have taken the suits against them into the Federal courts to apply for licenses to do business in California so far. It is not likely the others will apply now that the Insurance Commissioner has declared himself. But there are many such companies.

AUTO WRECKED BY STREET CAR

Miss Mary Main of Almaden Road Badly Injured and Brother Slightly.

SAN JOSE, Nov. 30.—An automobile occupied by Howard and Mary Main of the Almaden road, was run into by a San Fernando street car about noon today and both occupants thrown out with terrific force. Howard Main was badly injured, but his sister, Mary, was badly, although not fatally, hurt, and the automobile was wrecked.

WERE VICTIMS OF POISONING

Strychnine is Found in Two Men
Who Died at Carmel Villa
Near Del Mar.

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 30.—The inquest today on the remains of Peter MacManus and Thomas Kelley, who on November 8 met death in a peculiar manner at Carmel Villa, near Del Mar, brought out sensational testimony. The report of the pathologist, who examined the stomachs of the men, stated that both came to their deaths from strychnine poisoning.

COIN SECURED FOR PAYROLLS

Almost $1,000.00 Drawn by Business Houses, Half of Which Was Coin.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 30.—To meet weekly and monthly payroll the city's banks today paid out more than $1,000.00 to business firms and corporations. About half of the total amount was paid in gold and silver.

The officials of the suspended California Safe Deposit and Trust Company have failed to sign an agreement not to withdraw their deposits except at stated periods, namely, five per cent in ten days after resumption of business, five per cent in thirty days, fifteen per cent in sixty days, twenty per cent in ninety days, and twenty per cent in twelve months.

CONVICT COLLINS PINS FAITH ON TECHNICALITY

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 30.—Unless the United States Supreme Court grants George D. Collins his freedom on the ground that he was extradited on one charge and tried on another, he must begin serving his fourteen-year sentence next year.

The Supreme Court of this State has just denied Collins' petition for a rehearing on his appeal and his case is closed but for a pending writ of error before the highest tribunal of the country.

Upon this writ, granted on Collins' contention that he was extradited on one charge and tried on another, the purpose of giving a technicality to argue it on Friday 7th next.

Assistant District Attorney William Hotel, who will go to Washington to move a dismissal of the writ, believes Collins will find it impossible to obtain an order from the highest appellate court annulling him to bail, so that he can go to Washington.

STREET CAR JUMPS A FOUR FOOT DITCH

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 30.—A broken rail on the Howard street line at Fremont street this afternoon caused a fast-moving eastbound car to jump the track and hurdle a four-foot ditch.

Several men employed by the Home Telephone Company, working in the ditch, narrowly escaped and half a dozen passengers in the car got the scare of their lives.

Mr. W. E. Heller did not see the broken rail until within a few yards of it. He clamped on the brakes, but the headway of the car was so great that it did not come to a halt until it had reached the curb.

STRANGE MIRAGE SEEN ON SOUTHERN COAST

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 30.—An extraordinary mirage confounded the crew and passengers of the steamer Peru, arriving today from the southern coast. It was quite the ship was steaming along the southern California coast last Friday that the phenomenon occurred. At that time the Peru was at least five miles off shore, and the mountains of the Coast range were plainly visible.

With startling suddenness, so the passengers said, the vessel appeared to be passing through a strait, for upon the seaward side a reproduction of the coast panorama was plainly seen by Captain Mackinnon and everybody on board.

OPPORTUNITY

Don't Overlook

the elaborate display of Winter Novelties exhibited here. The most correct conceptions of Dame Fashion give our store the air of Paris fashion salons. Every correct idea, every high-class fabric is represented here.

Suits, Waists Coats, Furs, Gowns Cloaks, Millinery

Convenient Payments

The secret of our tremendous business is more appreciated now than ever. All the goods you want, and all the time you want.

See superb display of Novelties in 13th and Clay Windows

Perfect Fit Assured

Eastern Outfitting Co.

WEDS DIVORCEE; LOSES FORTUNE

Son of Pittsburg Millionaire in Debt Because of Codicil in Father's Will.

(Special to The Tribune.)
PITTSBURGH, Nov. 30.—The filing of an involuntary petition for bankruptcy against Charles Donnelly, Jr., of Pittsburg and New York, partner of Harry R. Thaw, brought to light a sensational story of Pittsburg life among the wealthy.

Donnelly, who is the elder son of the late Charles Donnelly of Pittsburg, who died about a year ago, worth probably $1,000,000, was thought to have been wealthy through inheritance and his wife's dressmaker, joined with his Pittsburg butcher and a tradesman's clerk, entered the United States District Court, asking that he be declared a bankrupt.

The dressmaker's bill is $350, the meat bill $125, and the butcher's bill $100. It is necessary that three creditors, at least, present claims before a petition in involuntary bankruptcy can be filed.

When the bankruptcy proceedings were begun it was soon found that Charles Donnelly, the old real estate and railroad king of Pittsburg, had cut his son out of his will with the following codicil attached under date of June 2, 1902:

WED DIVORCEE

"If at the end of five years it shall appear that Charles Donnelly, Jr., has not lived an honest, sober and industrious life, he shall have no share in my estate, and I shall have no share in his estate. I shall have no share in his estate, and I shall have no share in his estate."

Donnelly, who is the elder son of the late Charles Donnelly of Pittsburg, who died about a year ago, worth probably $1,000,000, was thought to have been wealthy through inheritance and his wife's dressmaker, joined with his Pittsburg butcher and a tradesman's clerk, entered the United States District Court, asking that he be declared a bankrupt.

NATIONS IN DEADLOCK AT SUGAR CONVENTION

BRUSSELS, Nov. 30.—Russia's condition of adherence to the sugar convention is that the English market remain open for her exportation. This Germany opposes, but the opinion prevails that the difference will be adjusted.

BELGIUM PRINCESS LEAVES HER HUSBY

BRUSSELS, Nov. 30.—Princess Elizabeth has left her husband, Prince Albert of Belgium, heir to the throne, and will return to Belgium. She is said to be with her parents in Munich. Prince Albert, who is a nephew of King Leopold, was married to Princess Elizabeth of Bavaria in 1900. They have three children.

PLACER HIGH SCHOOL WINS CHAMPIONSHIP

AUBURN, Nov. 30.—At Chico today Placer High School basketball team defeated Chico High by score of 19 to 14, giving the Northern California High School championship to Placer.

SPLENDID PROGRAM FOR DEDICATION OF HOME FOR INCURABLE IS ARRANGED

NURSES AND PATIENTS OF THE KING'S DAUGHTERS' HOME.

Prominent Ministers of Oakland Are to Take Part in Ceremonies

The King's Daughters' Home, located at 1000 Broadway, this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The institution found it was impossible to build the structure they had planned and have elected to fill the present needs a smaller building. They hope, however, to build a larger and finer building in the future.

The officers and directors are: Mrs. Matilda Brown, president; Mrs. C. C. Clay, first vice president; Mrs. A. H. Corson, second vice president; Mrs. E. L. Corson, recording secretary; Mrs. Adam O'Halloran, financial secretary; Mrs. E. J. Brown, M. E. Morgan, Mrs. E. J. Jensen, the advisory committee is composed of: James A. Johnson, John H. Stevens, Charles E. Cornell, Dr. John Fearn, Dr. A. S. H. PROGRAM

A program of unusual interest will be given this afternoon and many prominent men will speak. The program is as follows: Chairman, Rev. E. Baker, D. D., pastor First Presbyterian church, Oakland; hymn, O Worship the King; invocation, Rev. G. W. White, D. D., pastor First M. E. Church, Oakland; Scripture reading, Rev. Clinton Macco, pastor Trinity Episcopal Church, Oakland; recitation, Mrs. G. H. Thanks into the Lord (Elvey); address, Rev. J. K. M. Lean, D. D., solo invocation, (Marlan) barytone address, Rev. H. J. Vossburgh, pastor First Baptist Church, Oakland; hymn, All Hail the Power of Jesus Name; quartette, Lord, Whom We Look Up to; Blinn, (Chadwick) address, Rev. E. R. Dille, D. D., pastor Central M. E. Church, San Francisco; dedicatory prayer, Rev. C. H. Hobart, D. D., hymn, Praise God From Whom All Blessings Flow; benediction, Rev. O. H. Gruver, pastor English Evangelical Lutheran Church, Oakland; Mrs. Z. R. Jenkins, soprano; Miss Ruth Waterman, contralto; F. I. Vasco, tenor; C. P. Rowlands, barytone; Miss Waterman, accompanist.

PIONEER DAUGHTERS PLAN CELEBRATION

The Society of Daughters of California Pioneers will celebrate their seventh anniversary December 7th by a breakfast in the newly completed Pioneer Hall, 5 Pioneer place. Covers will be laid for about fifty. No formal speeches will be given. The committee of arrangements consists of the officers and board of directors of the society as follows: President, Miss Julia Neppert; vice president, Miss Clara Adams; secretary, Mrs. Romie Hutchison; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Lucy Grant; financial secretary, Miss Eloise Nolan; treasurer, Mrs. Mary McWilliams; Palmer, historian; Mary Fairchild, Jonathan, Directors: Mrs. Kate Roy, Mrs. D. A. Leigh, Mrs. Eva Limbaugh, Miss Ophelia Levy.

STRIKE AMONG MINERS DECREASES ORE OUTPUT

The report of the weekly output of ore in Goldfield as received by Zedig & Co. stock brokers in San Francisco yesterday shows that the value of ore shipped to the smelters is nearly one half less than that produced last week. This is due to the strike of the miners who walked out Wednesday because the mine owners refused to pay them all their wages in cash but wished to make part payment in scrip. The shipments follow:

	Estimated Value
Smelters 1598 tons	$159,900
W. O. P. Co. 1314 tons	164,260
N. G. Reduction Co. 143 tons	8,880
Combination Mill 426 tons	18,000
Kinkadee Mill 80 tons	3,600
Total, 3557 tons	$254,240

BIG GATHERING OF FRUITMEN

Thirty-third Annual Convention to Meet at Marysville Next Tuesday.

(Special to The Tribune)
MARYSVILLE, Nov. 30.—A strong appeal is being made to the Sacramento Development Association for a large attendance at the thirty-third annual fruit growers convention to be held in Marysville December 3, 4, 5 and 6 under the auspices of the State Horticultural Commission.

It is the first time in years that a convention of the fruit growers has been set for the Sacramento valley, and on this account the association feels that a large gathering of fruit growers and others interested in the great fruit industry of the State and the Sacramento valley should attend.

An extensive program has been arranged by the State Horticultural Commission. On the opening day next Tuesday Governor Gillett will be among the speakers. Others to speak will be Professor Clarke of the University of California and J. W. Jeffray, State Commissioner of Horticulture. On Tuesday evening a reception and entertainment will be held by the Women's Civic Improvement Club of Marysville and the Women's Improvement Club of Yuba City.

On Wednesday the second day the program will be marked by addresses by President David Starr Jordan of Stanford University and Alden Anderson of Sacramento. Prominent men identified with the fruit industry of the State will deliver addresses at each day's session of the convention and it is the opinion of the Horticultural Commissioner and Governor Gillett that the meeting will be one of the best ever held in this State.

BRITISH CRUISER HAS YELLOW FEVER ABOARD

ST. THOMAS (D. W. L. Nov. 30).—The British cruiser indefatigable on board of which an outbreak of yellow fever recently occurred resulting in the death of two members of her crew, left Barbadoes yesterday for Halifax, N. S.

Five new cases had occurred on board the cruiser before she left Barbadoes.

BRIDGETOWN (Island of Barbadoes, R. W. I.) Nov. 30.—Mrs. Alleyne, wife of Dr. Alleyne, resident surgeon-general of the hospital here died today of yellow fever.

She was taken sick November 18th. Mrs. Alleyne was an American. Her maiden name was Maria Doherty.

RESTRICTIONS MONOPOLISTIC

Supreme Court Decides Liquor Traffic Cannot Be Cornered by Realty Deeds.

(Special to The Tribune)
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 30.—The judiciary of this State do not countenance any restrictions on the sale of real estate which tend to give one man in a community the monopoly of the liquor traffic. This was the gist of a decision rendered by the Supreme Court in sustaining the judgment of the Superior Court of Marin county in a suit brought several years ago by William Burdell against J. Grandi and J. Codoni to recover possession of a lot in the town of Point Reyes Station.

Burdell originally owned a large portion of the property in Point Reyes Station. He only sold lots on the stipulation that no liquor should be sold on the premises. If liquor were sold the property was to revert to himself or his heirs.

According to the evidence the lot in dispute was sold many years since and the original purchaser lived up to the contract. It finally was owned by S. Grandi and J. Codoni, still subject of course to the original restriction. These men engaged in the saloon business and Burdell brought suit to recover the property. In the lower court it developed that Burdell was himself a dealer in liquor and that the proviso inserted in his deeds was not for the purpose of confining the liquor traffic to certain locations in the town, nor to prevent the sale of liquor in the community, but was devised solely to maintain him in a practical monopoly in the business. The Supreme Court in its decision takes the same view of the matter.

PLAN ANNUAL BAZAAR IN HAYWARD CHURCH

HAYWARD, Nov. 30.—The women of the Congregational Church of Hayward will give their annual bazaar next Thursday afternoon and evening, December 5. The following will serve at the various booths: Candy, Mrs. George Grinnell; Mrs. Robertson; fancy articles, Mrs. James Gray; Miss L. Kunkel; Mrs. Corwin; Mrs. A. E. Tischer; fish pond, Mrs. Vailor; Mrs. Littlejohn; Mrs. A. J. Graham; Miss Walcott; useful articles, Mrs. Newbold; Mrs. H. Kernard; Mrs. I. Lincoln; Mrs. Arthur Allen; Mrs. P. Hoyt; Mrs. Hamer; delicatessen, Mrs. Thurman; Mrs. J. Burne; Mrs. George Oshenille; ice cream, Mrs. J. B. Henderson; Mrs. P. Wilbert; Mrs. H. Klee; tea and coffee, Mrs. Rurd; Mrs. Hayward; and Miss Sadie Miner.

MAY DOOM SEAL HERDS

Large Force of Men Preparing Center Street for Asphalt Pavement.

(Special to The Tribune)
VICTORIA, Nov. 30.—Owing to the favorable conditions under which Japanese sealers may now operate in Bering sea the proposed treaty between Great Britain, the United States, Russia and Japan for the settlement of the pelagic sealing question is being blocked by the refusal of Japan to enter the agreement. Japan is at present not a party to the much-lamented resulting from the Paris tribunal which had the effect of driving the American sealers out of business and placing the Canadian vessels under stringent regulations.

FAVOR JAPANESE
Japanese sealers are still in a position to hunt seals at will with regard only to the international law, by which they are prevented from going within three miles of the rookeries. The Canadian sealers are restricted to certain seasons in the use of snarls and are prevented from going within sixty miles of the seal. This season three times as many Japanese as Canadian sealers were in Bering sea and while the Japanese catch is the largest on record the local is the smallest.

KILL ALL HERDS
The United States government is becoming impatient of the delay of continuing a situation which contravenes its interests to involve it and Japan in trouble and which necessitates a patrol of sealers to keep the law. It is stated on good authority that the scheme for the extermination of the seal herds proposed some time ago and abandoned is being considered again as a means of settling the question should it be found impossible to arrange the proposed treaty.

DEVOTIONAL EXERCISES AT CHRISTIAN CHURCH

The Rev. Dr. Thomas Porter of Alameda has been selected as the speaker for the evening of devotional and musical exercises to be held at the First Christian Church this evening under the auspices of the women of the missionary society. Dr. Porter is the father of Dr. William Porter of this city. He is a pioneer clergyman of California, having been pastor of the Christian Church in Oakland in 1888.

Mrs. R. W. Scholtes has charge of the devotional service. Mrs. J. H. K. Bell, president of the Ladies Auxiliary, will deliver a short address. Among the musical selections of the evening program will be a vocal solo by Mrs. R. W. Scholtes and a duet by the Misses Thelma and Stella Johnson. The Rev. Thomas A. Beyer will give the benediction.

A score of pretty girls have been chosen to act as ushers for the service. Among them are Miss Clara Blodgett, Miss Alice Penner, Miss Bertha Macoun, Miss A. Olive McDowell and Miss Ella Burbeck.

GROCCERS MEET TAKE ACTION

To the Public.—The present stringent condition in the money market has made it necessary to adopt more uniform regulations in regard to the extension of credit to the consuming public.

At a meeting of the Retail Grocers and Merchants Association of Alameda County it was unanimously adopted that all accounts just be settled in full on or before the 1st of the preceding month and that accounts already overdue be settled at once as far as possible.

A Dangerous Deadlock
That a metamorphosis is taking place in the stomach, liver and bowel functions is quickly and this condition without disagreeable emotions. Dr. King's New Life Pills should always be used. These pills need absolutely satisfaction in every case or money back at Osgood Bros. drug stores, Seventh and Broadway, and Twelfth and Washington streets.

LETTERS TO SANTA CLAUS

Seven Cash Prizes to be Awarded for Best Letters

THE OAKLAND TRIBUNE offers seven cash prizes to those who make the best letters by cutting words and sentences from advertisements in THE TRIBUNE and arranging them in logical order.

Read the advertisement on another page for the list of prizes and rules of the Santa Claus Letter Contest.

Below is reproduced one of the letters sent to the Santa Claus Editor. It is one of the best letters received. Can you do as well?

OAKLAND, CALIFORNIA, SUNDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 24, 1907

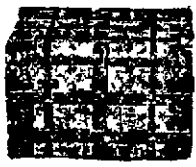

DEAR SANTA CLAUS I WANT a DOLL and a

Her to sit in a from the COLUMBIA PHONOGRAPH CO. 10 pound

key, with all good things and go with me for the Thanksgiving, my Sister wants a fur

A Blue Suit like this has on and a Gold WATCH and a Hat and a Gold

With A

HARRY Rees WANTS a

CHRISTMAS PRESENT

Heeseman's

MARGUERITE W. MADISON, ST.

Oakland, CAL.

FURNISH THE HOME FOR THE HOLIDAYS

—and do it at saving prices. Begin now to have everything in first-class shape for Christmas. It need not take much money. One of our business principles is contained in this "CREDIT, more than you expect."

Read these facts about our special for next week and remember that we guarantee the truth of every word of our advertisement.

SPECIAL SALE OF DINNING ROOM TABLES

Round pedestal table, golden finish, extends to 6 feet; regular $10.00—Special	$6.00
Square golden oak table, finely finished, 6 foot extension; regular $9.50—Special	$6.50
Same style, regular $15.00—Special	$10.50
Quarter-sawn solid oak, Early English finish, very massive pedestal, round 54 inch top, carved claw feet, regular $70.00—Special	$55.00

See all these special tables in our windows Monday morning—note their values.

RUG AND CARPET SPECIALS

For this sale we have taken a fine collection of Axminster Rugs, size 9x12 feet, regular $30.00 value—Special	$24.75
8x10 Axminster Rugs, splendid lot of patterns, regular $27.50—Special	$22.50

TAPESTRY CARPETS

A number of good patterns in our regular $1.00 and $1.10 Tapestry Carpets, two-tone and Oriental effect, sewed, lined and laid—Special 75c yd.

THE LEADING COOK STOVE

THE "SPLENDID IRVING"

Good to look at, better when you realize how perfectly it bakes—best when you learn how much labor it saves, how little fuel it burns and how little it costs.

Has high shelf and two nicked tea shelves, water-back put in and connected with boiler.

Sold by us for $50.00 down and $1.00 a week.

$38.25
SPECIAL

FREE With every stove purchase we give a large steel Roaster, worth $2.50

ROPE PORTIERES

ALL REDUCED

For next week we have reduced the price on our entire new stock of handsome Rope Portieres 25%

The specials mentioned in this advertisement will be on sale all next week—if they last.

Bank Certificates are as good as gold here—so is your credit.

BUSEY & REED

The new furniture store where your credit is good 410-412 San Pablo Ave., Oakland

POLITICAL STRAWS OF NATION AND STATE

President Roosevelt is free to adopt the view of the United States Supreme Court that Justice Brewer's opinion is a minority one.

Mr Bryan thinks the President should be ineligible for re-election and the term should remain at four years. Having only the most remote personal interest in the matter, Mr. Bryan's opinion can not be called prejudiced.—New York World.

The Old Skipper

TELLS HOW HE SAVED HIS SHIP UNDER DIFFICULTIES

BY JACK WISHAAR.

JACK WISHAAR

"Gratitude," said the Old Skipper, "is something that don't exist in human nature. No, sir, it don't. The more you do for a person the less they like you. Strange, ain't it? But it's a fact. I've seen it demonstrated many times. But it was never brought home to me more forcibly than at the time I was in command of the old bark Ettie H. She was a fine vessel, and we had made a fast run from Liverpool to the South Pacific. We were bound for Melbourne with a valuable general cargo. There had been scarcely a gale to amount to anything all the way around the stormy old Cape Horn, and it was in winter, too. But about that time two of those dago sailors up forward started to whistle. Of course, you know to whistle at sea is sure to bring wind. It was blowing a moderate fair gale on the port quarter, just enough to keep us bowlin' along under the jib at a thirteen-knot clip. When I heard those dagos whistle, I had the mate lay them out with a belayin' pin, but it was too late.

"A gale of wind sprung up such as I have never seen. The Ettie was a staunch little craft, but we were caught aback in wearing ship, and the sticks were taken out'n her. For two days longer it blew like old Harry. And we lay there a drenched hulk, an' me a walking the poop a cursin' those dagos who had started all the trouble.

"Four days later we had the ship in pretty good shape, that is, cleaned up, but we rolled helplessly. About that time a whale school of whales comes along and starts playin' around us. The fact that our ship had no motion save the roll caused by the heavy seas, made them feel safe. But the sight of them put hope in my breast. I had been a whaler and knew the anatomy of a whale from A to Z.

"Well, I stationed myself in the bow with a heavy harpoon attached to a four-inch line. I waited until a big bull just under our bow started to sound. As he went down and his tail came up I let him have it just a bit forward of the big flipper. He came level on the water on the instant and started swimming away at a great rate. But it was a regular sort of swimming, not like the ordinary wounded whale's rush. Then I knew I had caught where I had aimed. Where was that? Why in the root of the tail is the center of the whale's nervous system. If a harpoon goes in there it puts them to sleep, but their muscles work just the same and they will swim along at the rate of about twenty miles an hour for a month. There's no such thing as tiring them out.

"I at once rigged an apparatus on the whale's tail so as to guide him in the direction we wished to go. Then by the heavy tow rope being attached to the Ettie, we rushed along in the whale's wake at twenty miles or more an hour. I was elated. We were then going twice as fast as we could have gone under full sail.

"Well, in three weeks, we sighted Melbourne, and I had this big whale tow us right up in the harbor and ran him ashore near town. I sold him for $4500, which was dirt cheap, but it was enough and more to pay for all repairs. After having the ship refitted, I took the other $1000 of the money I got for the whale for myself.

"But, what aye think? Why the owners insisted that it belonged to them, saying as how it had been got with their ship, they were entitled to it all. But I told them to go to h— and quit the vessel.

"But, there was gratitude for you. Me saving the ship, making a record-breaking passage, and getting enough money for all repairs wasn't enough for them; they wanted it all.

"But I know there are exceptions. What did you say, will I have a drink? Well, I guess yes. I knowed you were no' like some of those ungenerous people."

A Truly Great Bargain

Eastern Star Cloak & Suit House
516 - 13TH STREET, BET. WASH. & CLAY, OAKLAND, CAL.

ACTIVE WINTER IN

REAL ESTATE, HE SAYS

Wickham Havens of the firm of Wickham Havens Incorporated, in a recent talk on real estate said: "Every indication points to a very active winter in the real estate line as a tremendous number of small investors are realizing upon their other securities and buying principally small residence lots. This form of investment is very popular with the wage earner, as it enables him to invest a small amount each month and in such a way that at the end of one or two years he has a tidy sum saved and can also make a profit of perhaps fifty to 100 per cent on the amount of money invested.

"Our new development work during the last week has been pushed ahead with great rapidity. The cut on Cottage street is giving us about 30,000 yards of earth with which to fill the lots fronting on Pleasant Valley avenue and shore avenue in the Piedmont-belted Lake tract. When this work is all completed there will be a wonderful change in this district. The street car poles are all installed along Lake Shore avenue to Piedmont Road tract and we hope it will be a matter of a very short time when these cars will be running.

When your life is inactive, when you are dull and drowsy by day and restless at night take Lash's Bitters.

"My Cask is Drought" did not use Sney's Flour.

A Safe Deposit Box

GRANTED

So is a good mortgage, and carries with it that distinctly pleasurable knowledge that your money is working to the best advantage.

Do you want a mortgage paying monthly interest, conservatively selected and amply secured in all respects?

P. O. Box 676, Oakland

Holiday Goods at Special Prices

Handkerchiefs On a Grand Scale Than Ever Before

This stock has always received unusual attention when preparing for the holiday trade. This year is no exception; in fact, the scope of our purchases is on a larger scale than ever before. SPECIAL VALUES also abound here, as may be seen in some of the items mentioned below.

Real Armenian Lace Handkerchiefs—50c, 60c, 75c, $1.00, $1.25, $1.50, $1.75, $2.00, $2.25, $2.50 and $2.75.

Real Appenzel French Handwork Initial (small neat block letter)—$1.50 per box of 6, regular value $4.00 per dozen.

Real Ardenes Hand Embroidered Linen Handkerchiefs—25c, 35c, 50c, 60c, 75c, $1.00, $1.25, $1.50 and up to $2.50 each.

Real Appenzel French Hand Embroidered Linen Handkerchiefs—60c, 75c, $1.00, $1.25, $1.50, $1.75, $2.00 and up to $10.00 each.

Hemstitched Lawn French Check, small hand work initial—$1.00 per box of 6, regular value $3.00 per dozen.

Immense variety of Arabian, Shamrock and Irish Linen Lawn, hemstitched and hand embroidered, 25c each—regular value 35c.

The stock is now at its best, which is the ideal time for selection.

Furs for Winter Weather

Never in the history of the business have we shown a stock of furs equalling those of the present season. Every fur enjoying any popularity is represented and represented at every possible price.

ERMINE may be had at from $20.00 to $100.00

RUSSIAN MINK may be had at from $20.00 to $150.00

SQUIRREL may be had at from $12.50 to $35.00

JAP. MINK may be had at from $7.50 to $25.00

SABLE MARTIN may be had at from $15.00 to $50.00

SABLE SQUIRREL may be had at from $7.50 to $35.00

Children's Fur Sets

IMITATION ERMINE may be had at from $2.75 to $5.00

ANGORA may be had at from $2.75 to $5.00

GRAY AND WHITE SQUIRREL may be had at from $6.00, $7.50 and $10.00

RUSSIAN SQUIRREL may be had at from $10.50, $11.00, $12.50 and to $18.00

Especially large assortment of MUFFS in Mink, Ermine, Squirrel, Lynx, Jap, Minx and Sable Martin.

25 Per Cent Reduction On All Children's Coats

This stock includes everything in the line of coats and wraps for the little ones. The sizes run from one to six years and the materials embrace every popular fabric suitable for coatmaking.

CLOTH COATS IN COLORS are sold at from $4.50 to $13.50—less 25 per cent.

ASTRACHAN COATS are sold at from $6.00 to $9.00—less 25 per cent.

BEAR SKIN COATS are sold at from $5.50 to $22.50—less 25 per cent.

BROADCLOTH AND SILK COATS are sold at from $12.50 to $27.50—less 25 per cent.

Children's Headwear

This is an exceptionally well selected line of bonnets, caps, and Tam O'Shanter for infants and children.

CAPS from 75c to $4.50—less 25 per cent.

POKE BONNETS from $1.75 to $12.50—made of silk, bearskin and cloth. These are also subject to 25 per cent reduction.

Taft & Pennoyer

DECEMBER—An Unprecedented Month of Special Values

Never in the history of the business have we offered SPECIAL PRICES to any extent during the month of December, yet the general trend of trade seems to be toward this mode of selling, and we propose to do our share on a liberal scale. Some of these offers are set forth below, but there are as many more twice over to which no advertising space has been granted.

Those who have done their trading here in former years know what class of goods they have been accustomed to receive, and to these patrons we wish to remark that the quality of merchandise has not deteriorated but if anything has improved.

SPECIAL PRICES have not lessened the quality and you are sure to receive what this firm has built their reputation upon for the last thirty years—“the very best merchandise obtainable at the smallest cost consistent with a well regulated business.”

Cloak and Suit Department SPECIALS

Now is the time to fit out the little ones with warm outerwear for the Winter weather. This entire stock has been reduced to a point where the dollar has its extreme purchasing power. These prices are made on absolutely new stock, the majority being shown now for the first time.

CHILDREN'S COATS

(from 6 to 14 year sizes). This entire line will be closed out at the following prices. Excellent assortments of styles, materials and color rule.

Coats formerly $6.75, $7.00 and $7.50, are now to be had at $5.00.

Coats formerly $8.50, $10.00, $12.50 are now to be had at $7.50.

MISSES' COATS

(sizes 14 to 20 years). These are full length garments of dark material, velvet collars, fancy buttons, selling formerly as high as $12.50 SPECIAL PRICE $7.50.

CHILDREN'S DRESSES

(sizes from 6 to 14 years.) We will close the balance of these Fall and Winter styles, in plain colors, fancies and an assortment of beautiful plaids at the following prices:

Dresses formerly $10.00 and $11.50 may be had at $8.50.

Dresses formerly $12.50, $14.00 and $15.00, may be had at $10.00.

DRESSES FORMERLY $16.50 and $17.50, MAY BE HAD AT $12.50.

The balance of the stock in this vast department, including everything a woman could possibly need in outerwear, is subject to a discount of 25 per cent on its former selling price.

Special Prices On Linens

But a few more days remain in which to purchase your linen at special prices. At the prices we are asking for the bulk of our high-class napery they should prove to be exceedingly busy ones. We quote below only a few of the countless bargains to be found in the department.

The following cloths are especially high-grade and always sell for considerably more than we are asking.

CLOTHS, 2 yards by 2 yards. Special price $3.00, $3.50 and $4.00.

CLOTHS, 2 yards by 2 1/2 yards. Special price $3.75, $4.50 and $5.00.

CLOTHS, 2 yards by 3 yards. Special price $4.50, $5.25 and $6.00.

NAPKINS (24 inch) to match the above, $4.50 per dozen, $5.00 and $6.50 the dozen.

Full line of CLOTHS for extreme length, ROUND, LONG or OVAL TABLES. Special prices from $5.50 to $60.00.

An elegant line of Irish Hand Embroidered pieces, the very first showing of these goods.

32 inch squares $1.75 each.

18 by 54 inch scarfs to match $1.75 each.

36 inch squares $2.00, $2.25, $2.50 and upward.

The most complete line of lace pieces, in Doylies, Centers, made in Cluny, Duchesse, Irish Point, Florentine, Battenburg and numerous other styles.

We take considerable pride in mentioning the fact that we are exclusive agents for the celebrated JNO. S. BROWN IRISH, SCOTCH, GERMAN, MORAVIAN AND FRENCH DAMASKS.

Special Shoe Note

From this time on until further notice we will allow a reduction of TEN PER CENT on all goods bought in this department.

Extreme Novelties in Leather Goods

We are just in receipt of an immense assortment of the swellest of leathers in women's purses, hand bags and shopping bags. We can assure you that these goods are to be found nowhere else on the coast. Furthermore, we have avoided anything resembling a large profit in marking the shipment, thereby giving an extremely low price on each and every article.

Broadway at 14th Street

December Discounts Prevail

This season we were well represented in the Orient and the result is just beginning to be shown. Articles too numerous for special mention abound in many departments. Kimonos, Baby Supplies, Crepes, both silk and cotton, Brasses, Chinaware in profusion, Sterling Silver Goods, Embroideries, Rugs, Bronzes and countless other items add a charm to the stocks never before possessed. All these have been marked with the greatest care and the resultant prices will be found to conform to the scope of almost any pocket book.

Be sure to see these articles of merchandise before the lines become broken and incomplete.

Special Prices on Men's Shirts

For one week from this date we will offer an immense line of the very best shirts that money can buy, consisting of pleats and stiff bosoms in figures, dark stripes and novelty effects at a big reduction on the original selling price. All sizes are well represented in these goods which formerly sold at $1.50, $1.75 and $2.00.

For one week they may be had at the one price, $1.35 each.

Bath Robes and Smoking Jackets

Our entire stock of these popular sellers in complete sizes and a wonderful range of colors and materials will also be subject to a discount of 10 per cent on the marked price.

25 Per Cent Discount in the Waist Department

This discount is not confined to late Summer and early Fall goods, but applies to every article in the department, the majority of which have but just arrived.

SILK WAISTS in the new Fall and Winter styles, in fancies and solid colors, black, blue, tan, brown, green, red, white and all pastel and light shades.

LINGERIE WAISTS, all this season's handiwork and most beautifully made goods.

WOOL WAISTS in plaids, stripes, dots and plain materials. The very choicest of Winter fabrics.

SATIN AND MOHAIR WAISTS, in black only, made in the most recent styles and of the finest of material.

Special 10 Per Cent Discount Throughout the Shoe Department

This is not a reduction on certain lines of shoes but a general price cutting of our very latest Fall and Winter models for women, misses, children, boys and youths. As all our footwear is made especially for us it naturally represents the very best quality obtainable for the money. TEN PER CENT on our regular stock at this time of the year means to you a considerable saving in your shoe bills.

$1.50 Shoes are now $1.125 $2.00 Shoes are now $1.50
$2.50 Shoes are now $1.875 $3.00 Shoes are now $2.25
$3.50 Shoes are now $2.625 $4.00 Shoes are now $3.00
$5.00 Shoes are now $3.75 $6.00 Shoes are now $4.50
$6.00 Shoes are now $4.50 $7.50 Shoes are now $5.625

SPECIAL AGENTS FOR LAIRD, SCHOEBER & CO.'S high-grade footwear for women and children.

SPECIAL AGENTS FOR DUGAN & HUDSON'S "IRON CLAD" Shoes for boys and girls.

SPECIAL LINES OF LEGGINS, SPATS AND RUBBERS.

Take our advice and come as soon as possible to choose your dolls and dolls' clothes, for they are just too pretty and dainty to stay here, once the holiday season opens in earnest.

SPRECKELS FOR CABINET, HENEY FOR SENATOR, LANGDON
FOR GOVERNOR

THE KNAVE

POLITICAL GOSSIP PICKS PARDEE FOR A VICE-PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATE

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 30.—How would you like to see your old fellow townsman, former Governor George C. Pardee, as a Vice-Presidential candidate on the Republican ticket? That may sound sort o' funny when you read it out loud for the first time, but if you'll listen hard over there in Oakland you can hear the bee a buzzing with a loud, resounding buzz.

It all is expected to come out of the comings and goings and meetings to, from and in Washington. You see, Benjamin Ide Wheeler has just been there, and William H. Langdon is on the way. And Henev is going just as soon as the Ford trial is over; and Rudolph Spreckels is going, too. And, of course, Pardee has had to go there as a delegate to his convention or association, or whatever you call it.

There has been a sort of intimation from somewhere on the inside that the Far West was at last to be recognized on the Presidential ticket by being given the second place; and Pardee thinks he is just the man for the job. The Lincoln-Roosevelt League is supposed to be more or less behind him in that ambition, and so the bee goes a buzzing around.

Roosevelt thinks well of Pardee, even if he didn't admire the former Governor's whiskers or very much fancy his novel notion of wearing a crush opera hat in the daytime. So the way is clear for a combination ticket with Pardee on the tail of it; and this is why the politicians are watching with a great deal of interest the comings and goings and meetings to, from and at Washington.

As for Spreckels, he seems to like the political game now that he has had a taste of it, and he is relied on to give Pardee as much of a boost as possible. You know, Spreckels promised to keep out of politics, but in the recent campaign he got in so far that he was in reality a boss.

He actually sent for candidates and gave them their places on the Good Government ticket. Percy V. Long, the nominee for City Attorney, was one of those he personally sent for and arranged that he should have the nomination. Others he sent for did not accept his offers, but he was in a position to make good on his promises, and was what an ordinary unholy politician would call a boss.

Dan Ryan is again full in the fold of the Lincoln-Roosevelt League. After he had been decried and bully-ragged and expelled from the new organization, it was supposed he would be left lamenting in the cold. But when the election of Taylor was assured the feelings against Ryan began to subside and the wild men of the league began to wonder how they could get along without Ryan and his county committee in this city.

Consequently, he was sent a sort of tentative invitation to attend the executive committee meeting as a vice-president, and he accepted the invitation. This brought joy to the hearts of the other leaguers, who had begun to fear that they had killed off their best bower in the political game by getting angry when he ran against a Democrat. And now that Ryan is back in the fold the combinations will all be put up on the theory that he can capture the delegation from San Francisco.

It looks very much as if Congressman E. A. Hayes of San Jose was now coquetting roguishly with the league. Of course, he was tied up to Abe Ruef before, and naturally it would be supposed the league would punish him for that allegiance as it has been punishing the other Ruef men. But Hayes evidently is trying to stand from under.

The league has set up a literary bureau. Out from San Francisco go "special dispatches" to the faithful newspapers. The Fresno "Republican," the San Bernardino "Index," the Sacramento "Union" and the rest will all come out with exactly the same political article, and in each instance it is marked "Special dispatch to ——" whatever the paper may be. The articles boost the league and its work and pat the leaders on their deserving backs. All of which has been carefully noted by the "Organization" leaders.

And now the Hayes papers in San Jose have come out with these same "special dispatches," which is notice to the "Organization" that Hayes is trying to break into the league, and that he looks to the new crowd instead of the old for his nomination next year. The San Francisco end of his district controls the nomination and apparently Hayes is trying to swap the influence of his papers for the delegates from San Francisco that he hopes the league will control.

Congressman Julius Kahn in the Fourth district is in a bad way for a renomination. He used to get his nominations from Herrin. Then when Ruef came up he went over to him. But now Ruef is no more; Herrin will have none of Kahn, and the league leaders heartily detest him. So he has nowhere to turn just when the job is worth $9000 a year.

Sheldon G. Kellogg of the Forty-first Assembly district is being groomed for Kahn's place. He has been chairman of Republican conventions and has always taken an active part in district politics. His standing as a lawyer is considered good, and he opposed Ryan's nomination this year, which makes him solid with the Taylorites. Still, the "Organization" is friendly enough to him and probably would back his aspirations unless some more available candidate should show on the field. At present it looks as if Kellogg would send Kahn back to the stage or the hat store.

I find that no dark horse is going to have a look in at your Berkeley postoffice squabble. When Congressman Knowland gets to Washington he is going to ask the President fairly just what there is against Thomas. If the President isn't too set in the matter, Thomas will get the place. But if Roosevelt shows that he has made up his mind fully and flatly, then Merrill will be confirmed without more ado.

The Sacramento folks can't seem to get used to Governor Gillett, and he doesn't seem to care a hang whether they do or not. He doesn't put in any more time at his Gubernatorial mansion than he can help, and is strictly business whenever in Sacramento. He doesn't entertain at all; doesn't seem to care to meet the Sacramento women or chuck the babies' chins, as Pardee used to do; and altogether carries an attitude as he would say: "Well, you voted against me, and I was elected. Now, make the most of it." Still, I'm told he has offered to help a little in the fight to keep the capitol from going to Berkeley, and that may bring him a little closer to the hearts of his neighbors.

Just now Gavin McNab must feel himself very much in the position of Tantalus. Here he has all the wealth of the patronage of the city at his command and is entirely unable to take advantage of it. His lieutenants, Charlie Fay and Tom Hickey, are floundering around rather helplessly in all the wealth of good things political and are making a mess of it, while McNab moans and groans helplessly in the hospital unable to attend to anything.

The condition of the Democratic boss is not entirely satisfactory. His stout head has cleared after the tremendous thump that would have put most men out for good and all; but he has had a lot of trouble with an elbow. It seems he fell on his elbow when he was knocked down by the horse and shattered the bone clear to the wrist. The doctors operated on him once in a more or less successful fashion, but found they had to go at him again and do it all over. In his weakened condition this second operation became quite serious. So he hasn't had as good a recovery this week as might have been expected otherwise, and it looks very much as if he would not be well enough to cut up the patronage pie before the first of the year. Meantime the anxious ones are waiting, waiting.

Now we are told that Chief Biggy is to retain his job after all, and there is a great gnashing of teeth over it. Biggy is a peacock and a jackass combined. He loves to strut in his uniform and to spread the tail of his authority in all directions, and in the days before the election he kept getting in the way of the Taylor campaign. Hardly would Taylor's managers get some little bit of delicate political work fixed up to suit them when Biggy would come strutting into it and knock things silly. There were constant complaints and more or less of a promise that Biggy would be removed. In fact, Edgar Mizner could have had the place of chief if he would have accepted it, but he didn't think it was just the job for a gentleman.

But now it is said that Biggy is to remain after all. He is expected by some miracle or other to get more sense, and now that he cannot interfere with politics he will not be so much in the way of Taylor and his advisers. But the gamblers, who were given to understand that if they would support Taylor they could run wide open after election, are wondering why Biggy doesn't take the patrolman away and let the chips click again.

Rudolph Spreckels was at the jinks of the Bohemian Club last Saturday night. He came with Jimmie Phelan. After the jinks was over he sat at the far end of the room with William Greer Harrison, Jimmie Phelan and F. G. (grand juror) Sanborn. The group sat alone. No one went near to speak with them. Every now and again Harrison would call out to some prominent club member, "Hey, come here a moment!"—but when the salutee saw who were of the group, he simply called "Hello" and "brushed by." Apparently no one cared to be counted in the Spreckels coterie.

It was Dick Hotaling's first appearance in the clubhouse since he resigned from the vice-presidency because of the discourteous treatment he had received at the hands of his Board of Directors. When Dick saw Spreckels he left immediately, followed by a host of others. On every side could be heard remarks to the effect that any man who would accept membership in a gentleman's club through the underhand methods which gave admittance to Spreckels into the Bohemian Club is not the type of gentleman with the brand blown in the bottle.

It is said that both Maginnity and Hotaling, who resigned from the club's Board of Directors, were asked by President Hall to submit to re-election back to the board after Spreckels had been admitted to membership. They denounced such a proposal in no equivocal terms, saying they would be sacrificing their honor and self-respect by such an action. The whole incident is valuable in throwing a light on the character of Spreckels. It does not seem possible any man in the environment such as Rudolph Spreckels has moved could be so lacking in all fine sensibilities. His presence at this time in the Bohemian Club is so obnoxious that it will stifle many a free and easy hour for those who formerly enjoyed there the careless friendly intercourse for which the club is renowned. This jinks last Saturday under the Sireship of Mr. Charles Norris was most successful. The participants were all neophytes in speaking parts. The evening was most enjoyable until Spreckels' presence was observed, and then the crowd began to go home and a frost fell.

The gossips along Political Row have it that Superior Judge Frank Dunne will not run for that or any other judicial office again. Judge Dunne's term will expire in 1908, and it had been thought he would either seek to succeed himself on the Superior bench or run for Justice of the Supreme Court, it being whispered that Dunne even aspired to eventually succeed Beatty as Chief Justice. It is now suggested that Dunne will retire from the bench to take up the practice of the law as attorney for the Federal Development Company, a new corporation in which Rudolph Spreckels is reported to be interested. Rumor also has it that Judge Dunne's salary as a corporation lawyer will be $12,000 a year.

The San Francisco banking situation is working itself out. Money conditions are much easier than one week ago, if for no other cause than that there is more coin here. There have been heavy remittances of gold from the East, by transfers through the sub-treasury and by other channels. The coin thus received approximates at least $20,000,000 and has been placed where it will do the most good.

Some coin is also beginning to come in from the country banks, those institutions adding to their already large balances with the local banks. This movement of coin seems somewhat singular, as the banks of the interior have been desirous of getting back their balances, but have been unable to do so because of the New York banks declining to meet drafts on the balances they hold for the California banks. The reason assigned for some of the country banks sending their money to San Francisco is that their bank buildings are without that police protection that tends to insure security, and as a precautionary measure they send money to San Francisco instead of retaining it on their own bank premises. Then, too, the interior banks must do business, and this necessitates their maintaining balances in the San Francisco banks.

This city receives between $1,500,000 and $2,000,000 each month from the mines and this good yellow metal goes quite a way in lubricating and filling the uneven financial spots.

Then, too, the city has been saturated with about $6,000,000 in Clearing-House certificates of deposit which have been placed in circulation to meet payrolls and for use in general business. This amount of new paper seems to be about all the city will absorb, for it is now going back into the banks in quantities equal to the daily demand, thus making the current of circulation complete. These paper certificates have been of great advantage during this stringency and without them building would probably have had to come to a stop in this city.

As to the legal status of this fiat money it is apparent that the Clearing-House "rule" in that connection will have accomplished its purpose, and normal conditions will have been restored long before any adverse litigation could be determined in the courts.

There has been some criticism of the conservative policy of the banks in paying out coin, they being charged with hoarding gold themselves. That it behooves the local financiers to fortify their reserves is apparent when it is recalled that they soon will have large amounts in taxes to meet and the day may not be too long delayed when the Clearing-House certificates of deposits shall be redeemed.

Not the least important factor in maintaining the present amicable financial conditions is that the people know the reasons for and have become accustomed to the situation. While the public may not be fully satisfied with the conditions, their better judgment has prevailed and they are meeting them in a rational way.

The San Francisco banks appear to have passed the final solution of the financial flurry up to the country banks. In this connection the local financiers say:

"If the country bankers continue to do their business in the regular way and do not lose their heads and become panic stricken, the situation will right itself regardless of the rapidity with which Eastern banks pay their Western balances."

(Continued on Next Page.)

THE KNAVE

(Continued from Preceding Page.)

There seems to be a disposition on the part of the city institutions to pass the buck to the country banks. This is resented by the latter with a seeming show of reason. The country banks have balances of at least $10,000,000 deposited with the San Francisco banks. The former say to the latter: "If you will pay us what you owe us we will take care of ourselves."

Neither do the interior financial institutions appreciate the sage advice of the city financiers that they keep cool. The bankers in the country suggest that if the city men had maintained a lower degree of temperature and not been carried away by the high rates of interest offered in New York as the result of crazy stock speculation they would not have sent so much money East, thereby impairing the local reserves, and thus contributing in a no small degree to the local financial stringency.

Another reason for the flurry is that the banks have made large loans to the merchants which may not be called in at a moment's notice. After the fire the merchants used their insurance money to pay their outstanding bills and borrowed money from the banks with which to purchase new stocks. These lines of merchandise will have to be sold before the loans can be paid.

The country banks are reported to be in a remarkably healthful condition. Some of them include in their assets securities in which they invested through local pride and a desire to advance the interests of their various sections, such as school bonds, irrigation district bonds and similar development enterprises. While these securities are absolutely good in normal times on occasions of financial stringency they are not readily converted into cash.

There is no doubt, however, but the country banks will meet the emergency and come out of the present financial stress in a better and stronger condition than ever before. As the city banks are unable to get their Eastern balances at this time they cannot pay the country banks the balances due the latter in full. But at all points in the interior where money is absolutely required it is being supplied. Coin is forthcoming not in accordance with the size of the fright of the interior bank, but in exact proportion to its needs and immediate requirements.

The outlook is for the continuance of the bank holidays until January 1, 1908. In the meantime the whole financial situation should adjust itself. That the finances of the United States are based as upon a rock of Gibraltar is shown conclusively by the fact that notwithstanding over $2,000,000,000 of water was squeezed out of stocks in New York in almost a single day, not to exceed five important financial institutions have gone to the wall throughout the whole country. Such a panic in securities in any other country would have so shattered its commercial integrity that it would have taken years to restore it. Here there has been some nervousness among the bankers, but no panic either on their part or with the public, and the indications are that within thirty days the monetary conditions will have been restored to the normal and business will again be conducted on a strictly gold basis. So quietly, and with so little demonstration, will this have been effected that the general public will not fully realize the fact until days after its accomplishment.

Whichever way one turns in the graft prosecution the situation that confronts him harks back to politics—the attempted deal of the Spring Valley Water, or the efforts to damage the property of the United Railways Company. On the Tuolumne river, from which the promoters of the scheme to unload Spring Valley on the city at a speculative profit to themselves of many million dollars, propose to draw their supply of pure Sierra water to dilute and otherwise improve the brand of liquid now served the citizens by Spring Valley, two power companies hold certain riparian or other rights.

One of these companies is called the National Park Electric and Power Company. Its stock stands largely in the name of citizens of San Jose. One of its directors is P. B. Oliver, the foreman of San Francisco's long term Grand Jury. One-fifth of the stock of the concern also stands in the name of B. P. Oliver.

The rights of this company are situated on the river just below where the much-discussed Hetch Hetchy basin, which the Federal Government has been asked by Phelan and his associates to give the city for the storage of a supply of water for municipal and domestic uses in San Francisco. The development of the Hetch Hetchy plan would be of very great advantage and profit to those persons owning stock in the company, and which is held in the name of Oliver and citizens of the Garden City. With a never-failing supply of stored water back of them which they could pick up and use to develop their power and then drop back into the channel again so that it might proceed on its way to San Francisco the advantage to the power company is obvious.

The National Park Electric and Power Company is reported to be willing to sell its rights on the Tuolumne for a satisfactory price.

There is something the matter with that remarkable political combination that calls itself the graft prosecution. Little, in fact almost nothing, has been heard from this junta during the special holiday season caused by the money flurry. This is noticeable, for it has been the practice of this political pool during the intervals between the trials of its victims to continue its agitation against invested capital through the columns of the local press. Stories regardless of foundation in fact, and without a semblance of truth, were furnished and caused to be published with a view to assassinating the character of some leading citizen. The cabal appeared to have a special antipathy to any citizen who woke up of a Monday morning with $1.25 in his pocket. If he represented a corporation with a street railway franchise which the Municipal Railways Corporation, organized by Spreckels and Phelan, failed to secure, he became a subject of specially vicious attack.

But for the past few weeks the prosecution has been remarkably quiet. Although the Ford trial is to be resumed tomorrow even Billy Burns, the great gumshoe man, has not yet charged that the jury has been tampered with, thereby indicating that his mind is sorely preoccupied with something that interferes with his usual practice.

The causes of this sudden lack of zeal on the part of the civic purifiers are said to be many. One is that an important cog has slipped in the political machine of this more righteous-than-thou combination. It is understood that there is a rift in the lute of Rudolph Spreckels' ambition to fill a position in the President's Cabinet. It is said that President Roosevelt has been informing himself in relation to the political situation in California, and particularly in San Francisco, with the result that he knows a thing or two about both politics and persons that he did not before the graft prosecution was uncovered and brought into light.

These self-sacrificing purists have by direct statement or by insinuation caused it to be thought by the unwary that President Roosevelt was the great moving power behind their political maneuvers. To the contrary it is said that President Roosevelt is much disgusted at the manner in which the prosecution has done politics for itself, to the sacrifice of the Republican party in San Francisco. As a result of the game played by the purists in sheep's clothing the regular Democratic party will be in full charge and control of the leading patronage offices of the city after January 1, 1908. The Democrats, through their leader, Gavin McNab, will have an opportunity to build up a Democratic machine that will control the city, if not the State, for many a moon. The local Republican party, headed by Daniel A. Ryan of the Roosevelt League, because of the efforts of this same junta, is down and out. It is so badly demoralized and so heavily in debt that it is seeking to pawn itself to anyone who will pay its bills. If such a "broker" can be found he will be able to hold the local Republican party in pledge during the next campaign or until such time as the organization can get itself out of pawn.

President Roosevelt is known to favor "organized politics." Being a Republican it is fair to presume that he would not seek to build up a Bourbon machine in a Republican state that had given him its most loyal support and a majority in excess of 100,000. But these people, who behind the mask of civic reform have assumed to represent Roosevelt, caused to be constructed just such a Democratic machine in San Francisco and are now themselves seeking political preferment. They are endeavoring to ride into office on the name of Roosevelt, associated with their own "reform" schemes, and over the ruins of the local Republican party.

The unmasked purpose of it all is to make Rudolph Spreckels a member of President Roosevelt's Cabinet; to make Francis J. Heney, a Democrat, United States Senator from the Republican State of California; to make William H. Langdon, a political mongrel with a three-quarters strain Democrat in him, Governor of the Republican state of California. A very nice little cleanup of political places for the trio of purists who have been seeking to immolate themselves on the altar of public virtue—which altar seems to be jobs for all three in the Federal and State service.

Now that the Ford trial is about to be brought on again, the lack of enthusiasm on the part of the prosecution becomes more apparent. It is said that it will not take more than two or three days to conclude this case. The prosecution are talking of a sixty days' recess to follow the Ford trial. Heney is preparing to go East. Langdon is already there preliminary to exhibiting himself in a lecture before the Civic Forum.

Judge Lawlor, it is said, feels that he has been overworked and needs a vacation. He, too, will seek rest and recreation on the Atlantic seaboard. It is probable that both Judge Lawlor and Heney will occupy prominent seats on the platform the night Langdon addresses that lecture bureau at $250 per lecture. While of course Judge Lawlor and Heney will magnanimously concede Langdon the fee, and expenses, that are to be paid him for his classic eloquence, it is thought they will seek to share with him some of the limelight with which the graft prosecution patriots are to be sprayed on that occasion.

There is no question but Lawlor is a much-worked jurist. In fact during the Ford trials he has acted as both Judge and Elisor. The regular panel of jurors having been exhausted special venires have been ordered returned. It has been the practice in the criminal courts of this city to place the names of the veniremen in the jury box after such of them as had statutory excuses had been excused by the Judge. The names would then be drawn from the box in the usual manner and the veniremen examined by counsel for both sides in respect to their qualifications.

But Judge Lawlor, in his desire to have even-handed justice meted out in the so-called graft cases, has examined the names of the veniremen critically himself. He has had frequent interviews with Special Prosecutor Heney and Private Detective Burns, with the purpose, it is understood, of arriving at the status of the men whose names had been returned by the Sheriff. So careful has Judge Lawlor been that the blindfolded goddess should make no mistakes in these trials that the veniremen have in effect been subjected to two examinations in regard to their qualifications—once by the Judge, after consultation with Heney and Burns and again by the contending attorneys in the case. It is apparent that Judge Lawlor's vigilance will permit no guilty man to escape who may come into the presence of Department 11. There is little wonder that Judge Lawlor is weary and will seek rest and recuperation in a vacation which will include a trip to the Atlantic seaboard.

There are other conditions that may contribute to the blase attitude of the prosecution. The regular jury panel of the Superior Court has been exhausted. The prosecution does not appear to be satisfied with the special venires returned by Sheriff O'Neill, even after Judge Lawlor has attacked them with his judicial fine-tooth comb. Early in the next year the Superior Judges will turn in their lists of names and these will be a new general panel from which trial juries may be selected.

Early in the approaching new year a new presiding Judge of the Superior Court of San Francisco will be elected. What figure this will cut in the general scheme of the prosecution is not apparent, but the worthies at the head of that political machine are giving it much attention. It has been the custom to alternate political parties in the selection of presiding Judges. The incumbent of that honorable office is Judge James V. Coffey, a Democrat. His successor in the usual course will be a Republican.

There has been much speculative gossip in this connection. Judge Sturtevant has been suggested, but it is thought that as he was recently appointed to the bench the courtesy will go to some older member. The trend of belief is that Judge John Hunt will be the next Presiding Judge. It is understood that he will not be a candidate to succeed himself in the next campaign, which, if it were possible for the judicial mind to be moved, much less warped by politics, would remove any possibility of such influence operating in connection with Judge Hunt.

It is understood, however, that the prosecution will strenuously oppose the selection of Judge Hunt. It was that representative of the bench who resented in vigorous and open expression the attack made by Heney upon the Judges at a banquet where the special prosecutor was contributing to the atmosphere of the occasion. Heney cast aspersions on the integrity of all the Judges of California and Judge Hunt was not one of those who tamely acquiesced in the gross insult.

Still another possible cause of the inertness of the prosecution is the fact that the general public just now is more interested in the money situation than in promoting the political ambitions of Heney, Spreckels and Langdon, which are to be obtained by the working out of private revenges on citizens who have done much for the advancement of San Francisco.

Leading Federal officials, who are in perfect harmony with the National administration, are inclined to the opinion that the order of President Roosevelt that no Federal office-holder attend the National Convention as a delegate, is of special significance. While the Eastern Press seems to throw some doubt about the suggestion being an order by the President, the Federal officials here regard it as an edict from the White House direct.

Their interpretation placed upon the order is that Roosevelt while not an announced candidate for return to the Presidency, is a receptive candidate and should the convention see fit to again confer that honor upon him he will accept. But he, apparently, so his friends here think, wishes to be in a position that will enable him to say that he contributed in no political way to the securing of the nomination. Were the convention filled with Federal office-holders it would give Roosevelt's opponents an opportunity to claim that he was seeking to obtain the nomination by the votes of his own appointees to office—otherwise the Federal brigade. The keeping of all Federal office-holders out of the convention, as contemplated by the Roosevelt order, will remove any opportunity for the accusation that the President has laid pipe to secure his renomination.

A new alignment of the Spreckels family, in its business relations, is being discussed in financial and in graft circles. It is said that no longer is Rudolph his father's pride and only joy. The venerable multi-millionaire is said to have once more resumed control of his affairs, which fact he announces in loud and positive tones, especially when anyone asks for Rudolph.

For years Rudolph was his father's favorite son. Then came the Philadelphia sugar refinery deal and the Hawaiian sugar plantation controversy. Father and son were estranged and called each other names that contained charges closely approximating the criminal. "Liar" and "thief" were among the most mildly suggestive of the accusations and counter declarations.

For years John D. and Adolph B. held high place in their father's esteem and were active in the conduct of his extensive business interests. About two years ago Adolph and John were dethroned and Rudolph restored to favor and business confidence. The aged sugar king is said to have gazed with almost idolatrous admiration upon Rudolph and passed upon the latter the highest encomium possible for him to coin. "I was just like him when I was his age," declared the proud sire. The aged capitalist boasted of his having barked Rudolph to the tune of $100,000 in the graft prosecution and of his willingness to add another $100,000 to the gumshoe detective relief fund.

But now all this is reported to be changed. Not only has Rudolph been dismounted, but the elder Spreckels, it is alleged, speaks in derisive and condemnatory terms of the so-called graft prosecution.

The cause of it all has not been made clear either on California street or on Political Row. There are vague whisperings about the poor old "Call" and $20,000, mysteriously shuffled together, being the cause of the estrangement. It is quite clear that that ancient Jezebel of Jerusalem, the "Call," would make trouble for anyone, but where the $20,000 came into the disturbance has not yet been determined on Fillmore street.

A. B. Spreckels is now in New York under treatment for his eyes. It is said that he and John D. have been restored to paternal favor.

Rudolph Spreckels seemingly had full charge of the Claus Spreckels realty, including the building named after the head of the family, and its annex. It was he who leased, or let these properties. Now it is related that when a prospective tenant approaches the head janitor with a view of renting an office in the Spreckels building, no longer is the applicant referred to Rudolph, but to Secretary Douglass, who acts in that capacity for Claus Spreckels. Douglass was formerly Secretary to Adolph Spreckels. It is also reported that offices are being fitted on the twelfth floor of the tall building for Claus Spreckels and that from these he will conduct the business which he formerly entrusted to Rudolph.

THE KNAVE.

WOMAN IS THE OLDEST RESIDENT OF OAKLAND.

MRS. FREDERICK COGGESHALL.

Mrs. Frederick Coggeshall, Aged 91, Has Lived in This City Continuously
Since the Year 1852.

Mrs. Frederick Coggeshall, wife of the late Captain Coggeshall, has the distinction of being the oldest resident in Oakland. She will celebrate the anniversary of her ninety-first birthday on April 9 at her home on San Pablo avenue.

In 1852 Mrs. Coggeshall came round Cape Horn and settled in this city, occupying a one-roomed house which was imported from New Hampshire via the Horn. The walls of the room were fitted up in linen canvases. She occupied this little cottage for thirty years. Mrs. Coggeshall was for years the only white woman living in the district now called Emeryville. In those days there were no inhabitants save those of Mexican campers. Mrs. Coggeshall was extremely friendly with these people and frequently brought provisions into their camps and supplied them with hogs and cattle which she killed during the time meat was scarce. She owned a ranch which comprised forty-two acres of land.

PROVISIONS FROM RANCH.
The household provisions to a great extent were obtained from the ranch. The hogs were pickled down and made a delicious and nutritious food. There were two or three stores in this city in the early days and those were on Broadway. A stage carried the mail once or twice a week and as the team passed it was hailed by the residents of the district.

Mrs. Coggeshall was born in New Hampshire and was educated in a little school at Rochester. She taught school in New Hampshire for a year and retired from that profession to become the companion of her parents and take care of the household. She is charitably disposed and has given much of her time and attention to the needy ones. Up to recent years Mrs. Coggeshall was an active church worker and was one of the first contributors to the building fund of the First Presbyterian Church of Oakland.

Mrs. Coggeshall has five grand children, they are Helen, Katie, Frederick and Clayton Coggeshall. Mrs. George Win-lock, her only daughter, was among the first white children born in Emeryville.

Five Sacks of Coal FREE TO EVERY PURCHASER OF A MONARCH RANGE

FREE COAL! Five Hundred Pounds of either Rock Springs or American Block Coal absolutely free!

—Five big full sacks delivered right to your door all free and with our compliments—
The most sensational, most practical, most valuable free contribution ever given by any merchant in this city to purchasers of ranges. Rock Springs and American Block Coal is the finest coal for cooking purposes upon this market—there are many cheaper coals but none better and if bought in the regular way would cost you from $16.00 to $18.00 a ton.

Our object in giving this Coal away is to advertise Monarch Ranges

The Monarch is the range we sell for $8 down and $8 a month and is acknowledged by all unprejudiced experts to be the most wonderful range in America to-day—at the Lewis-Clark Exposition the Monarch in competition with all other ranges won the gold metal, the grand first prize, the highest award offered at that great exposition.

The Monarch is the range that saves so much coal (it is estimated that with coal at $16 a ton, the present price, the Monarch saves from $30 to $80 a year in fuel)—The wonderful duplex draft is the reason of this great fuel saving—It gives you almost as complete control over the Monarch as you have over a gas range—No other range is allowed to use this duplex draft—It is really a most remarkable contrivance and should be investigated.

The top of the Monarch never needs to be polished—It turns a beautiful deep blue and needs only to be wiped off with a cloth—Hot Cakes, Steaks, etc. can be cooked right on the lids. Thirty minutes after you light the fire in a Monarch you can have hot water enough for a bath, twenty-five minutes after you have used all the hot water in the reservoir you have another reservoir full and piping hot—The other day, on a test a batch of biscuits were taken out a Monarch oven, brown and thoroughly cooked just 17 minutes after the match was touched to the kindling. Three little pieces of coal will cook a dinner, five sacks (such as we give free) will last an ordinary family cooking 3 meals a day, at least 30 days—Now, folks, if these are facts (and we can prove them) it is wise to go on wasting fuel, time, health and money in trying to "do with" some old antiquated, worn out stove when you can sell that old stove to Jackson and get a new Monarch Range, just like the picture for $8 down and $8 a month which terms include setting up, a fine hard wood base, a broiler and five sacks of coal delivered!

STEAL FOWLS ON FISH HOOK

Grain of Corn as Bait Causes Depletion of Flock of 100 to 39.

Miss Perry has had her flock of 100 chickens reduced to 39. Mr. Santos is minus several fine fowls and Mrs. Thompson's number was relieved lately of eleven. It is said that a favorite method of capturing poultry is by means of a grain of corn, attached to a fishhook, simple, easy and effective. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Burt and son departed on Tuesday for their new home in Pasadena. Mr. Burt will join George Jones, his brother-in-law, in business, and Mrs. Burt will remain for awhile with her sister, Mrs. Jones, who is being treated for the serious injury she received in July last, when her ankle was severely sprained. Since the accident she has been unable to walk.

Mrs. Frank and Miss Olive left the first of the week for St. Louis, and will remain there for some time, probably until spring.

The school children are busy selling tickets for the Saturday evening dance, the proceeds of which are to be used to give the children a royal Christmas tree.

Hay's Hair Health

Never Fails to RESTORE GRAY HAIR
to its NATURAL COLOR.

No matter how long it has been faded, promotes a luxuriant growth of healthy hair. Stops its falling out, and positively removes dandruff. Keeps hair soft and glossy. Refuse all substitutes.

IS NOT A DYE.
RESULTS GUARANTEED.

Phil Hay Spec. Co., New York, N. Y.
50c and $1.00 at

Owl Drug Co.'s three stores

Harrison Sanatorium

Specialty of Chronic and Medical Cases.
Vard or Private Rooms for Men and Women. Reasonable Rates.

301 Pacific Ave., Alameda opposite north of Market Station

Phone Alameda 1235

MANY PERMITS BEING GRANTED

Record for Past Month in Berkeley Shows Great Building Record.

BERKELEY, Nov. 30.—The real estate market continues active here, but many deals are pending, waiting for a betterment of the financial conditions. The demand for certain houses is now more than the supply, in spite of the many houses that are constantly being erected in all parts of town. During this month thirty-nine building permits have been issued by the local building department. Of these, thirty are for residences. The total value of these improvements is $119,000. This shows that the building operations in this city are but little affected by the financial stringency.

This spring will see a number of large buildings started in the central part of Berkeley. J. A. Marshall is planning to erect an apartment house on the corner of Telegraph avenue and Dwight way. This structure will be similar to buildings he erected at the corner of Telegraph avenue and Bancroft way.

LARGE APARTMENTS.

Another large apartment house is planned for the corner of Ashby and Telegraph avenues. Work will be started on this building as soon as the cross-town line on Ashby is completed.

The new lines being constructed by the Oakland Traction Company are stimulating building activity along these lines to a great extent. Upper Grove street, Dwight way and Ashby avenue undoubtedly will see the building of many new houses during the coming year.

The Oakland Traction Company has completed one track on the Grove street line and is progressing rapidly on the laying of the second. It also has a large force of men working on the Ashby line.

BUILDING RECORD.

Following is a partial record of the building for the month:

L. Bates is erecting two-story flats on the corner of Parker and Ninth streets at a cost of $4000.

A two-story residence is being erected by T. E. Chisholm on Astor street near Claremont avenue. It will cost $4500.

Dr. Rosenthal is building a handsome residence on Le Conte avenue near Hearst avenue. It will cost $3400.

George Mathes is building a one-story residence on the corner of Hopkins and Chestnut streets that is costing $7000.

A two-story dwelling is under course of construction on the north side of Hillgard avenue, near Euclid. James E. Blean is the owner. The residence will cost $5500.

MANY HOMES.

One-story dwelling, north side Black-ston street, Walter Williams, $1600.

One-story residence, north side of Delaware street, $1500; Mrs. C. M. Jameson.

One-story residence, 2519 Russell street, $300; L. S. Vance.

One-story dwelling, north side of Alameda street, near Euclid, $1500; J. C. Conne.

Two-story residence, north side of Le Conte avenue, near Euclid, $4500; J. A. Marshall.

Two-story residence, north side of Harrison street, near Adeline, $3900; C. T. Baldwin.

Two-story residence, west side of Oxford street, south of Rose, $3000; E. D. Baldwin.

One-story residence, north side of Prince street, west of Claremont avenue, $2400; R. A. Van Sant.

Two-story residence, southeast corner Parker and Etna streets, $3500; F. G. Allen.

Here Is the Proposition

Set it up, put in the water front, connect it with the boiler and start the fire. You get the coal at once. Then in 30 days you pay us $8.00 and so on until the Monarch is paid for. If you have an old stove we buy that. We guarantee to keep your Monarch in repair for ten years and to give you $40 in gold for it any time you want to sell it up to 25 years after purchase. Eight dollars is absolutely all you need tomorrow. No extras, no delay—offer ceases after 100 Monarchs have been sold.

How to Buy Goods on Credit

We sell fifty dollars worth of goods for a dollar a week and other quantities at the same proportion. We are willing to trust any working man who wants to fix up his home, or any woman. We ask a small deposit at the time of purchase and send your goods out at once. Our experience has been that the moral obligations connected with the purchase of furniture for a home is a safe risk and consequently make no embarrassing investigations.

519 - 525 Twelfth Street, bet. Clay and Washington, Oakland

Letters from Owners of Monarch Ranges

We have scores of letters from people who are using Monarch Ranges—letters sent us voluntarily telling us of the wonderful work done on the Monarch. These letters are here in the story for you to read; they are from people living right here in this county, your neighbors. It isn't so much what we say of the Monarch as it is what actual users say. Ask to see some of these letters.

SOCIETY -- NEWS OF THE SMART SET -- GOSSIP

The week-end party given yesterday afternoon and evening by the members of the Linda Vista Whist Club, was quite an event in the history of the exclusive club. Mrs. W. F. Kelley was hostess at the meeting held in the afternoon and early in the evening Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Eby entertained the members of the club at dinner in their home at Piedmont. In the evening after dinner Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Coffin gave an elaborate card party at which all the members of the club were present.

Among the members of the club are Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Butler, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Coffin, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Breck, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Eby, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Kelley, Dr. and Mrs. E. L. Dow, Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Houts, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Heron, Mr. and Mrs. S. Hubbard, Mr. and Mrs. Edward M. Walsh, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Higgins, Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Coogan and Mr. and Mrs. George Ismon.

BRIDGE CLUB
Mrs. Charles Houghton will be hostess on Monday afternoon at a meeting of the Monday Bridge Club which will be held at her home on Lake street. A number of well known names are on the membership list and among them are Mrs. Andrew Mosley, Mrs. Charles Minor Goodall, Mrs. J. R. Burnham, Mrs. Martin W. Kales, Mrs. Edson Adams, Mrs. Lillian Brown Everts, Mrs. Frank L. Brown, Mrs. Charles Houghton, Mrs. John L. Howard, Mrs. Henry Meek, Mrs. F. M. Hathaway, Mrs. Robert Stone, Mrs. Milton Bullock, Mrs. James G. Allen, Mrs. Arthur Crellin, Mrs. Emma Farrier, Mrs. Frank Irigoin, Miss Florine Brown and Mrs. Hayward Thomas.

MONDAY CLUB
Mrs. Wickham Havens will preside as hostess at the next meeting of the Monday Afternoon Club which includes in its personnel a roster of women who meet occasionally for a game of bridge. The members of the club are Mrs. Wickham Havens, Mrs. Henry Rosenfeld, the Misses Nicholas, Mrs. James Tyson, Mrs. Edward Engle, Mrs. Frank Watson and a number of others.

ELABORATE LUNCHEON
Miss Alice Sterling, the charming fiancée of Walter Leinert, will be the honored guest at an elaborate luncheon to be given by Mrs. W. F. Kelley (nee Wilson) on December 10, in her beautiful Linda Vista home. Cards are already out for the affair and it promises to be an important social event. Miss Sterling is a charming girl and her many friends in the young set are planning affairs for her. The wedding of Miss Sterling and Mr. Leinert will not take place until some time next year.

DINNER PARTY
Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Butters entertained last evening at a dinner given at the Claremont Country Club. After dinner the Butters with their guests attended the dance at the club. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Butters, Mrs. Grace Cook, Miss Marie Butters, Miss Margaretta Butters, Miss Natalie Fore, Robert Augustus Gray, George Fuller, Ben Taylor, Harry Weine and Joseph Roshorburgh.

DOLL SHOW
On December 5, 6 and 7, the Doll Show will be held in Reed Hall, corner of Thirtieth and Harrison streets. Besides the sale of dolls and fancy articles an interesting program has been arranged by the ladies in charge of the affair. A series of living pictures posed by little children will be put on each afternoon and evening. On Thursday afternoon and evening the program will be as follows: A Small Protection, Theodore Jatho, The Morning Bath, Baby Cameron, See! Things at Night, James Tobriner, In Mischievous Agains, Ilma Tobriner and Eugene Corrigan; The Whistling Boy, Elliott Taylor; Belle of '73, Margaret Taylor, Waitin' at the Church, James Tobriner, Under the Old Umbrella, Cathleen Ellen, Three Little Maidens from School, Alice Palmer, Dora Boman and Bernice Brownell. On Thursday evening and Saturday afternoon the Holidays of the year will be presented by the following: New Years Day, Helen Trevor St. Valentine's Day, Bobbie Adams and Manno McClure, Washington's Birthday, Elsie and Lester Bishop as George and Martha Washington, St. Patrick's Day, Seaver Hamilton, April Fools Day, Gladys Gerrish, May Day, Lois Eggleston, Schatz and Sweetheart Adams, Decoration Day, Henry Trevor Jr., Fourth of July, Seaver, Gray and Claribel Hamilton, Admission Day, Edith Erdmann, Thanksgiving, Charlotte Jorgens; Forefather's Day, Lillian Gard, Christmas, Katherine Fox and George Freeman.

Friday afternoon and Saturday evening the following program will be given: Golden Locks and the Three Bears, Dorothy Jotho, Frau Katzenjammer, Hans and Fritz, Florence Matthews Denison, Ayer and Lester Allen; Dutch Girl, Lovell Jones, Gold Dust Twins, Mildred Wilson and Dorothy Phillips; Rusty Brown and Mary Jane Giles Grandall and Olive Marie; Nobody Loves Me Al and Dorothy Carter; The Dolls' Prayer, Florence Boardman, Mother, Pin a Rose on Me, Donald Allen, Traveling in Siam, Johnnie Ayer; This Better to have Loved and Lost than Never to have Loved at All, J. J. Allen Jr., Maran Chamberlain and Edward Waterhouse, Gypsy Fortune Tellers, Florence Morrison and Helen Matthews.

FIVE HUNDRED PARTY
Mrs. Elsie Ames was hostess at a five hundred party given this afternoon at her home on Adeline street. The honored guest at the affair was Miss Edith Ray Wade whose engagement to Seymour Phelan was announced a short time ago. The Ames home was artistically decorated and after several games of cards had been played, dainty refreshments were served. Miss Ames' guests included about sixteen of her most intimate friends. Numerous other pretty affairs are being planned in honor of Miss Wade whose marriage with Mr. Phelan will not take place until next year.

MUSICAL EVENT.
The Misses Clara, Julia and Mattie Chinnock, the daughters of Mrs. C. Chinnock, gave a delightful musical in their home at 1331 Myrtle street on Thanksgiving night. The guests were treated to an interesting musical and literary program under the direction of Professor John W. McKenzie in which the following took part: Miss Bertha Graham, Miss Gladys Powell, Miss Goldie Powell,

MISS MAUDE MITCHELL.

—Belle-Coudry photo.

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Snyder, Miss Hazel McKenzie, Miss Ruth McKenzie, Horace Keeley and Professor W. McKenzie.

BRIDGE PARTY.
The following news is from Mexico: "Miss Maude Madden of Oakland, California, and Julia Mills of Los Angeles, the two charming cousins of Governor Curry and who are guests at the executive residence, made their debut in the Capital City society at a bridge luncheon Thursday morning at 11 o'clock, given in their honor by Mrs. A. B. Rerehan and Mrs. M. O. Llewellyn at the former's handsome home, 'The Willows' on upper Palace avenue. It was one of the most unique and delightful affairs of the autumn season. The hotel decorations were very pretty and artistic. Big silvery chrysanthemums adorned the spacious drawingroom, carrying out the color scheme of yellow and green. Bridge whist was played from 11 a. m. until 2 p. m., after which a delectable six-course luncheon was served. Japanese chrysanthemums were used in decorating the card tables and the color scheme of yellow and green was also embodied in the luncheon. Dainty filigree scarf pins were presented to the guests of honor Mrs. Helen and Miss Christensen cut for the first prize which was won by the latter. In addition to Misses Madden and Mills, the guests of honor there was present, Mesdames Bridgeman of Buffalo, New York, A. Seligman J. L. Seligman, Jackson, Paen, Berge, Pritchard, Sargent, Harding, Spitz, Cartwright, Lord and Sloan, and Misses Christensen of Los Angeles, Spitz and Dougherty."

WEDDING ANNIVERSARY.
The Ladies' Auxiliary of the International Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers gave a party recently for Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Harvey on the occasion of their seventh wedding anniversary. Mrs. Belden, in behalf of the society, presented the hostess with a handsome supply of table linen. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. W. Belden, Mr. and Mrs. Whitney, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Stokes, Mr. and Mrs. C. Farley, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Collier, Mrs. H. J. Small, Mrs. Charles Thomas, Mrs. George Thomas, Mrs. C. C. Curi, Mrs. George McGraw, Mrs. Frank Luvader, Mrs. Esterbrook, Mrs. J. Lyons, Mrs. Walter Thompson, Mrs. H. Gardiner.

HOME WEDDING.
A pretty wedding took place Thanksgiving night at the residence of Henri Grandjean in East Oakland, when his daughter, Miss Berthe Grandjean, became the bride of Carl J. Soht. It was a simple service witnessed only by the members of the Grandjean and Soht families. Miss Estelle Grandjean was her sister's only attendant. She wore a beautiful gown of white silk. The bride's wedding dress was a pretty creation of white silk tulle. The veil and orange blossoms finished the costume. Arthur Ramage, a best man friend of the groom, served as best man.

The home was beautifully decorated, the color scheme being green and white. The marriage ceremony took place under a shower of smiles from which was suspended a white floral bell. The Rev. H. K. Sanborn officiated. An informal reception and supper followed the marriage service. Mr. and Mrs. Carl J. Soht left for the southern part of the State on their wedding journey.

An attractive home in Oakland awaits their return. The bride had planned a more elaborate wedding, but the death of her mother soon after the announcement of her engagement made a change in the arrangements and every detail was carried out with as little ostentation as possible.

Mr. Soht is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. W. Soht, well known among the older families of the bay cities. He is a promising young business man of Oakland and a prominent member of the Masons, Elks, and Native Sons.

OAKLAND CLUB.

The Oakland Club will hold its regular business meeting on Wednesday afternoon. There will be the reports of committees and of the board of directors, and Christopher Ruess, the probation officer, will give an address on "The Child and the Jail."

WILL HOLD BAZAAR.

The Calendar Club of the Christian Church announces an entertainment and Mrs. J. C. McBrien, Miss Bessie Lynch, Mr. Kennedy of New York, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gallagher, Miss Ellen McBrien and others.

PICTURES TODAY.

Miss Maude Mitchell, whose engagement was a recent announcement and who was entertained at a luncheon last week by Miss Fannie Fetterhoff. Mrs. M. J. Dodd, nee Tlesman, whose wedding was an event of the week.

COMUS COTILLION.

One of the most enjoyable affairs of the week was the third of the series of assemblies given by the Comus Friday evening and proved to be another of the pleasurable gatherings of the winter. Eboli auditorium, with its many cozy corners, lending itself so readily to adornment, was massed with heavy hangings of feathery greens, potted plants and art baskets of huckleberries, while red berries and red shaded globes introduced the holiday feature into the scheme of decoration.

Music is always a special feature of the Comus assemblies, and was under the direction of St. Elmo Powell.

The club's other parties for the winter are December 27, January 31, and February 23.

BURRAGE-NIELSEN.

The wedding of Miss Lillian M. Burrage and Fritz E. Nielsen took place this week at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. P. Nielsen in North Oakland. The bride was attended by her sister and the groom by his brother, George Nielsen. The bride wore a dress of white material and wore a wreath of orange blossoms in her hair and carried a shower bouquet of white carnations and maiden hair ferns. The marriage services were read by the Reverend Clifton Macdon of Trinity Episcopal Church. On the evening of the wedding of the young people, the forty-ninth birthday of the groom's father, was also celebrated.

Among those present at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. N. P. Nielsen, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Henriksen, Anton Henriksen, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kyll, Miss Hazel Kyll, Mrs. Meta Jacobsen, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bird, Miss Johanne Peterson, George Nielsen and a number of others.

WILL MEET ABROAD.

Charles Wingate has gone East and will go to England later to meet Mrs. Wingate who has been visiting relatives in the British Isles. They will return in February much to the pleasure of their many friends here.

SONG RECITAL.

Romeo Brick gave a song recital at Ebell Hall last week which attracted a number of musical and society people of the city. He was well received and presented a program of wide variety in-

GEO. D. HALLAHAN.

CATERER.
Mary C. Hallahan, Owner and Mgr. High-class catering. New and complete service. Fancy ice cream a specialty. Oakland 485, Oakland 911, 12th and Alameda Streets, Oakland, Cal. Rent Tables, Chairs, Linen, China, etc.

Mrs. Hoffman.

Will give a

Sale of Homecraft.

Consisting of HAND PAINTED CHINA AND WATER COLORS, FANCY WORK, ELEGANT HAND MADE LACE, TABLE COVERS and DOLIES. Numerous Articles for Xmas Gifts To be held at Eraley-Greco Furniture Co. Store, Broadway, Oakland, Dec. 5-6-7, '07.

Saturday and Saturday Night.

Don't Fail To Come.

ICE CREAM.

"The Better Kind"

SUNDAY SPECIAL.

(Brick Form)

BANANA with STRAW-BERRY CENTER.

Only pure sweet cream, fruits and flavors used in Maplewood products.

Phone Oakland 8044 Home Phone A 4044

Maplewood

PURE ICE CREAM

She's simply loving, charming Grace, With dimples sweet upon her face; Now listen to the verses well The story of her life I'll tell.

P. C. PULSE KNOWS IT

AT HOME.

Mrs. Henry R. Lety and Miss Rita Levy, formerly of San Bernardino, will be pleased to receive their friends at their new home, 819 Third-second street, in this city.

TISMAN-DOWD.

The marriage of Miss Elizabeth Tisman of Alameda and Michael J. Dowd of East Oakland was solemnized at St. Joseph's Church in Alameda last Monday morning. The bride was attended by Miss Margaret Dowd, sister of the groom, and Charles Behnken acted as best man. After an elaborate reception, the couple left for the south on their honeymoon. On their return they will make their home in East Oakland, where the groom is in business.

AT DINNER.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. McBrien entertained last week at a dinner given for Captain and Mrs. Frank Lynch. The table decorations were ferns and holiday berries. Besides the two complimented guests, covers were laid for Colonel and cluding selections from Wagner, Schumann, Beethoven, Brahms, Rossini, besides several ballads and songs by American composers. It was an ambitious and taxing program, Frederic Maurer was the accompanist.

SOUTHERN VISIT.

Mrs. Frederick Wellington Morse has gone to Los Angeles where she will meet her mother, Mrs. Homer Craig, who is on her way home after a year's travel in the East.

COOLBRITH BENEFIT.

One of the important events of the week was the authors' reading given for Ina Coolbrith at the Fairmont Hotel. The affair was attended by society and literary people from both sides of the bay, crowding the large white and gold ballroom of the hotel. Mayor Taylor of San Francisco, presided and among the authors of more than local repute who read from their own work was Lucius Harwood Fouts, George Sterling, Mrs. Frances Older, Robert Howe Fletcher, Horace Whitaker, Herman Schoffauer, Warren Cheney, Charles K. Field, Charles Keeler, Gertrude Atherton, James Hopper, Luther Burbank, Joaquin Miller.

The musical numbers were given by the Bohemian Club quartet, composed of Frank Onslow, Carl E. Anderson, John de P. Teller, Harry L. Perry.

The following clubs were announced as patrons: The California Club, The Century Club, The Pacific Coast Women's Press Association, Town and Country Club, The Junipers, The Sequoia Club, The Art Association.

The following were patronesses of the affair:

Mrs. Charles S. Allen, Mrs. Philip E. Bowles, Mrs. Giuseppe Cadenasso, Mrs. J. B. Corryell, Mrs. Oscar Cooper, Mrs. Horace Blanchard Chase, Mrs. Robert L. Coleman, Mrs. Frank P. Deering, Mrs. Albert Dibles, Mrs. M. H. de Young, Mrs. Allan Dunn, Mrs. Edward L. Eby, Mrs. Athearn Folger, Mrs. Arthur W. Foster, Mrs. James Pollis, Mrs. Mark Gerstle, Mrs. George H. Howard, Mrs. David Starr Jordan, Mrs. William Keith, Mrs. Eugene Lent, Mrs. Jesse W. Lillenthal, Mrs. James Otis Lincoln, Mrs. Walter S. Martin, Mrs. Eleanor Martin, Mrs. Charles K. McIntosh, Mrs. E. W. McKinstry, Mrs. Fred W. McNear, Mrs. W. Mayo Newall, Mrs. Percy Perry Moore, Mrs. James W. Orr, Mrs. James Otis, Mrs. Robert Oxnard, Mrs. Edgar Pelletto, Mrs. Ashton Potter, Mrs. Harry M. Sherman, Mrs. Leon Soss, Mrs. Blax

C. Sloss, Mrs. Rudolph Spreckels, Mrs. Sigmund Stern, Mrs. Francis J. Sullivan, Mrs. Thomas Magee, Jr., Mrs. Benjamin Ide Wheeler, Mrs. George Whitte, Mrs. Virgil Williams, Mrs. Tase Shorb White, Mrs. Mountford S. Wilson.

ENGAGEMENT NEWS.

Mrs. Robert M. Brown of San Francisco was hostess yesterday at a card party given at her home to announce the engagement of her daughter, Miss Lesley Brown and Marion Tobriner, a young business man of San Francisco. Mr. and Mrs. Brown are former residents of this city and have many friends here.

The engagement came as a surprise to the two score or so of friends who were asked to an informal game of 500 yesterday afternoon, when the reverse side of each score card was read.

The rooms were prettily decorated with violets and brilliant holly berries, and Miss Lesley and her mother were assisted in their hostess' duties by three of Miss Brown's girl friends. Oakland girls whom she has known since earliest schooldays. They were Miss Fay Chapman, Miss Tina Vinson, Miss Katherine Culver and Miss Tobriner.

No date is mentioned for the wedding.

O'CONNOR, MOFFATT & CO.

Van Ness Avenue and Pine St., San Francisco

Coat and Suit Department

Special Sale of Women's —Separate Skirts—

200 SEPARATE SKIRTS in the season's latest models; materials are Voile, Serge, Silk and Panama, all tailor made. Prices $5.00 to $18.50

A collection of Ladies' and Misses' Tailored Suits in odd sizes and broken lines in the season's most desirable materials. Reduced prices..... $20, $22.50, $25

HIGH GRADE NOVELTY TAILORED SUITS in fine Broadcloth and fancy mixtures; copies of very expensive foreign models..... $40 to $100

RUBBERIZED SILK COATS in full length models; absolutely rainproof; in red, brown, green, navy and black striped effects, Special value..... $22.50

NOTE—A large and carefully selected stock of Furs and Fur Garments embracing all fashionable skins for this season.

Dress Goods Department

CHIFFON CLOTH PLAIDS—Light weight imported cloth in subdued color combinations, the season's novelty, exclusive styles for fine winter costumes, 47 inches wide $2.50 a Yard

NOVELTY PLAIDS—all wool imported French Plaids, fancy effects in stylish color combinations, 45 inches wide..... $1.75c a Yard

STRIPE SUITINGS—Just received the new effects for Tailored Suits, imported English fabrics in black and white; navy and white; brown and white. 50 inches and 54 inches wide..... $1.50, $1.75, and $2.00 a yard

Holiday Novelties

An extensive display of Holiday novelties very suitable for gifts. Among the collection are Toilet Sets, Manicure Sets, Mirrors, Necklaces, Barettes, fancy Back and Side Combs, Brooches, Veil Pins, Jewel Boxes, Ink Vials, Shaving Sets, Writing Pads, Smoking Sets, Dressing Combs, Beauty Pins, Card Cases, Men's Wallets, Fancy Whisk Brooms, Hair Brushes, Cloth Brushes; also complete line of Leather Goods, including Suit Cases, Traveling Bags, Hand Bags and Leather Belts, at very moderate cost.

Dressing Sacques and Kimonos

A large and select stock of Dressing Sacques, Kimonos, Blanket Robes, Elderdown Dressing Gowns, Matinees, Negligees, and House Dresses in French Flannel, Silk, Flannelette, Albatross and Chals; also a new importation of Japanese Gowns and Kimonos in quilted and embroidered effects.

FLANNELETTE LONG KIMONOS, in Dresden and Flowered Designs; light, medium and dark colors..... $1.50 to $3.00

Hosiery Department

Our stock of plain and fancy Hosiery for the Holiday Trade is very complete. We carry only such lines as we can recommend for durability and fastness of color.

WOMEN'S FANCY LISLE THREAD HOSE, hand embroidered, neat design, from 50c to $1.50 pair

WOMEN'S PURE SILK BLACK HOSE WITH GARTER TOP; cotton sole; exceptional good value $1.50 pair

WOMEN'S PURE SILK HOSE; black ground, colored hand embroidery; in many different designs; special value $2.25 pair

Two Special Values in Louisine Silks

NEW LOUISINE SILKS—Plain colored, extra quality, in all the new colorings; specially suitable for handsome dresses, in an excellent wearing quality. Regular value $1.25 a yard. Special $1.00 Yard

FANCY LOUISINES—New black and white checked and striped Louisine silk, checks from pin head to medium size stripes, from hair line to medium widths. Extra heavy quality..... $1.00 Yard

Special Designs in Door Panels and Window Curtains Made to Order.

PHONE FRANKLIN 591
O'Connor, Moffatt & Co.
Corner Van Ness Ave., and Pine Sts., SAN FRANCISCO

Mail Orders Carefully and Promptly Filled. Samples Sent on Request.

THE POLICE MAN.
(Sighs.) "Oh, I met such a polite man today."
"Where was that?"
"On this parade. I must have carried my umbrella easily, and I bumped his eye into it. And I 'fardor me,' and he said, 'Don't you it—have another eye left'—
—K-Me-Up

MUNYON'S XXX REMEDIES

CURING OLD CHRONIC COMPLAINTS
Patients Given Up as Incurable Restored to Health

Follow the Crowd of Munyon Patients to the Drug Stores for Reliable Remedies, Used All Over the World.

MUNYON'S remedies are guaranteed under the national pure food and drug act to contain no harmful drugs.
Munyon's XXX for Rheumatism.
Munyon's XXX Kidney Remedy.
Munyon's XXX Dyspepsia Remedy.
Munyon's XXX Neuralgia Remedy.
Munyon's XXX Blood Remedy.
Munyon's XXX Liver Remedy.
Munyon's XXX Nerve Remedy.
Munyon's XXX Bladder Remedy.
Munyon's XXX Heart Remedy.
Munyon's XXX for Cold and Cough.

These powerful XXX remedies are prepared especially for chronic and obstinate cases of long standing and are sold in large bottles for 150 doses for $1. A few doses will take away all aches and pains and a cure is generally effected before one bottle is used. Munyon's Remedies have saved many lives and cured many chronic and desperate cases than all other remedies combined.

If you have Eczema or any skin eruption use Munyon's Eczema Ointment. which is a blessing in every home for the mother as well as the baby. Sold in two sizes 1 oz. 50c, 3 oz. $1. Mun-yon's Constipation Remedy is rapidly taking the place of all weakening nostrums. Munyon's Pile Ointment never fails to cure and cure quickly. No family should be without a Munyon Medicine Case and this should always be kept well supplied with Munyon's various remedies.

Munyon's Saw Paw tonic is the most powerful stomach remedy known. It is to the stomach what Paw-Paw Pills are to the liver and bowels.
Munyon's Asthma Herbs in large cans are prepared especially for severe cases of asthma and hay fever. Price $1.00.
Munyon's Remedies represent the combined practice and modern research of scores of eminent physicians, skilled specialists and learned chemists of the two continents, and are sold under the positive guarantee that if they don't do all that is claimed for them he will refund your money.
Munyon's Homeopathic Remedy, Cocaine up specific for nearly every disease and for ordinary complaints recommends the 25-cent remedy. Each remedy is so plainly labeled the directions are so simple, that everybody can doctor and cure themselves. In the home they mean a family kept in good health.
If your druggist is not carrying the remedy you need and cannot present one with the valuable little medical publication, "Guide to Health," or if you need medical advice, address Munyon's 33d and Jefferson sts., Philadelphia, Pa.

ODD FELLOWS CELEBRATING

Gathering in Richmond for Big Meet—Many Candidates Initiated.

RICHMOND, Nov. 30.—The Odd Fellows of Contra Costa county have the keys to the city this evening large delegations of members of the order from Byron, Antioch, Redee, Marine, Crockett, Pinole and Danville began to arrive early yesterday afternoon and are being royally entertained this evening by the members of Twilight Lodge of this city.

MANY CANDIDATES.
Large classes of candidates are being put through the work of the initiation is being handled by Antioch, the first and third by Crockett, while the far famous tower of the local lodge is putting on the work in the second.
Fraternal and Montecarlo's halls have been engaged for the occasion committees have been appointed and have the work of reception and entertainment in hand and the occasion is said to be one of the greatest in the history of the order in this county.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Methodist Church outdid themselves yesterday in serving the finest turkey dinner ever served in Richmond. Our best citizens partook of the cheer so liberally dispensed by those noble and self-sacrificing ladies. The ladies serve the greatest praise for their hard work. The occasion was a great success socially, financially and in every other way.

A very pretty wedding was celebrated yesterday at the residence of the bride No. 39 Park Place this city when George E. Lynch of San Franisco was married to Mrs. Stella M.
Payne. The Rev. D. W. Calfee, of the Methodist Episcopal Church of this city officiated.

Only the immediate relatives of the contracting parties were present. The couple left at once for their future home in San Francisco.

ASKS "WHY NOT GREATER OAKLAND?"

San Francisco has a great scheme on foot. It is no less potent than the annexation of Oakland, Alameda, Berkeley, San Mateo, San Rafael and Contra Costa counties. The contingent territory is very indefinite. We presume however that it embraces Vallecito and the entire area of the bay. It might be well for Fresno to watch out a little or while they have their feet braced holding onto their Kings county line. Prices may swoop down and annex their northern suburbs.
By the way, why don't Oakland annex
San Francisco? It could at least share a name with its big sister that would not be a stretch in the nostrils of her people.
—Valencia Davis

MORE IMPORTANT.

"I suppose young Mr. Shortly is settled by this time in your boarding-place, Mrs. Chophers?"
"Yes he is, but he hasn't." —Browning's Magazine

CLAIMS ORDERS ARE NOT LEGAL

Northern Pacific Sues State Railroad Commission of Washington

TACOMA, Nov. 30.—The Northern Pacific has brought suit against the State Railroad Commission to prevent the carrying out of certain orders. One of these related to the reduction in charges on cars of wood from the St. Paul and Tacoma Lumber Company's mill to the Carson Packing Company and the other was an order directing the construction of a spur to the Burham's mill near Roy.

A railroad company asks for the an-nullment of these orders on the ground that the railroad commission is not a properly constituted body, that appointments of H. A. Fairchild and J. C. Lawrence as members of the commission were not confirmed by the Senate and that Jesse S. Jones, another member, is disqualified because he was a member of the legislature which created the commission.

SONOMA COUPLE WERE WED 51 YEARS AGO

SANTA ROSA, Nov. 30.—Two of So-nomas County's oldest pioneer residents
Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Whitaker of Bennett valley have just celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage.
The celebration is the fact that nearly all of the time they have spent in Sonoma County. Both are prominent members of the Bennett Valley
Grange, organized thirty-five years ago.
Mr. Whitaker is also a charter member of Fernova Grange and for over thirty years he has been an officer of that organization.

Mr. Whitaker drove into town today to compliment the women of the Improvement Club in their efforts to establish a skating rink for horses and dogs.
Both he and Mrs. Whitaker take an active interest in public matters and they expect to live to celebrate their diamond jubilee.

WOMEN OF HAREM ARE FORCED TO SELL JEWELS

PARIS, November 30.—The Sultan of Turkey in order to remedy his financial position, has resolved upon a painful sacrifice. All the numerous and varied precious stones and gold ornaments worn by the ladies of the harem of Etiliz kiosk are to be sold.
Two lots were made of these jewels.
One was sent to London and the other to Paris, where it will be sold at auction. Appraisers have already been sent to work valuing the jewels, but unfortunately for Sultan the results are not what he anticipated.
Abdul Hamid hoped to get 25,000-000 francs for his jewelry, but the appraisers say it is not worth three million.

FRANKNESS.

Judge—Are you the defendant in this case?
Touche Raetta—No sah. Ah done hired a lawyer to do mah defendin. Ah sah de man wat done stole de tuckers, sah.

THUGS ROB INJURED MAN

Laborer With Broken Arm in Search of Surgeon
Knocked Down.

(Special to The Tribune.)
RICHMOND, Nov. 30.—Richmond is settling to be a prolific field for the industrious hold-up man and his side partner, the burglar, judging from the reports brought in by the police officers.

Almost night there was another hold-up on Macdonald avenue, near Thirteenth street. Fred Miller, residing at the county line, broke his arm yesterday evening and came to town to secure the services of a surgeon. He was walking along Macdonald avenue in pursuit of his quest when he was accosted by a negro and a white man, who demanded his money.
Miller refused, when the pair knuckled him down and rifled his pockets, securing $2 in money.

Miller notified the police and the officers at once set out to find the hold-up men, but the search proved fruitless.
All the hoboes about town were rounded up, but none of them could be identified by the victim of the hold-up.

"Sir my wife is starving!" said the shivering one.
"So mine," responded the genial millionaire. "It's this straight line crime. Foolish 'fad ah'—Puck

SELECT YOUR CHRISTMAS GIFTS AT

Gump's

The entire art world, both European and Oriental, has been ransacked to make our stock the most complete and attractive ever gathered in San Francisco. China, Glassware, Bronzes, Pictures and Marbles, all offer practical suggestions for the holidays. Inspection and comparison of prices is invited.
Open evenings from December 7th.

1645 California Street Just Below Van Ness

PORTLAND, Nov. 30.—Delegates from commercial organizations throughout the state are to meet in Portland tomorrow for the purpose of discussing the advisability of reviving Governor Chamberlain to call a special session of the Legislature to meet exigencies arising from the holiday and financial situation. The two subjects to be dealt with by the Legislature is an amendment to the attachment law and a measure that will exactly specify what business may be transacted on holidays.

LONDON, November 30.—Prodigies are a drug on the musical market, but one introduced to London this week by Hans Richter seems likely to have extraordinary success as a pianist.
The boy, who is fourteen years of age, is named Ernest Lengyel. He was born in Vienna of Hungarian parents, and at the age of five and a half years
a government scholarship was awarded him. The Archduchess Augusta has also aided in his musical education.

MAY CALL AN EXTRA SESSION IN OREGON

YOUTH OF FOURTEEN ON MUSICAL HOLIDAY

THE BANNER MILLINERY OF SAN FRANCISCO

A Wholesale House Selling Retail.

Special Reduction Sale For MONDAY and TUESDAY

$100,000 Worth of Fine Millinery
Must Be Disposed of Regardless of Cost

1000 Pattern Trimmed Hats at Prices Never Before Known

$6.00, $7.00, $8.00, $9.00 and $10.00

Trimmed hats, special for these days only

at

Fancy Feathers, Quaint Ribbons, Brides' Veils and Veilings at less than

Half the Usual Price

At Our Two Stores

THE BANNER MILLINERY

914 Van Ness Near Lillie, San Francisco. 1336 Fillmore, Near Liddy.

WHY NOT BUY PRACTICAL PRESENTS

Of all the gift-giving, how many presents are sensibly practical?—The home that receives furniture is always a happy one—On Christmas morn you awaken to find the old home has taken on a new dress; there is a new rug in the parlor; new curtains on the windows; a new table for the Christmas feast; mother is singing in the kitchen, a big easy chair has made a light heart; sister is primping before the new mirror and she is happy, too—The presents are practical; they will last a lifetime—You can truthfully say they make a real home

Oak Rocker
The rocking chair shown in this illustration is made of solid oak, golden finish, cobler seat, rigidly built, each $4.25

China Closet
This kitchen china closet is made of seasoned pine golden finish glass front two large drawers for cutlery and a large compartment for kettles and pans
At Breuners $11.25

Breuner Steel Range
A stove that is built to give the most possible heat from the least amount of fuel. Exactly as shown in illustration. Set up including stove pipe
..... $35.00

Maple Dresser
An elegant piece of furniture. Made of the best grade of maple. French bevel plate mirror supported by graceful swan neck stanchions paneled sides, boned top drawers, base fittings etc.
At Breuners $19.35

Music Cabinet
Solid golden oak,
highly polished dust
proof, carved claw feet and shaped legs.
One of a score of designs. At Breuners $22.50

Pedestal
This beautiful turned pedestal comes in either mahogany or solid oak, finishes, either
natural or stained.
44 inches high. Exactly as shown in illustration $6.30

Record Cabinet
A record cabinet will save a great deal of space in your home.
This cabinet comes in either mahogany or solid oak, golden finish. It will hold 24 disc records. Exactly as shown in illustration $36.00

Six-foot Extension Table
Six foot, solid oak extension table with carved claw feet and round, fluted legs.
A six foot draw. Exactly as shown in illustration $18.00

Oak Morris Chair
A Morris chair is one of the most acceptable of Xmas gifts.
It brings back fond memories for years and years.
The chair shown above comes in solid weathered oak;
adjustable velvet
cushions. A Breuners $18.00

CARPETS

Our Carpet Department is showing an exceptionally large assortment of Bundhar and French Wilton rugs in the various room sizes. In this assortment you will find weaves that are patterned after the Kirmanshaw, Cashmere, Bokahara, Meacallion, Persian, small Serend, and Oriental block. They come in red, old rose, green, tan, blue and scarlet colors.

We are showing about fifty patterns of the well known Beauvis, room size Axminster rug.
The Beauvis Axminster rug is conceded by all to be the most durable rug manufactured.

Inlaid Linoleum 99c

Without a doubt the largest assortment of inlaid linoleum ever shown in Oakland. Made of the best ground cork, and pure linseed oil.
The kind that goes clear through to the back. The square yd. laid 99c

Pick out your gift, pay a little bit down and a little each week and when Christmas comes I will deliver the present where-ever you say.
SANTA CLAUS,
care of Breuners

DRAPERIES

We have made up for the holidays an extremely tasty assortment of couch cushions in silk velours, flannels and Verdure tapestries, in a variety of pretty weaves and patterns. Now on display in one of our 13th Street windows. They make one of the most acceptable of Xmas gifts.
Prices range from
..... $1.00 to $8.00 ea

In this same 13th Street window we are showing our latest importations in Arabian lace.

In the Drapery Department you will find our beautiful new line of down comforters in satine and silk coverings.
They range in prices from
..... $7.00 to $35.00

Cotton comforters in all colors and choice of patterns from
..... $1.50 up

Do you need a new window seat? Our upholstering department has an established name for perfect workmanship. Let us give you an estimate.

CHOOSE Xmas Gifts NOW

Small Deposit
Reserves Them

For the Ladies

Exceptional Values in Silver Toilet Sets

Superb designs in Quadruple Silver plate, rich and elegant equal in effect to Sterling Silver designs which cost four times as much. Mirror, brushes of finest selected bristles guaranteed not to come out. Combs strong and serviceable with silver back to match mirror and brushes.
Three-piece sets are Hair Brush, Comb and Mirror. Four-piece sets include Clothes Brush. Each set comes in lined case.

Special at Three Stores

Fleur-de-lis Pattern, as illustrated. Lovely embossed floral design of Iris and Lily-of-the-Valley. The fashionable gray finish.
Three-piece set— $5.00 Four-piece set— $7.50
Special Special

Conventional Pattern. Beautiful conventionalized floral design, in relief.
Grav finish. Very artistic.
Three-piece set— $5.00 Four-piece set— $7.50
Special Special

Silverware

For Holiday Gifts. Quadruple plate. Tea Sets, Chafing Dishes, Cake Basket and Plates. Fruit
Nuts. Bowls. Fern Dishes, Nut Sets. Napkin Rings, Trays, and Waiters.
Match Safes. Smokers' Articles and many other desirable gifts in ornate effect and artistic designs.

ROGERS' TABLE WARE of all kinds in handsome and tasteful new patterns.

WE ENJOY SHOWING THESE GOODS CALL AND SEE THEM

Art Pottery

In California where choice plants beautify our homes the year round no Xmas gifts are more appropriate than a Jardiniere. We have them of many sizes and shapes in a variety of charming designs and exquisite colorings embodying the best of artistry in this line. It will give us pleasure to show them to you. The prices are most moderate as samples of our uncommon values note these.

Specials at Three Stores

7 inch Jardiniere, popular shape, embossed design rich shaded coloring in both dark and light effects 25c
Regular 40c value—
Special

Same 6-inch size— 20c
Special

Palms

Those who do not care for the labor of tending plants will welcome our Natural Prepared Palms. They are real Palms, processed so as to retain their natural form and green color indefinitely. Nothing like them for home and party decorations. Better than live palms require no care last forever. Immensely cheaper. We have various sizes at prices that will surprise you. Consider this.

Special at Three Stores

Palm and Jardiniere. Palm properly potted in large flower pot, with 7-inch Jardiniere complete as illustrated. Regular value $1.00— 65c Special this week

Holiday China

We have received a large importation of Fancy China for Holiday gifts comprising Hand-painted Plates, Cups and Saucers, Cake Sets, Artistic Dinner Coffees, Bonbonnières, Berry and Seed Sets etc. Also genuine Haviland French China and fine Austrian and German China.
These are now on display, and we are pleased to show them.

Cuspidor Special

Decorated China Cuspidor, white, with pretty rose cluster decoration.
Convenient size, shape and weight not easily upset. 25c
Regular value 40c. Special at 3 stores

MERCHANDISE ORDERS

Our Merchandise Orders, good in any department of our Three Stores are Popular Gifts. You save the bother of choosing. Your friends get exactly what they want.
Try the modern way of gift-giving. At all three stores.

BANNER OIL HEATERS

NO SMOKE—NO SMOKE
Absolutely Safe—Guaranteed
$3.75, $5.00, $8.00

Brittain & Co

INCORPORATED
OAKLAND—908-910 BROADWAY
San Francisco—Cor. Van Ness Ave. and Tully St.
San Francisco—1206-10 Polk St., cor. Sutter St.

YOUR CREDIT IS GOOD

one block
to Broadway

Breuners

13th & FRANKLIN Sts

one block
to Narrow Gauge

SANTA ROSANS PAY ALL TAXES

Citizens Rebuild Their Burned City and Are More Prosperous Than Ever.

SANTA ROSA, November 30.—Santa Rosa has made a showing of which the citizens are justly proud. Santa Rosa was hard hit in the disaster of April a year ago, and has spent millions in rebuilding.

While several cities not damaged by the shock and fire have been extending the time for the payment of city taxes, there was no need to do so in Santa Rosa.

The payment of taxes in this city closed this week and City Tax Collector Fred J. Rushmore has reported to the council that there is practically no delinquency and that the taxpayers have come up with full payment for the same.

Mayor John P. Overton and the City Council are greatly pleased with the showing made and believe that it cannot be beaten anywhere.

The population of the city has greatly increased and more new people are arriving each week. People who come from all parts of the State and from the East are amazed at the substantial manner in which the City of Roses has built up and the splendid style of buildings erected.

60 NEW HOMES ON ONE TRACT

Adams Point Properties Meet With Popular Favor Among Home-seekers.

Within the past year sixty fine residences, all of a different and individual style of architecture, have been erected on the Adams Point properties. It is said that this section of the city will be the bon for residence district, more beautiful than Piedmont.

Agents for the properties report numerous sales not only to present residents of this city, but to newcomers, who are overwhelmed by the beauty of the spot.

Perkins-Bromley Company, agents for the Lakeside tract have made many sales of this property and have others about to be consummated.

Homes are going up on all sides and most of them are costing between $5000 and $6,000. The building limitation is $2000. This year's building record in that locality will be far beyond the expectations of the agents.

EXCLUSION LEAGUE PLANS CONVENTION

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 30.—The Anti-Japanese and Korean Exclusion League will hold its next general meeting on Sunday, December 8, at 2 p. m. at the Labor Council Temple, 316 Fourteenth street. Secretary Yoeli is preparing the call for the Pacific Coast States convention, which will convene early in February at Seattle.

TO PROSECUTE 10,000 WOMEN

Spanish Court Takes Action Against Milliners Who Showed Sympathy.

(Special Cable to the Tribune.) MADRID, Nov. 30.—Then thousand defendants form the odd feature of a law case soon to be heard at Balboa. They are the members of the Milliners' Union, who are to be prosecuted by the crown solicitor for contempt of court. Their offense was in connection with the trial and conviction of Jesusa Pafana, a young milliner, who shot her lover because he had betrayed and abandoned her.

After Senora Pafana had been sentenced to three years' imprisonment, the union voted for an address of sympathy, approving of her action to avenge her wrongs, and the document was signed by ten thousand members of the union.

The authors and signatories of the addresses are held to have committed an offense by openly sympathizing with a convicted murderer. How this odd trial with its legion of defendants, is to be managed is exciting the greatest curiosity.

ARAB TROOPS ANNIHILATED

Spanish and French Soldiers Ambush Tribesmen and Win Victory.

MADRID, Nov. 30.—Dispatches from Melilla say that the Moorish rebels in that district were ambushed and annihilated by the Imperial troops.

LALLA MAGNIA, Algeria, Nov. 30.—An official report of the engagement yesterday at Adjouroud, between French troops and the Beni Nassen tribesmen declares that the latter were decisively beaten off. They left many dead and wounded on the field. There were no French casualties.

POSTAL APPOINTMENTS ARE MADE ACROSS BAY

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 30.—Postmaster Flisk has made the following appointments to the local force: Walter Bolton, Henry W. Bassett, William M. King, sub-stitute clerk; Henry Bittel, Timothy O'Leary, substitute carriers; Charles E. Reed, laborer.

Another P. Littlefield, clerk has been changed from mailing division to city division.

Designations have been received as follows: Frank P. Guertie, Russell T. Sime, Ernest J. Scheppeler, clerks; B. Tibbett, laborer.

Walter Bolton and Henry W. Bassett, substitute clerks have been promoted to clerks first grade.

PLAN NEW FACTORY FOR COLLEGE TOWN

BERKELEY, Nov. 30.—D. W. McLaughlin, a local real estate man, says he has sold a lot 120x22 feet at Bristol and Fifth streets, S. H. Hoy of San Francisco, and that a large woodware factory will be established there soon.

ADDITIONS TO FEDERAL LAND

Government Acquires More Timber Country in State of Arizona.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—Arizona now has thirty-two thousand acres more timber land in the Prescott national forest by reason of a proclamation creating two additions which was signed by the president. The tracts will be put under forest service administration and protected from fire, theft and waste.

The additions will give the Prescott forest an area of 1,063,256 acres. The country included is located in the central portion of Yavapai county, between the boundary line of the present forest and the Beza grant and occupies a portion of the divide between Williams Fork and Peverly rivers. It is estimated that there are about seventy million board feet of yellow pine in the additions.

SECTION HAND CARRIES $1000

Greek Laborer Loaded With Wealth, When Searched After Pierce Riot.

(Special to the Tribune.) AUBURN, Nov. 30.—At Penryn today a gang of Greek section hands attacked the section foreman and he shot one of them through the groin. A brother of the wounded man, who is detained as a witness was searched by the officers and $1000 found on his person in $20 pieces, sewed to his waistband. The foreman was badly beaten, the Greek will live.

SEEKING HOMES FOR YOUNG, WAYWARD GIRLS

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 30.—The Associated Charities announces that it desires private boarding-houses, Protestant and Catholic, as homes for more or less wayward girls from 14 to 17 years of age. The society will pay a proper monthly sum to any one sheltering one of these girls.

It is absolutely necessary that each home be presided over by a woman of strong character, willing to undertake in earnest the reform of the girl placed under her charge. Answers should be sent to the Associated Charities 1597 Jackson street.

TESTS NEW RIFLE TEN DOLLARS' WORTH

In his eagerness to test a new rifle which he had purchased Ralph Stratton, aged 17, took a shot at a mark near his home at the corner of Tenth avenue and East Eleventh streets yesterday afternoon. The report of the shot reached the ears of Policeman Dams and he placed the young marksman under arrest on a charge of discharging firearms within the city limits. Stratton put up $10 bail and secured his release.

Christmas Furs

There is no more acceptable Christmas gift for feminine wear. Our high-grade furs are positively unexcelled. We defy competition in quality or price.

Our fur showing also includes an elaborate line of stoles, ties, muffs, jackets and fancy neck-pieces in lap mink, squirrel, fox, imitation sable, real ermine and lux. We are showing jackets and coats (Blouse and Elton effects) in Asiatican, French seal and sable dyed squirrel.

A small deposit down will secure any selected article for Holiday delivery.

Sample Suits Greatly Reduced

Included in this offering are herring bones, broadcloths and fancy weaves in Prince Chap Military, three-quarter plain tailored and fancy braided effects. All the wanted colors. There are also suits for more dressy occasions in the afternoon and elaborate gowns for evening wear.

Perfect fit is guaranteed in every instance. Our workroom is the most capable in the city.

Misses' Suits

A splendid line of manufacturers' samples received last week. They were bought very much below actual value and we are offering them at sacrifice prices. There are fine broadcloths, serges and fancy weaves in plain colors, stripes and mixtures. Styles are irreproachable.

Charge Accounts

We are opening new accounts daily. Our credit plan provides the most liberal terms in Oakland.

Charge Accounts

We are opening new accounts daily. Our credit plan provides the most liberal terms.

$9 NINE DOLLARS $9 CLOTHING SALE

Commencing SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 30th, the Greatest Clothing Sale in Oakland

Selling absolutely below cost. Owing to the present conditions and money shortage we are COMPELLED TO SELL THESE GOODS to meet the demands of our creditors. A glance over this list of bargains or a visit to the store will convince you that in this sale you are getting double value for your money. Not too early to think of the Holidays.

Men's Suits

Blue Serges, Black Thibets, Fancy Mixtures, Brown Stripes and Checks—in a variety of colors—a hundred patterns to choose from—all in the latest Fall corset back cut—former prices range from $15.00 to $22.50—now

$9.00
THE SUIT

Overcoats

In Brown, Gray and Black, three-quarter, half and full lengths, Priestly Cravenettes, gray and light tan—former prices range from $12.50 to $20.00—now

$9.00

Closing Out Trunks

Reg. Price $16.00, now $10.50
Reg. Price $14.00, now $ 8.50
Reg. Price $10.00, now $ 5.75

PREPARE NOW FOR THE HOLIDAYS

PREPARE NOW FOR THE HOLIDAYS

Men's Furnishing Goods

Cluett Coat Shirts, cuff attached, $1.50 and $2.00 values—$1.15 now, each—

Monarch Shirts, $1.25 values—85c now—

Men and Boys' Shirts in all sizes, values $1, $1.25—45c, 2 for 85c now—

Men's Shirts, Collar attached, values $1.00 and $1.50—65c now—

Cooper Underwear, $1.50 and $2.00 values—now, garment $1.15

High Neck Jerseys and Sweater Vests, $2.50—now $1.85

Hats

Black and Brown Derbies, reg. price $3.50—now $2.65

Black Derbies, reg. price $2.50—now $1.75

Black, Brown and Gray Telescopes, reg. price $3.50—now $2.65

Black, Tan and Gray Telescopes, reg. price $2.50—now $1.75

Black, Tan and Soft Hats, reg. price $1.75—now $1.15

Gray Telescopes, all sizes 65c

Open Evenings until 8 P. M. commencing December 2nd, '07 until after the Holidays. Clearing House Certificates cheerfully received.

Gifts Held till Xmas.

We Sell Merchandise Orders

Buy Now Pay Next Year

Misses' Strand Coats

Waists

THE FUR HOUSE

Our assortment of Furs, Fur Coats, etc., is the finest ever. Thousands of pretty fur sets and fur pieces at very reasonable prices—read the list.

Brown Sables $2.50 up
Mink Ties $3.00 up
Gray Squirrels $3.00 up
Large Stoles $4.00 up
Gray Squirrel Sets $12.50 up
Mink Sets $6.50 up
White Ties $3.50 up
Chinchilla Scarfs $5.00 up
Fox Stoles $13.50 up
Fox Boas $7.65 up
Blue Fox Sets $22.50
Real Mink Sets $22.50
Ermine Ties $25.00 up
Black Marten shoulder pieces $12.50
River Mink Stoles $10.00
Brown Marmosets $5.85

Two Big Specials

$15.00 Black Lynx Sets, large muffs and ties; now $9.80.

$25 Black Lynx Sets

Special $16.65

New York's latest rage is Black Lynx.

Misses' Sets

White Ermine Muff and Tie $5.00
Mottled Squirrel Muff and Tie $6.75
Brown Mink Muff and Tie $8.10
Chinchilla Muff and Tie $8.00
Gray Squirrel Muff and Tie $12.50
Mixed Fox, bushy tails $12.50
And lots of others

Evening Coats

Rich affairs, for opera or street wear and dress occasions; tans, reds, blacks, blues, greens, browns, lavender, etc.; regular $35.00 to $125.00
ONE-THIRD OFF.

Friedman's Inc.

CLOAKS AND SUITS

1058 Washington St., Bet. 11th and 12th, Oakland

Stannetta

911 BROADWAY
Bet. 8th and 9th Sts.

One on Niles

Niles of the St. Louis team and Jimmy McAlister, the manager of that club, were both standing over near the St. Louis stand when the Browns were winning the last game from the Browns. Niles turned to the worried McAlister and said:

"Those Chicago clogs Jimmy, remind me of so many successful gamblers in what was?" McAlister asked Niles.

Because said Niles as he moved on toward the bench, they have such winning ways.

BERKELEY'S COURAGE CHEERED IN SEATTLE

CALIFORNIA TEAM LOSES, BUT PUTS UP PLUCKY GAME

Surprise Spectators by Playing Stronger in the Second Than in First Half and Win Crowd.

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 30.—Never in the history of interscholastic football on the Pacific Coast did a light team put up a more brilliant and plucky game than the Berkeley High School team against the Washington High School. But it was not possible for the California lads to win. The crowd saw it before the game was one-third over and from then to the end urged Berkeley on with cheers. The final score was 24 to 0 in favor of Washington. Although it sprinkled a trifle in the second half there was nothing to interfere with the fastest kind of football and that was what a crowd of between 4,000 and 5,000 saw. In the first half Seattle crossed the Berkeley goal line three times, and each goal was kicked. Sensational runs by Wee Coyle, the most famous quarterback on the Pacific now, combined with the magnificent interference on the part of Halfback Jay Smith was largely responsible for Seattle's scores. Although Hillis, left end, got the ball in the middle of the field on an outside kick and went through the entire Berkeley team for a touchdown. The most sensational play of the season came up in the second half and marked the end of the Berkeley interscholastic football. He took a punt almost under his own goal and getting away with a shot dodged and ducked his way the entire length of the field for Seattle's fourth and last touch. Berkeley came near scoring on Seattle in the first half, when Berkeley punted to Seattle's thirteen-yard line and recovered the ball on a fumble. Good yardage was made on the first down but on the third Berkeley tried to score on a forward pass. Coyle intercepted and although downed in his tracks saved the day for Seattle. It was remarkable that Berkeley played stronger in the second half than the first. They broke through the line several times and stopped plays back a line. At all times there was strong and accurate. Hartley, captain and quarter, played a great game for Berkeley, running his team well and saving his side from two touchdowns in the first half by getting his men when he had a clear field. Butler, fullback Bootz left end and Ince, left half, were also stars. Butler was the best ground gainer for Berkeley. His kicking was also above the average. Following is the lineup for today's game:

Seattle	Position	Berkeley
Chellis	Left End	Boone, M.
Henry	Left Tackle	Laing
O'Neill	Left Guard	Sinclair
Presley	Center	Watkins
Rogge	Right Guard	Schultz
McDonald	Right Tackle	Stevens
Evans	Clash Right Tackle	Munro
Mullen	Olds Right End	Morris
Coyle	Quarter (Cap)	Hartley
J. Smith (C)	Left Half	Ince
MacKay	P. S. Right Half	Kump
Wester	Fullback	Butler
Average weight, Seattle, 150; Berkeley, 155.

Marksmen Will Celebrate Today

The Shell Mound Pistol and Rifle Club will celebrate its sixth annual banquet, king shoot and distribution of prizes at Shell Mound Park this afternoon.

The Shell Mound Pistol and Rifle Club was organized on September 22, 1901, with thirty members. By their next meeting they had over fifty members, who took part at their first shoot on Sunday, October 27, 1901, which was held on the fifty-yard range with the 22-caliber rifle, as at that time very few members possessed the regulator, Scheutzen rifle, and for the benefit of the members who had never handled a rifle, the club used the large German twenty-five yard target that is used on the 200-yard range, so that the novice would not get discouraged in their first experience. The target was that the members made good scores and it felt that some day they would become fine shots. This practice was continued for the next two months and at the beginning of the second year, 1902, the members decided to have a king shoot. This was the first king shoot and the third class shot on the fifty yard range with the 22-caliber rifle.

The story of the Shell Mound Pistol and Rifle Club is quite remarkable in the story that it has developed from novices in the past six years. The members who had never handled a rifle at a target, before were now King Shooters and Henry Wobber, Wilson, a charter member of the club and now has an average of 220 and he has carried off the Siebe Championship medal two years in succession. This has joined the club in 1903 and is now shooting against R. J. Fraser.

Among pistol shots the club has some very clever marksmen, one of whom is Henry A. Harris. While in a pistol shoot of the European style entered the rifle and revolver matches of the National Rifle Association of England, held on the Blaisy range. He won the champion ship never before by an American citizen. He has also won several other valuable prizes and trophies.

At the Roundtable at Charleston, S. C., during an eight-day shoot, from the 8th to 14th, 1907, Herman Huber of the club shot against the best sharpshooters of the United States and made the best center on the point target. His center measured 32-100ths of an inch from the dead center, winning the first prize on this target.

The club celebrated its anniversary by giving a theater party at Idem Park on Monday evening, September 20, 1907. The club has many sharpshooters about the bay, and they responded royally, fully 1200 being present with their wives and friends. With the closing of this year's shoot, the contrast in shot scores during the very close. In the champion class R. J. Fraser has 2888 out of a possible 3500. He is high with the highest score ever made by any member of the Shell Mound Club. H. Wobber's seven best scores made during the year 1902, which was only 277. H. Wobber, a novice having only handled the rifle for four years, is but a few points behind R. J. Fraser with 2333. He also beat H. Huber's seven best scores in 1902.

In the first class pistol shooting H. Wobber leads with 1149 and 33 red flags. This is the fourth best in shot scores during the year. William A. Siebe is second with 1129 and 32 flags. H. Windmiller is third, with 1128 and 25 red flags. The shooting is very close, and today every man will be out for him and there will be some very interesting shooting.

EXPLODED PHENOMS.

Four short months ago Bill Squires, arose in its might and challenged the world in the Antipodes, "roared Bill." "Some of those blasted American blowhards will follow me over the top of the Antipodes, gathered strength as I crossed the wave-crested bosom of the sea. The blast threatened to wreck dearer than the damage wrought. Yankee pigs trembled when they heard chased on way tickets to the regions yonder. Bill followed. On the day he was awaited the shock; expected the confounding.

BILL CAME. He was a cheap-looking Had a purr'some all right, and talked easy and seeming understanding that all BILL SAW. He looked over the ramrod as easily when he met Jack O'Quaker. He looked at it disturbed when was ready to return to that dear old properties of Jim Jeffries.

BILL COX.—Bill was no Caesar. Burns, did the business. Bill tried again, ham-and-egger. Poor Bill!

One Game Remains In Billiard Tourney

The talk-line tournament at the Oakland Billiard parlor has reached the final point so far as called for by the schedule. With but one more game to be played, yet that one game may result in such manner as to necessitate a series of games to decide the winners.

Casselman has gone through the contest with five won and one lost, and had to defeat Pezet in their match next Tuesday to take first prize. Should Pezet win it, will create a tie between Casselman, Pezet and Bunker for first, second and third prize, while Leimert and Jones would have to play a tie for fourth and fifth. Pezet and Bunker played last night, and though starting out slowly, they finished the game in a sensational manner. Bunker was playing hard to win, making it possible for a tie, and thereby renewing his chance for first place, while Pezet wanted the game, and thus leave no chance to defeat. They succeeded in gaining a tie, on each other at different periods of play, but Pezet's favored Bunker somewhat in the final, the balls in different angles for Pezet at the crucial point, winning by a score of 125 to Pezet's 121.

Monday night Bunker won from Birmingham by another close score of 125 to 123. Tuesday's game between Casselman and Leimert was won by Casselman, 125 to 110, and also ended Leimert's chances for the coveted honor.

STANDING OF THE PLAYERS.
	Won. Lost.
Casselman	5 1
Bunker	5 1
Pezet	4 2
Jones	4 2
Leimert	4 2
Birmingham	3 3
Slater	2 5
Nelson	0 6
Forfeited	3

Oakland will soon have the finest billiard parlor on the coast, an old saying, but this time a truthful one. The Oakland Billiard parlor has been overhauled to accommodate their customers almost from the day it was opened, and while realizing some few inconveniences, were unable to close the same for lack of space. They have recently acquired the lease of two large floors at 413 Thirteenth street, adjoining the Saddle Rock, and are fitting same up in a sumptuous manner. The first floor will be devoted to billiards, and will cater to the best, excluding all disagreeable features common to the average billiard hall. The seating arrangement excels any heretofore seen and will give the spectators a perfect view at all times, as well as preventing the annoyance customary to players. The very best Brunswick-Balke tables of the Pfister pattern, with finest ivory, cues and entire equipment that money will buy. The lighting arrangement will be as perfect as experts can devise. With the management assuming most courteous treatment, it is expected to be completed about December 15, and later on the upper floor will be fitted up as a poolroom on the same generous scale. The present location on Broadway will be kept as heretofore, but will be devoted more to pool than billiards, and the same careful attention given to all details. A good example of faith in Greater Oakland.

COFFROTH KNOWS HOW TO PLEASE FIGHT PUBLIC AND IS GREATEST OF PROMOTERS

Has Pulled Off Many Great Battles.

Was the Man Who Managed Corbett-Jeffries Fight, Which Drew Over $63,000.

By T. P. MAGILLIGAN.

Without the question of a doubt James W. Coffroth, the fight promoter, is one of the most interesting men in the world of sports today, and in his own field of endeavor he stands as superbly alone as would the Colossus of Rhodes in a land of pigmies.

In the fight-promoting game Jimmy has not the field by himself, but he is easily Napoleon of the managers, and there is no apparent Waterloo for him. After the last show that Coffroth gave, the twenty-five-round two-step, between Al Kaufman and "Jake" Sullivan, there was nothing but praise for the promoter. "You've got to give it to Coffroth," was the phrase that was on everybody's lips as they left the arena.

The writer heard this uttered so many times that he had to inquire just why we've got to give it to Coffroth, and he asked at least fifteen persons the reason. "Because Coffroth knows his business," That was the answer in every case.

The Mission arena promoter seems to have the public with him. What other promoter would have the nerve to take the chances that Coffroth has taken? Although his arena is not as convenient, as it might be, all Coffroth has to do is bill a fight and the crowd is sure to follow.

KNOWS HIS BUSINESS. And the answer to all this is that Coffroth knows how to handle the business he is in, and handle it in such a manner as to please the public, who seek boxing as a form of amusement.

And there is good reason for Coffroth being a leader among the boxing promoters. He knows men, he knows books, and he has been to take up any other field of endeavor there is little doubt that he would have been a leader in it.

Coffroth has brains, and that much cannot be said for all the men who promote boxing.

If you were to talk to the ordinary boxing promoter for an hour or two you would find that his knowledge was confined solely to the little circle in which he moves. Not so with Coffroth. There is hardly a subject upon which he cannot talk intelligently and with force. And why should this be? It comes naturally by Jimmy to have brains. His father was within the memory of the present generation one of the brightest legal lights in California.

Like his father, Jimmy had legal training, and he studied law, but was never admitted to the bar. Right now, however, Coffroth knows more of legal lore than many a lawyer who has a lucrative practice.

YOUNG OLD MAN.

Coffroth is what one might call the antithesis of Billy Jordan, who is the old young man of sport. He is the old young man of sport. In years, but in experience, skill and ability to handle affairs.

There are just as good fighters today as there were ten years ago, of course, I mean in the average. Topnotchers are topnotchers now then, and this rule will always prevail. Coffroth's ambition has always been to hold his own in the ring. For years he has been on a hunt for an opponent for Jeffries, and Jeffries has stated that Coffroth is the only man he would fight.

Coffroth handled all of the big fights that Jeffries had in San Francisco in late years. Jimmy managed the Jeffries-Rubbin, Jeffries-Monroe fights. The last of these fights was the last public appearance of Jeffries and after that battle he practically retired from the ring.

Coffroth, however, kept after Jeffries, and got the latter to consent to meet any foreigner who might appear to be dangerous enough to take the championship out of American. With this in view Coffroth scoured the world and finally lit upon Bill Squires of Australia. Jeffries told Coffroth that if he would match him with the winner of the famous fiasco between O'Brien and Burns and he beat him, he would fight Squires. But poor! Poor Squires turned out to be a mutt.

COFFROTH STAR ATTRACTION. Jimmy has the distinction of having promoted the fight that drew the second biggest purse in the history of the ring. This was the fight between Jim Jeffries and Jim Corbett and it drew $63,340. It is claimed that the Jeffries-Sharkey fight in New York City drew something over $66,000, but this has never been authenticated. More people saw the Corbett-Jeffries fight than ever witnessed any other fight, no less than 10,000 turning out to see that battle. The prices of the Jeffries-Sharkey show were from $5 to $35, while Coffroth only charged from $5 to $20 admission to the Jeffries-Corbett fight.

Strangely enough the first fight that Coffroth pulled off and the last drew just the same amount, approximately $3500. Of course, we would not have the reader understand when we say the last that it is the last that Jimmy will pull off. That would be a calamity to the game for he is the man more than any other that makes pugilism prominent. He knows how, and there's a lot in the knowing how.

George McFadden and Dal Hawkins were the first pair of scrappers that Coffroth staged. That was in 1901. The same year Coffroth introduced Terry McGovern to the sporting public of San Francisco in a bout with Oscar Gardner. McGovern on that occasion knocked Gardner out. McGovern showed later in the same year against Herrera, and had that yellow streak been game he could have knocked McGovern out.

In 1902 Coffroth backed the Toomeville Valley Athletic Club, which flourished for three years. This club pulled off nearly all the important fights of its day. It was while he was the promoter of this club that Coffroth pulled off the famous fight between Jeffries and Fitzsimmons.

Nearly all the men who have followed boxing for the last fifteen years hold that the present generation of fighters have gone back. Coffroth does not think so, and while he says there were a few stars ten years ago who overmatched some of the present day champions, he holds that the average fighter of today is as good as the average fighter of the good old days.

And there is good reason for Coffroth being a leader among the boxing promoters. He knows men, he knows books, and he has been to take up any other field of endeavor there is little doubt that he would have been a leader in it.

Coffroth has brains, and that much cannot be said for all the men who promote boxing. If you were to talk to the ordinary boxing promoter for an hour or two you would find that his knowledge was confined solely to the little circle in which he moves. Not so with Coffroth. There is hardly a subject upon which he cannot talk intelligently and with force. And why should this be? It comes naturally by Jimmy to have brains. His father was within the memory of the present generation one of the brightest legal lights in California. Like his father, Jimmy had legal training, and he studied law, but was never admitted to the bar. Right now, however, Coffroth knows more of legal lore than many a lawyer who has a lucrative practice.

JAMES W. COFFROTH, THE NAPOLEON OF THE FIGHT PROMOTERS.

as the average fighter of the good old days.

JAMES N. IS MODERN. "Take Gans and Atell," said Coffroth. "They are the best in thirty years today, and were there any better men ten years ago?"

"When you get one fighter who stands prominently above the others there is sure to be a full lot in the production of good fighters."

There are just as good fighters today as there were ten years ago, of course, I mean in the average. Topnotchers are topnotchers now then, and this rule will always prevail. Coffroth's ambition has always been to hold his own in the ring. For years he has been on a hunt for an opponent for Jeffries, and Jeffries has stated that Coffroth is the only man he would fight.

Coffroth handled all of the big fights that Jeffries had in San Francisco in late years. Jimmy managed the Jeffries-Rubbin, Jeffries-Monroe fights. The last of these fights was the last public appearance of Jeffries and after that battle he practically retired from the ring.

Coffroth, however, kept after Jeffries, and got the latter to consent to meet any foreigner who might appear to be dangerous enough to take the championship out of American. With this in view Coffroth scoured the world and finally lit upon Bill Squires of Australia. Jeffries told Coffroth that if he would match him with the winner of the famous fiasco between O'Brien and Burns and he beat him, he would fight Squires. But poor! Poor Squires turned out to be a mutt.

COFFROTH STAR ATTRACTION. Jimmy has the distinction of having promoted the fight that drew the second biggest purse in the history of the ring. This was the fight between Jim Jeffries and Jim Corbett and it drew $63,340. It is claimed that the Jeffries-Sharkey fight in New York City drew something over $66,000, but this has never been authenticated. More people saw the Corbett-Jeffries fight than ever witnessed any other fight, no less than 10,000 turning out to see that battle. The prices of the Jeffries-Sharkey show were from $5 to $35, while Coffroth only charged from $5 to $20 admission to the Jeffries-Corbett fight.

Strangely enough the first fight that Coffroth pulled off and the last drew just the same amount, approximately $3500. Of course, we would not have the reader understand when we say the last that it is the last that Jimmy will pull off. That would be a calamity to the game for he is the man more than any other that makes pugilism prominent. He knows how, and there's a lot in the knowing how.

George McFadden and Dal Hawkins were the first pair of scrappers that Coffroth staged. That was in 1901. The same year Coffroth introduced Terry McGovern to the sporting public of San Francisco in a bout with Oscar Gardner. McGovern on that occasion knocked Gardner out. McGovern showed later in the same year against Herrera, and had that yellow streak been game he could have knocked McGovern out.

In 1902 Coffroth backed the Toomeville Valley Athletic Club, which flourished for three years. This club pulled off nearly all the important fights of its day. It was while he was the promoter of this club that Coffroth pulled off the famous fight between Jeffries and Fitzsimmons.

Nearly all the men who have followed boxing for the last fifteen years hold that the present generation of fighters have gone back. Coffroth does not think so, and while he says there were a few stars ten years ago who overmatched some of the present day champions, he holds that the average fighter of today is as good as the average fighter of the good old days.

And there is good reason for Coffroth being a leader among the boxing promoters. He knows men, he knows books, and he has been to take up any other field of endeavor there is little doubt that he would have been a leader in it.

Coffroth has brains, and that much cannot be said for all the men who promote boxing. If you were to talk to the ordinary boxing promoter for an hour or two you would find that his knowledge was confined solely to the little circle in which he moves. Not so with Coffroth. There is hardly a subject upon which he cannot talk intelligently and with force. And why should this be? It comes naturally by Jimmy to have brains. His father was within the memory of the present generation one of the brightest legal lights in California. Like his father, Jimmy had legal training, and he studied law, but was never admitted to the bar. Right now, however, Coffroth knows more of legal lore than many a lawyer who has a lucrative practice.

The players and first week's schedule for the inter-city three-cushion tourney are ready and the first game will be held at Kear's Twelfth-street billiard hall Monday night, December 2, at 8:30 o'clock. The contestants who will oppose each other will be Lehman and Klier, representing Oakland, against Cates and Baker from San Francisco. The game will consist of forty points. National tournament rules governing, and Mr. Waugh will referee.

This tourney will probably be the start of very interesting events in the line of billiards during the winter. Oakland is the possessor of a world of talent, talent that only awaits an opportunity to be brought out. Tourneys are calculated to show the possibilities of the game and awaken a certain ambition in billiards. There is no particular reason why Oakland should not have as many experts in billiards as any other city of comparative size. However, we are woefully lacking and we must develop it. We have the talent and these tourneys will probably bring it out and develop it. As it is, Oakland's chances in the coming season are the best. We can put equally as good class B three-cushion talent in the game as San Francisco and that is all we can wish for. Our players also have had large tournament experience and quite recently at that. All this should help bring home the bacon.

Oakland's entries. S. F. entries. Lehman, Cates, Klier, Baker, Schumway, Howe, Harris, Davis, Harris, Goldenstein, Harbut, Skolins, Harbut and Squire will journey to San Francisco on Tuesday night to battle with Howe and Davis. The Frisco games will be pulled off at the Edgemoor Hall, on Fillmore street. All the inland games at Kear's, on Twelfth street.

The following month of the same year Coffroth's club did not get the permit, and Coffroth had the Young Corbett-McGovern fight on his hands. Levy had the permit, and the wily Coffroth showed Maurice where he could make a bunch of money if he allowed him to have the permit. Levy agreed and made the bunch of money, and he said for Mr. Coffroth that he had nothing on this fight. There was a $25,000 gate, and Levy got a percentage of this.

It was in August of 1903 that Coffroth drew the greatest house he has ever drawn and the Corbett-Jeffries fight was the magnet. And if one remembers that the Neil and Forbes fight was held the previous night it will be seen that the pain for pulling the largest house that ever saw a fight must be given to Coffroth, for the little fellows merely fought a preliminary to the big event. Coffroth handled the big crowd of 10,000 that saw the Corbett-Jeffries fight with great skill the same as he has always handled crowds. About this time there were quite a few fighters, who were too big to be night-dewlighters and too little to fight the real big fellows, so Coffroth conceived the idea of forming a new class and the light heavyweight division was given birth and was fathered by him.

He pulled off the Fitzsimmons-Gardner contest, and they drew $13,500. In 1904 Coffroth worked up a match between Britt and Young Corbett, but other promoters bid 77 1/2 per cent for the match and Coffroth lost it after spending two weeks of hard labor in framing it.

A BATCH OF YARNS THAT WILL INTEREST BALL FANS

One day last summer Manager Cantillon, of Washington, stamped about the National baseball park and said some things because Jim Delehanty hadn't shown up.

A few days before Jim hadn't appeared because it had drizzled all that day, and he thought there wouldn't be any game. He had betaken himself to bed, and when he awoke from his trip into slumberland the shades of night were falling fast.

Cantillon had this former escapee of Jim in his mind, and as he walked up and down the ball yard he was thinking thoughts that no Sunday school cherub in the front row would have any business meddling with.

Just at the moment that Cantillon had given Delehanty up, the young lecher came in on a run. Cantillon hailed him and inquired as to the whereabouts of the snail-like proceeding on his part about reporting at the ball park.

"Why, I tell you, glibly explained Jim, 'you see this watch of mine went to the bad, and I thought it was correct in every particular; but you bet I won't put so much dependence in it in the future,' exclaimed Delehanty as he started for the clubhouse.

"Dependence!" snorted Cantillon, "what you want to put in it is works."

Baseball players have many varied experiences in boarding-houses. Get some Bill player to talk on this subject, and one may be sure that he will hear some mighty interesting reminiscences.

One day last spring Charley Hickman and a crowd of the Washington boys were swapping tales as to their experiences in boarding-houses.

Several of the boys told about how they had been treated in various cities where they had played ball, when Charley Hickman shifting his wad of gum to the other side of the bench, took a lick in his trousers and said:

"You fellows talk about having been up against cinchy propositions in the boarding-house line. Why, I bet you wouldn't know a real cinch thing in the boarding-house keeping line if you were to meet it coming down the street."

"Maybe you'd be wise to sit, Happy," cried Case Patten with a grin. "And why shouldn't you be?" snorted Hick. "Why, I boarded in a house one time in New York where the woman who ran the joint was so mean that she wouldn't even buy a ball to ring at meal time."

"Well, how would you know when to come to the table?" inquired young Shipley.

"Why," said Hick, as he edged away from the vicinity of Jack Warner, "the cook used to bring a dish towel."

The season before last when the irrepressible Tyrus Cobb was a new member of the Detroiters, and when he was in bad with the rest of the players, he was a moody individual, and as he was well about by himself he could not fail to hear some of the remarks that were made about him by certain of the other players.

Tyrus was barely 20 years old and had all the willfulness of a lad of that age, and this probably caused the friction. But Armour stood by Tyrus, and it was through his friendship for the young Southerner, so the story goes, that Bill lost his own job. But he has this as it may, Cobb is a rattling good fellow, but it took the Detroit bunch a couple of years to discover this fact.

At the time when Tyrus was doing a splendid stand, Bill Armour, meeting him out at the grounds one day, took particular notice of the fact that Cobb's shoes were somewhat turned up at the toes, which gave them a peculiar appearance and caused one to think that perhaps the best outfielder might be some human toes shy. So calling Tyrus over to him, Armour asked:

"What in the name of all creation is the matter with the toes of your shoes, Tyrus? They appear to be turned back."

"I guess," replied Cobb, as he looked glumly at the odd-appearing shoes, "that it must be because I have been kicking against hard luck so long."

Washington Post.

Inter-City Tourney Attracts Attention

(BY R. B. BRUNNER.) The players and first week's schedule for the inter-city three-cushion tourney are ready and the first game will be held at Kear's Twelfth-street billiard hall Monday night, December 2, at 8:30 o'clock. The contestants who will oppose each other will be Lehman and Klier, representing Oakland, against Cates and Baker from San Francisco. The game will consist of forty points. National tournament rules governing, and Mr. Waugh will referee.

This tourney will probably be the start of very interesting events in the line of billiards during the winter. Oakland is the possessor of a world of talent, talent that only awaits an opportunity to be brought out. Tourneys are calculated to show the possibilities of the game and awaken a certain ambition in billiards. There is no particular reason why Oakland should not have as many experts in billiards as any other city of comparative size. However, we are woefully lacking and we must develop it. We have the talent and these tourneys will probably bring it out and develop it. As it is, Oakland's chances in the coming season are the best. We can put equally as good class B three-cushion talent in the game as San Francisco and that is all we can wish for. Our players also have had large tournament experience and quite recently at that. All this should help bring home the bacon.

Oakland's entries. S. F. entries. Lehman, Cates, Klier, Baker, Schumway, Howe, Harris, Davis, Harris, Goldenstein, Harbut, Skolins, Harbut and Squire will journey to San Francisco on Tuesday night to battle with Howe and Davis. The Frisco games will be pulled off at the Edgemoor Hall, on Fillmore street. All the inland games at Kear's, on Twelfth street.

The following month of the same year Coffroth's club did not get the permit, and Coffroth had the Young Corbett-McGovern fight on his hands. Levy had the permit, and the wily Coffroth showed Maurice where he could make a bunch of money if he allowed him to have the permit. Levy agreed and made the bunch of money, and he said for Mr. Coffroth that he had nothing on this fight. There was a $25,000 gate, and Levy got a percentage of this.

It was in August of 1903 that Coffroth drew the greatest house he has ever drawn and the Corbett-Jeffries fight was the magnet. And if one remembers that the Neil and Forbes fight was held the previous night it will be seen that the pain for pulling the largest house that ever saw a fight must be given to Coffroth, for the little fellows merely fought a preliminary to the big event. Coffroth handled the big crowd of 10,000 that saw the Corbett-Jeffries fight with great skill the same as he has always handled crowds. About this time there were quite a few fighters, who were too big to be night-dewlighters and too little to fight the real big fellows, so Coffroth conceived the idea of forming a new class and the light heavyweight division was given birth and was fathered by him.

He pulled off the Fitzsimmons-Gardner contest, and they drew $13,500. In 1904 Coffroth worked up a match between Britt and Young Corbett, but other promoters bid 77 1/2 per cent for the match and Coffroth lost it after spending two weeks of hard labor in framing it.

It was the loss of the match, which, to a certain extent, made Coffroth look for new field besides San Francisco, and Colma was placed on the map, and right now is a much better advertised town than many cities of 100,000 or more population.

The first match that Coffroth pulled off at Colma was the Dixie Kid and Walcott. This match is famous from the fact that Duck Sullivan rendered a decision that has stood on record since that time as a "pip."

After the mill was pretty nearly over the crowd kept yelling for the Dixie Kid, and "Duck" lost his head and gave the match to the Dixie Kid and a foul, although Walcott had never hit him lower than his heart.

With the idea of finding an opponent in his mind, Coffroth concluded to lock the field of heavies over. At this time Jack Johnson and Sam McVey were the best

All Stars Defeat Stockton Champs

ALAMEDA, Nov. 30.—The All Stars, working under the name of the Alameda team and being a miscellaneous aggregation of State and Coast League players, won from the Stockton champs of the State League at Recreation Park this afternoon. The score was 3 to 2. Campbell started to twirl for Stockton and was touched for two hits, which netted as many runs in the first inning arrived in the second and stopped the slaughter, the Alamedans getting but one more tally. Stockton got two in the first, but after that Spider Baum blanked them, and they got but two hits in all.

Connie Mack was a spectator at the game and watched Krause and Melitte. Jimmy had lost his eye, however, and did not get a hit. The same teams play tomorrow afternoon, with Cates and Henderson in the box.

100

THE TRIBUNE'S SPECIAL CABLE SERVICE

GERMANY IS FEELING REACTION

Business Slumps In All Lines Save Automobiles.

HARDIN LOSES ONE WITNESS

(BY MALCOLM CLARKE.)

BERLIN, Nov. 30.—Hard times are beginning to make themselves felt in Germany, and it is evident that the short era of prosperity is over.

All industrial securities are sinking and there has been a considerable decrease in the earnings of nearly all railroads. The advocates of free silver are making the most of this and have begun a strong campaign in favor of the white metal, claiming that the supply of gold is insufficient.

The export manufacturing industry is especially hurt, and the fall in American cotton prices adds to the general feeling of despondency.

The only industry which flourishes is the automobile industry, which is increasing. Manufacturers are preparing a large international exposition in this city, where they will show electric automobiles and to be exhibited for the first time.

HARDIN IS MISSING.

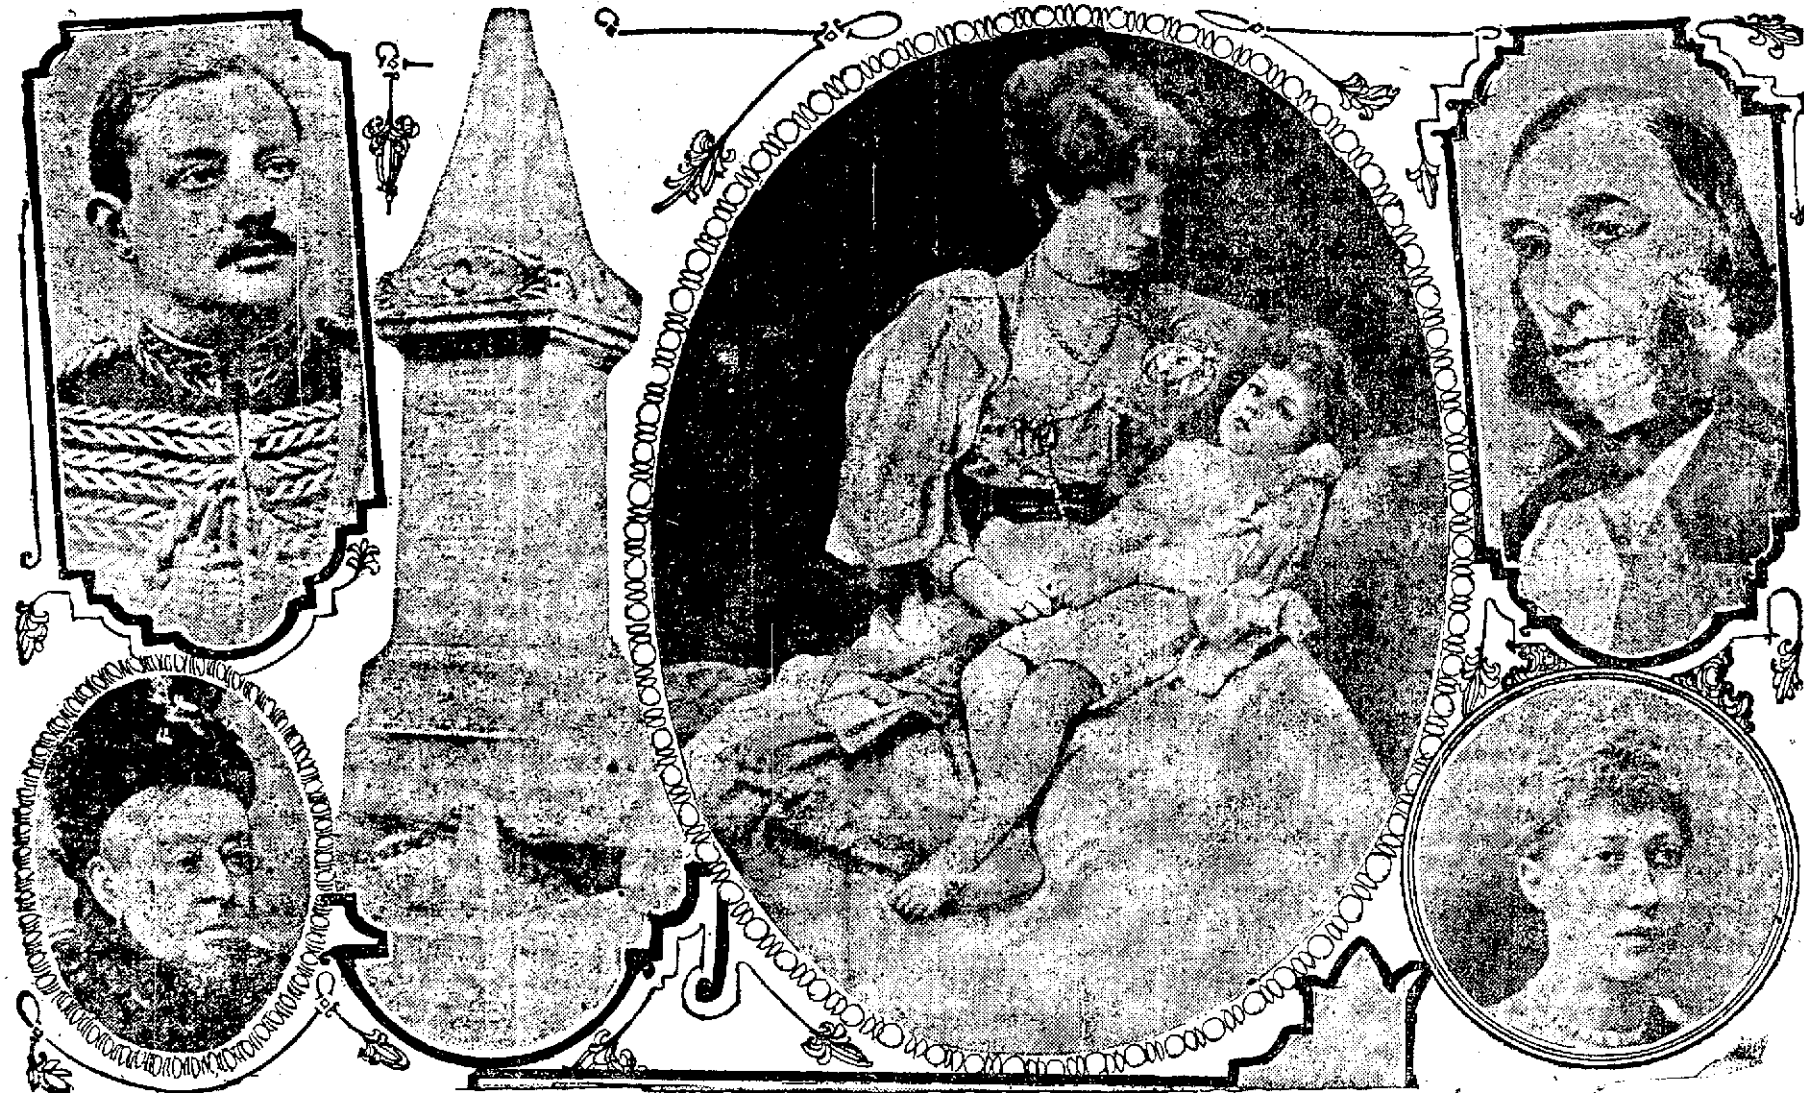

The disappearance of the former non-commissioned officer, Hollander, of the Champs-Élysées, is causing the friends of the Duke of Portland no little anxiety.

Hollander was one of the principal witnesses in the recent Malke-Hardin case and gave important testimony concerning the Duke of Portland at Portland.

The police are anxiously looking for Hollander everywhere, but their eagerness to find him is thought to be nothing but a bluff, and the general opinion is that the authorities are well aware of his whereabouts.

Hollander, it found, is to testify for the defense in the case which the public prosecutor is preparing against the Duke of the Zunkun.

Chief Actors in Great Druce Mystery Which Involves Title To $500,000,000 Estate of Duke of Portland

FIGURES IN THE GREAT DRUCE MYSTERY, WHICH NOW HOLDS ENGLAND ENTHRALLED AND HAS EXCITED THE INTEREST OF THE ENTIRE WORLD. STORY OF THE MYSTERY IS WELL KNOWN. MRS. DRUCE, WHO CLAIMS TO BE THE WIFE OF THE FIFTH DUKE OF PORTLAND, ALLEGES THAT THE ECCENTRIC STRANGE OLD NOBLEMAN LED A DUAL LIFE, AND THAT SHE HAS A RIGHT FOR CLAIM FOR RECOGNITION AS HIS WIDOW. ON THE LEFT IS THE PRESENT DUKE OF PORTLAND, WHO IS COMPELLED TO FIGHT FOR WHAT HE BELIEVES IS HIS INHERITANCE. IN THE CENTER IS THE PRESENT DUCHESS OF PORTLAND. ON THE RIGHT IS THE OLD DUKE OF PORTLAND, WHO IS SAID TO HAVE LED A DUAL LIFE AND DISAPPEARED AFTER REMORSE OVER A FRATRICIDE HE HAD COMMITTED, FASTENED ON HIS HEART. ON THE LOWER LEFT IS THE LATE QUEEN VICTORIA, WHOSE DAUGHTER, THE PRINCESS LOUISE, THE PRESENT DUKE OF PORTLAND WANTED TO MARRY. HE WAS THE MOST ELIGIBLE MAN IN THE KINGDOM, BUT THE HAND OF THE PRINCESS WAS REFUSED HIM, BECAUSE, AS QUEEN VICTORIA SAID, SOME DAY HIS TITLE TO HIS ESTATE MIGHT BE QUESTIONED. ON THE LOWER RIGHT IS LOUISE, NOW THE DUCHESS OF FIFE. INSET, IS THE DRUCE MONUMENT, UNDER WHICH THE WITNESS SAYS, LIES, NOT THE REMAINS OF THE OLD DUKE OF PORTLAND, BUT A CASKET CONTAINING THE WEIGHT OF A MAN IN BRASS AND LEAD. HE DECLARES HE PLACED THEM THERE. NO EXCAVATION WILL BE PERMITTED AND THE MYSTERY IS AS DARK AS EVER.

80,000 Seeking Public Places

(BY PAUL VILLIERS.)

PARIS, Nov. 30.—The highest ambition of French youth is well known to be the obtaining of a snug little position under the Government. It means respectability, not too much work, a regular salary, and a pension after thirty years.

These facts will account for the news that the Paris municipality is so overcrowded with applications for official employment that it has just taken remarkable measures to restrict the rush. At the present time there are no fewer than 80,000 names on the lists of approved and accepted candidates for positions in the public service as soon as and when vacancies occur.

It is calculated roughly that it would take seventy years to find positions for all these people, many of whom are very serious candidates, and others in authority. Nor has the crowd of applicants ceased.

The list increases daily, and in view of this state of affairs the Municipal Council has decided to close the list and absolutely accept no more names until 1910.

QUEEN REWARDS SHEPHERD. A French shepherd has had the honor of receiving a charming letter, with a good-sized check, from Queen Margherita of Italy.

One day last September the Queen arrived at a small town in the mountains, and at the hotel it was noticed that a beautiful mangle trimmed with cowbells was missing.

Efforts were made by the local authorities to find it, but in vain. When the Queen had left a shepherd named Kraken brought the mangle to the police, saying he had found it on the roadside, and the Queen was informed of its recovery after her return to Italy. The shepherd is the father of twelve children and is expecting a thirteenth.

SHOWMAN'S WIDOW IS FRIEND OF EUGENIE

PARIS, Nov. 30.—Baroness d'Alexandry is going to Cape Martin to spend some time with ex-Empress Eugenie. The Empress has a great fondness for P. T. Barnum's widow, who a few years ago married Baron d'Alexandry.

The Baroness is a woman of intellect and independence of character, and has remained an unsolvable problem to her second husband. Indeed, the Baron has so far relinquished hope of understanding his imperative consort that they live separate lives.

The Baroness has been much with Mr. and Mrs. D. Thompson, who are stopping at the Astoria, where they will remain until after Christmas. The Thompsons came from Bridgeport, Conn., and their grand-daughter is the godchild of the former Mrs. Barnum.

YOUNG DUCHESS IS ADMIRER IN PARIS

PARIS, Nov. 30.—The Duchess of Torlonia, daughter of the millionaire American hardware king, Charles Moore, is in Paris with her husband, Don Matteo Torlonia. The Duchess is attracting great attention at the theaters by her girlish beauty. She is tall and willowy, with nature's color in her cheeks. She and the Duke apparently are most devoted. In this instance, it is said, millions came second in love, and Don Matteo's own fortune was sufficient to permit him to indulge his heart in the matter of his marriage.

Courtesy (served) de Silva, another American, has gone to Switzerland for her health. She was Miss Ostron of New York. Her husband, formerly Portuguese Minister at Brussels, has retired from the diplomatic service.

MRS. KIPPLE WINS FAVOR WITH QUEEN ALEXANDRA

English Hunting Season Is on, But Accidents Make Devotees of Sport Fearful.

(BY PAUL LAMBETH.)

(Special Cable to The Tribune.) LONDON, Nov. 30.—On the occasion of her third visit to Sandringham, the Hon. Mrs. George Kipple, who was accompanied by her husband, spent all before her. Her first visit to the King's Norfolk home was marked by a great success on the part of Queen Alexandra. Her second visit was far more pleasant, and on the third excursion the Queen completely succumbed to Mrs. Kipple's charms. It was the Queen who took Mrs. Kipple alone through the dunes, the farms and the kennels and it was noticed that the Queen laughed almost as heartily at Mrs. Kipple's jokes as she invariably does at those of M. de Soveral, the Portuguese Minister.

Mrs. Kipple had a wonderfully distinct way of speaking, and her majesty, who is deeper than ever, manages to catch all the entertaining lady's stories, which are always new and up to date, but never ill-natured.

It was really a most informal and jolly house party. The Duchess of Westminster, always in high spirits, was seen one day clad in vivid crimson playing spades with little Prince Claf, the spoiled child of the party, and Lord Rosebery enlivened the men after dinner with his witty anecdotes.

There is general surprise in theatrical circles that Earl Bessborough has given the "cold shoulder" and passed over in favor of John Hare, who was knighted on the King's birthday.

Sir John Hare is, it is generally admitted, one of the most polished actors in this country, but he has done nothing for the British stage, while Mr. Tree has worked unceasingly to raise its tone by presenting Shakespearean plays as they never were produced before.

WERE ALL TOGETHER. By an almost pathetic coincidence John Hare, Charles Santley, the veteran singer, and Mr. Tree were all staying at the same hotel in Manchester when the news came that the King had been pleased to confer knighthood on Hare and Santley. The actor and singer were both completely surprised and equally delighted.

Mr. Tree was chatting with them when the news came, and he at once congratulated both his friends warmly. If he felt any emotion he managed to conceal it, but he retired early to bed that night.

It is well known that Mr. Tree is not one of the King's favorite actors, but recommendations for honors are made for the place by the government and all Mr. Tree's friends are surprised the present cabinet should have overlooked him.

The English hunting season has started with such an unusually large proportion of accidents that there is a marked tendency to "pull the rein."

One peer has been killed outright, while half a dozen wearers of the strawberries are laid up with broken collar bones, lags and arms.

Nor have the unfortunate ones been novices following the hounds. On the contrary, most of the injured are the masters of their own hunt, which emphasizes the elements of chance that attends most runs.

The result has been that recent meets have been poorly attended. Panic obviously reigns. Men and women whose unswerving attendance had secured for them the nickname of "figureheads," have sought the most trivial of excuses to absent themselves from the run and instead have turned their attentions to the sun.

Stories are strangely full, and the old "runners-up" and kennel-men shake their heads ominously, if a little contemptuously, for in their vocabulary an accident gives a piquancy to the sport otherwise unobtainable.

Meanwhile the birds are having a bad time of it, and this state of things is likely to continue until one or two gun accidents occur. Then hunting will become popular again.

INFORMAL AND JOLLY.

It was really a most informal and jolly house party. The Duchess of Westminster, always in high spirits, was seen one day clad in vivid crimson playing spades with little Prince Claf, the spoiled child of the party, and Lord Rosebery enlivened the men after dinner with his witty anecdotes.

There is general surprise in theatrical circles that Earl Bessborough has given the "cold shoulder" and passed over in favor of John Hare, who was knighted on the King's birthday.

Sir John Hare is, it is generally admitted, one of the most polished actors in this country, but he has done nothing for the British stage, while Mr. Tree has worked unceasingly to raise its tone by presenting Shakespearean plays as they never were produced before.

WERE ALL TOGETHER. By an almost pathetic coincidence John Hare, Charles Santley, the veteran singer, and Mr. Tree were all staying at the same hotel in Manchester when the news came that the King had been pleased to confer knighthood on Hare and Santley. The actor and singer were both completely surprised and equally delighted.

Mr. Tree was chatting with them when the news came, and he at once congratulated both his friends warmly. If he felt any emotion he managed to conceal it, but he retired early to bed that night.

It is well known that Mr. Tree is not one of the King's favorite actors, but recommendations for honors are made for the place by the government and all Mr. Tree's friends are surprised the present cabinet should have overlooked him.

The English hunting season has started with such an unusually large proportion of accidents that there is a marked tendency to "pull the rein."

One peer has been killed outright, while half a dozen wearers of the strawberries are laid up with broken collar bones, lags and arms.

Nor have the unfortunate ones been novices following the hounds. On the contrary, most of the injured are the masters of their own hunt, which emphasizes the elements of chance that at-

INSTITUTE OF FRANCE TO ADD 2 FOREIGNERS

(Special Cable to The Tribune.)

PARIS, Nov. 30.—The foreign members of the Institute of France are to be increased by two, there being two vacancies to be filled—that of Sir Alma-Tadema at the Fine Arts Academy, and that of President Calve at the Academy of Moral Sciences.

There are only two American members of the French Institute—Professors Newcomb and Agassiz. The largest number of foreign members are English, these including Lord Kelvin, Lord Lister, the Sciences Department; Professor Stokes, Inscriptions; Lord Rsa and Mr. Bryce, Moral Sciences; Herkimer and Orchardson, Fine Arts.

Mr. Sargent is also foreign member in the Fine Arts section, being registered as an Englishman, but in view of the recent finding of the London revising baristers' court he ought perhaps to be put down as an American.

Italy and Germany are well represented, while among other corresponding members of the Institute are Austrians, Swiss, Belgians, Spaniards, Dutch, Russians and Norwegians.

MRS. WIGGS' CABBAGE PATCH MAKES HIT IN LONDON

George Bernard Shaw Creates Dress Reform in England--To Issue Victoria Letters.

(BY LADY HENRY SOMERSET.)

LONDON, Nov. 30.—No play of recent years has been received with more affectionate enthusiasm than "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch." Last week fifteen hundred Mrs. Wiggses were to be found in the Adelphi Theater on the occasion of the two hundredth performance, when Mrs. Madge Carr Cook invited fifteen hundred laundresses in London to enjoy the story of their prototype. The play was received by these critics with the most heartfelt enthusiasm.

The solid foundations upon which the dress of men has hitherto been built are being seriously threatened. Life, we are told, has lost its picturesqueness since men, from the Prime Minister to the humblest clerk, don precisely the same costume.

DRESS REFORM. The artist and the literary man, the hairdresser and the shop walker are all clothed exactly alike. They have given up any outward and visible sign of their calling or their profession. One man alone stands as the prominent exception: George Bernard Shaw appeared before the curtain on the first night of his play clad in a yellow suit of jagged wool and a dented shirt. He was careful to explain to the press that his socks had a separate compartment for each toe. If Mr. Shaw has done nothing else he has at any rate bravely blazed the way for a new departure in the dress of man. Indeed, had Mr. Shaw been clad like other mortals, if he had worn a silk hat and frock coat, it is probable that many of the admirers of his plays would not have been so ardent to say that the genius was uncommon, nor would they have sooted a belief in the courage of the man who can turn almost all things under the sun into ridicule. Years ago Mr. Shaw used to be called the "Wolf in Jaeger Clothing." The world has certainly had occasion to know something of the fang which can snap at its follies and devour its hypocrisies. It is undoubtedly the pioneer of a new school in dramatic art, but it is quite an open question whether he will be equally successful in promoting the sensible and health-giving clothing which he has the sagacity to wear.

VICTORIA'S LETTERS. No book of recent years will prove more valuable from the historic standpoint than the letters of Queen Victoria, which have just been published. It would be hard to understate the difficulty of the situation to which the young girl queen succeeded. The ignoble monarchs, George IV. and William IV. had degraded the English court, but this woman not only ruled it, but as Lord Rosebery has recently said, "bequeathed it to her son bright with the lustre of an imperishable renown." The public enthusiasm which surrounded the girl who stood the prominent figure of a great people was finally described by him when he said, speaking of her accession, "Then, at that time, the child, the darling of her people, who lived to become their venerated mother." The book is of such historic value, not only to the people of this country, but to the whole English-speaking world, that I shall hope to deal in a subsequent letter with the work, and with the impression it has produced here.

The worst that could be dreaded by its enemies with regard to woman suffrage has come in Holland, and the terrible prophecies which have been so often made by those who oppose the political woman have been fulfilled in that country. The Government has submitted to Parliament a bill rendering it possible for the establishment of universal suffrage, votes for women, and the eligibility of women to sit in Parliament. Surely the movement has grown apace when this enterprising little nation can seriously entertain such a proposal.

Having lost everything after the death of her husband, she had to make a living for herself and her children, so she came to Berlin with the idea of becoming a chauffeuse, and she succeeded in spite of all the obstacles the police, who do not believe in female drivers, placed in her path.

She now drives an automobile cab and looks beautiful in the regulation uniform—blue coat and white cap—so it is safe to say that tips will be plentiful.

BERLIN, Nov. 30.—Berlin has its first chauffeuse, and like the first female cab driver in Paris, she belongs to the nobility.

The young lady, whose name is Frau Von Papp (nee Von Geroudy), belongs to a prominent Vienna family, and is the widow of a man who formerly was the owner of a large estate.

LOST EVERYTHING. Having lost everything after the death of her husband, she had to make a living for herself and her children, so she came to Berlin with the idea of becoming a chauffeuse, and she succeeded in spite of all the obstacles the police, who do not believe in female drivers, placed in her path.

She now drives an automobile cab and looks beautiful in the regulation uniform—blue coat and white cap—so it is safe to say that tips will be plentiful.

BERLIN, Nov. 30.—Berlin has its first chauffeuse, and like the first female cab driver in Paris, she belongs to the nobility.

The young lady, whose name is Frau Von Papp (nee Von Geroudy), belongs to a prominent Vienna family, and is the widow of a man who formerly was the owner of a large estate.

LOST EVERYTHING. Having lost everything after the death of her husband, she had to make a living for herself and her children, so she came to Berlin with the idea of becoming a chauffeuse, and she succeeded in spite of all the obstacles the police, who do not believe in female drivers, placed in her path.

She now drives an automobile cab and looks beautiful in the regulation uniform—blue coat and white cap—so it is safe to say that tips will be plentiful.

BOOM U. S. ELECTRIC RAILWAYS

Germans Admit They Are Superior But Reckless.

BERLIN ROADS TO ADOPT OUR IDEAS

(BY MALCOLM CLARKE.)

(Special Cable to The Tribune.) BERLIN, Nov. 30.—Technically America is way ahead of Germany as far as electric railroads are concerned, is the keynote of the official report made by the government commission which was sent to the United States to study the electric roads there and which returned some two weeks ago.

The report states that it is surprising to see the results reached in America with small means and praises the go-ahead spirit of the American engineers, though it says that it is occasionally coupled with recklessness which must be condemned, and which would never be condoned in Germany, where the safety and comfort of the public are much better looked after.

Herr Whitfield, a member of the commission, said in an interview:

USE MORE ELECTRICITY.

"The progress made in America since my previous visit to the United States is enormous. Not only are the American electric roads in the cities superior to any in this side, but electricity is used as the motive power on regular railroads to a far greater extent than here."

"It was particularly interesting to me to see that the practical Americans use alternating currents almost exclusively, while the direct current in use at the time I last visited such as Oregon, were quite a revelation."

"The American railroads are excellently built and the length of the lines, as well as the good service in thinly populated states such as Oregon, were Oregon, were quite a revelation."

The official report of the commission made to the Prussian Minister of Public Works Brestelbach suggests many improvements on the electric roads in Berlin based on American ideas.

Is 'Wirklicher Geheimrat' Now

BERLIN, Nov. 30.—Professor Robert Koch is "His Excellency" now. For valuable services rendered humanly and more especially for his discoveries as to the cause of the "sleeping sickness," which has devastated enormous areas in Africa, the Kaiser has conferred upon the famous scientist the title of "Wirklicher Geheimrat" (Privy Councillor).

Nearly a year ago Professor Koch took his life into his hands and went to the District in Africa where the sleeping sickness had proved most deadly. For eighteen months he lived alone with a native servant on an island in Lake Victoria Nyanza, the headquarters of which had nearly all died from the disease he came to study.

He discovered the germ of the disease, a bacillus which is transferred into the human blood by an insect gossamer palpal, much as yellow fever germs are brought into the human system by mosquitoes.

He furthermore discovered that this insect cannot exist except upon the blood of crocodiles, and by exterminating the crocodiles the mortal disease may be stamped out.

He found that injections of arsenic will cure the disease if not too advanced, and also that it is extremely contagious.

Although living in an ordinary hut such as used by the natives, the professor was never affected by his discovery. He intends to return to Africa next year and will then begin an organized fight against the sleeping sickness.

AMERICANS ARE RED INDIANS TO GERMANS

BERLIN, Nov. 30.—The Magedburg-Zeitung, one of the widely circulated journals in Germany, says:

"Herman Raster, a German-American, once rightly described Americans as 'decked-out Indians.' Since then they unquestionably have acquired some European civilization, but in mind and blood they are red Indians still."

"There are theaters enough, but such theaters! The audiences enjoy incredible (trivialities) splendidly mounted. That is all that is to be said."

"New York, with its half million Germans, should be better, but the Germans there have sunk to the American level."

"As in America society is ruled by women, theater-going is merely a social pleasure. The audience is only concerned about its own dress. The play is wholly a secondary consideration."

"There are some admirable concerts by foreign artists and New York has two opera houses, also provided with foreign artists. But the music season lasts only two or three months. Even in any second-rate German city there usually is good opera all the year round."

"In the smaller American state capitals one is immediately in the midst of Raster's red Indians. There you will find traveling companies that would be hired off any German stage."

"These are backwoods conditions impossible anywhere in the German empire, and Geraldine Farrar's praise of German musical life and her decision to remain with us are easily to be understood."

TAKES 9 LINES TO RECOUNT HIS CAREER

LONDON, Nov. 30.—On the Duke of Marlborough's thirty-sixth birthday the Daily Telegraph printed this:

"The Duke of Marlborough, K. G., to whom birthday congratulations fall this morning, was born at St. John, India, on November 12, 1871. During the first two years of the war in South Africa he served as aide-de-camp to Sir Ian Hamilton, was mentioned in dispatches and decorated with the Queen's medal and three clasps. His Grace was at the time and until 1902. Paymaster-General, and during the past six years has been a major in the Oxfordshire Imperial Yeomanry."

NEWS FROM ALL THE WORLD'S CAPITALS

WIFE OF ASTOR AT WINDSOR

Charms King Edward With Her Beauty and Art.

THAW'S SISTER LEARNS FENCING

LONDON, Nov. 30.—At court and in highest and most select circles intense admiration is being gained by Mrs. Waldorf Astor, formerly Mrs. Nannie Langhorne Shaw. High position in the social world of the world's metropolis is assured for this beautiful and charming woman.

Mrs. Astor was one of King Edward's especial guests at the theatricals given at Windsor Castle for the Emperor and Empress of Germany.

Her jewels did not pale before those of royalty and she wore them with the greatest distinction. Her gown, of palest yellow satin, was trimmed with lace worked with diamonds. Six rows of glorious pearls shone softly on her neck; on her forehead blazed the world-famous Sancy diamond, which her father-in-law gave her as a bridal present. She was presented to the Emperor and Empress. Lady Paget (who was Miss Stevens of New York) was a guest at the royal banquet at Windsor Castle. For the first time since her long illness she could walk without leaning on a stick. She was called to the royal group; Queen Alexandra presented her to the imperial guests, and the Emperor chatted with her for some time.

LEARNING TO FENCE.

The Countess of Yarmouth (who was Miss Thaw of Pittsburgh) is taking fencing lessons with a West End master. She attends the class with great regularity, and does a white cloth jacket and short black skirt, which incidentally, are exceedingly becoming. She fences well, although this is her first year of practice with the foil. She even goes shopping in a taxicab.

The Duchess of Marlborough, a particular friend of the Countess of Paris, the wife of Orleans mother, called from New York to the Duke offering to lend him her four automobiles, to use at the marriage of Prince Charles of Bourbon to Prince Louise of Orleans. The Duke accepted the offer gratefully and the automobiles, which had been stored in the Sunderland House garage, conveyed the guests between the Orleans estate—Wood Norton—and the railroad station at Evesham during the wedding festivities.

The Duchess of Marlborough consented that her younger son, Lord York-Churchill, should be page at the wedding of Lady Evelyn Innes-Ker, her distant cousin, to Major Collins. As page the little lord wore a suit of wine-colored satin, copied from a portrait of the great Duke of Marlborough when a boy which is in Blenheim Palace. All the American duchesses, except the Duke of Marlborough and the young Duchess of Manchester, who is in delicate health, were at the wedding.

Mrs. George Cornwallis-West made a

RECEIVED VERY ROYAL WELCOME BY SUBJECTS

THEIR IMPERIAL MAJESTIES THE KAISER AND KAISERIN ON THEIR WAY RECENTLY TO THE GUILDHALL. THEY MET WITH A VERY CORDIAL WELCOME FROM A LARGE CROWD, AND ON REACHING THE GUILDHALL WERE RECEIVED BY H. R. H. THE PRINCE OF WALES, THE DUKE AND DUCHESS OF CONAUGHT, THE LORD MAYOR AND SHERIFFS, AND A DISTINGUISHED COMPANY.

AMERICAN WOMEN AT LAST ABLE TO BUY THE PERFUME USED BY ENGLISH QUEEN

PARIS, Nov. 30.—At last American women have succeeded in purchasing Queen Alexandra's favorite perfume, known as the Ess Bouquet, a mysterious combination of rare essences, the secret of which has passed from father to son and been guarded more strictly than a state secret.

In using this odor Queen Alexandra followed in the footsteps of her royal mother-in-law, Queen Victoria, who kept it on her dressing table for seventy years.

SPENDS $20,000 YEARLY.

Among the sisterhood of crowned heads of the Czarina is the most prodigal in her expenditures for perfumes, paying about $20,000 a year for Paris scents, cosmetics, face washes, soaps and like articles. Her toilet table of solid silver with feet of malachite groans beneath its weight of costly bottles, often adorned with rare jewels.

With Queen Wilhelmina of Holland one perfume suffices. This is eau de Cologne, which she uses plentifully in her cold bath each morning, after testing it over a lamp to see if it is pure.

A few drops of Cologne on her handkerchief is enough for Queen Victoria of Spain, who believes in clear water and soap for the retaining of her pink and white beauty.

Duchess of Marlborough of Italy is fond of rare perfumes, though the Parma violet outranks all others in her estimation. The German Empress has a soap made especially for her. It has glycerine in it, and she is fond of recommending it to her friends if they wish to have "soft shoulders." Her perfumes are few, for Emperor William detests "smells."

DUC PAYS BIG SUM FOR TITLE

French Count Nearly Bankrupt Paying for 'Elevation.'

MOROCCO STILL FRENCH PUZZLE

(BY MARQUIS DE CASTELLANE.)

(Special Cable to The Tribune.)

PARIS, Nov. 30.—When one enters upon a consideration of the Moroccan affair one finds the question hangs upon two facts.

The first is that whatever happens and however she may be pushed, France will never start a campaign for conquest. The second is that this country has received from Europe the mission to organize the police of Morocco, or in other words, to deliver this great empire from bandits and robbers.

Now France cannot fulfill this important mission except by holding strong positions in the country, which gives the air of making conquests. Hence the convention of Algeiras, which made us the deputy of Europe in Morocco, is henceforth of no avail, and this is what our diplomats are shortly going to inform the concert of Europe.

RECOGNIZE RIGHT.

Either she will say, "You must recognize our right to penetrate into the Moroccan empire or we shall have to give up the task with which you have entrusted us." And as it is a certainty that no power will recognize our right to conquer, the convention of Algeiras will have to sit to settle the Morocco question.

Then France, who will have recovered from the silly enterprises born of the vagrant imagination of M. Delcasse, will withdraw again into her shell while Europe looks on in astonishment. We shall simply return home again, after having made a somewhat daring and costly expedition to the African coast. And our people will be warned to try no more adventures on these inhospitable shores.

After this, if Frenchmen persist in trading with the Moroccans and are badly treated, they will simply burn Rabat and Casablanca and even Tangiers, if necessary.

BUYS TITLE.

One of the subjects which is most occupying high Parisian aristocracy at this moment is the coming of a new Duke, the Duc de Chabot. This is how the new Duke has suddenly come into the world.

Comte Guy de Chabot, the bearer of one of the greatest names in France, was not satisfied. He wanted the title of Duke and so he went to Rome and bought one of the Papal Chancellors for a huge sum of money. But, as the Pope no longer holds temporal power the titles he confers can only become official after they have been registered by the Chancery.

Comte de Chabot went through this formality and thus became an Italian Duke, but this did not suffice for his ambition. He wanted to be made a Duke in France. To obtain this there was but one method—obtain a title of Grandee from Spain besides his duchy. Spanish Grandees from the time of Philip V being accepted by the French law as giving right attached to them. But this expedient is extremely costly, and if we are not yet saying that the Duc de Chabot is ruined we soon shall be.

LORD ELLIOTT CALLS HER 'DEAREST CHILD'

MISS ESTELLE CHRISTY, WHO HAS BEEN BILLED "AS THE MOST PERFECT AND THE MOST BEAUTIFUL CHORUS GIRL IN THE WORLD," STATES EMPHATICALLY THAT SHE IS TO WED LORD ELLIOTT, AND THE REPORTS FROM LONDON, CONTRADICTION HER ENGAGEMENT ARE UNFOUNDED. SHE SAYS SHE IS IN CONSTANT COMMUNICATION WITH LORD ELLIOTT, AND TO PROVE IT SHE DISPLAYED A LETTER IN WHICH HE SALUTED HER AS "DEAREST CHILD" AND CLOSED WITH "YOUR TWIN SOUL." THE LETTER BORE THE CREST OF ST. GERMAN'S.

CZAR SO FEARS RED COLOR THAT HE CANNOT EVEN WATCH A SUNSET AT SEA

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 30.—Red for buildings is tabooed by the Czar, who has ordered that several state buildings in this city which have been painted red since the time of Nicholas I, must be repainted black, white, yellow—any color but red.

Now the people know what the Czar's intimates have known long—that he abhors red. Neither his wife, his daughters, nor the ladies of the court ever wear red in the Czar's presence. He cannot even look at the sea when the sinking sun crimson its waves. When the sun reddens the Gulf of Finland His Majesty retires from the windows of his Peterhof palace, which overlooks the gulf, until the sanguinary hue has softened—vanished.

The Czar's fear of red has been increased by the events of recent years and by the knowledge that it is the color of the revolutionists.

Will Not Try To Win Ribbon

BERLIN, Nov. 30.—President Ballin of the Hamburg-American line, declares that his company has no intention of trying to wrest the "Blue ribbon of the Atlantic" from the Cunard line, as he considers this would cost too much.

"We will build at least two ships larger than the Mauretania in England, but we have not stipulated that they must be more speedy. They will be built more for comfort than for speed. I do not think that it will be possible to build much speedier vessels than those now in existence until steam shall have been replaced by some other motive power."

COUNT BONI PLAYS DUAL ROLES DAILY

PARIS, Nov. 30.—Count Boni de Castellane, who is playing a shabby genteel role, has taken to going about in a cab, the most dilapidated he can find, so he may say with his most expressive shrug: "You see, I am so poor now that I am reduced to this."

But when his children are permitted to visit him the dapper Count goes out in a magnificent equipage, explaining: "I have to do it. My children are used to this kind of thing. You know, they are so rich."

There is a belief that Boni is still confident that he can effect a reconciliation with Countess Anna.

INTERNATIONAL HORSE SHOW DATE FIXED

LONDON, Nov. 30.—Directors of the International Horse Show have definitely decided to open the 1908 show at Olympia on June 13, Thursday of Ascot week, and the show will continue until the 27th. One hundred and fifty thousand dollars will be spent on the exhibition, and the total of the prizes will amount to $50,000—the largest sum ever offered at any horse show in the world.

At the last New York show the value of prizes awarded in money and other in 123 classes was $35,000.

M'KEE VOWS TO TELL OF SCANDAL

Promises to Create Sensation in Exposure.

NOW LIVES WITH PRINCE ALBIATA

PARIS, Nov. 30.—A Hart McKee promises to divulge the "scandal of the century" during the pending divorce proceedings. McKee, who is residing with an Italian friend, Prince Albiata at 27 Quai d'Orsay, shows the ravages of mental suffering.

McKee daily visits his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sellers McKee, who are staying at the Hotel Ritz.

"Your father-in-law, Governor Baxter, says that you are the worst man in France," McKee was told by a newspaper correspondent.

"He said even worse," replied McKee. "He said I was the worst criminal in three countries—I'm not sure that he did not say in three continents. Baxter talks too much. Even some of the newspaper correspondents, compassionating his weakness, have advised him to stop. I am suing him for libel."

"SCANDAL OF CENTURY."

"Had he held his tongue and acted like a gentleman I would have let him have his way without opposition. As it is I am going to make a strenuous defense, and there will be the biggest scandal of a century; I know none to equal it. But Baxter has only himself to blame. In self-defense a man has to use the weapons at his disposal. It seems certain that a scandal must come and it is just as well to let the whole truth be known."

"Do you refer to the American who used to go motoring with Mrs. McKee?"

"More than that. I have the child and the courts will confirm in me its custody. Everybody knows what that means."

"Is it true that Mrs. McKee turned you out of your house?"

"It is. Fortunately my friend, Prince Albiata, took me in and for some time I will live here."

Gramophones on Paris Hearses

PARIS, Nov. 30.—The use of the gramophone has become so universal that we no longer count its various applications. No find it on the wine-seller's counter and in the schools, in our museums and lecture halls and in the ante-chambers of the provincial governors. But a use for this instrument which nobody had thought of before now appears in the German list of applicants for patents. Gayety, it seems, nowadays comes from that side of the Rhine.

An inventor there has asked for a patent for a "hearse fitted with an apparatus to play funeral marches." This apparatus, according to the inventor's explanation, is set in movement by the coachman, and, as it is arranged so as not to be seen, the sounds of the melancholy march float to the bereaved family without them perceiving from whence they come. The maker of this curious machine is a young lady in Berlin.

PRINCESS IS TRYING TO SAVE CROWN FROM AUCTION

THE SPENDTHRIFT PRINCESS LOUISE OF BELGIUM IS SEEKING TO COMPROMISE WITH HER CREDITORS SO THAT HER MOTHER'S CROWN NEED NOT BE SOLD AT AUCTION. THE PICTURE IS TAKEN FROM A REGENT PHOTOGRAPH OF HER ROYAL HIGHNESS.

MAY WED DIVORCED WIFE SECOND TIME

LONDON IS MUCH INTERESTED AS TO THE NEXT MARITAL VENTURE OF THE MORE OR LESS NOBLE EARL OF ROSSLYN. RUMOR HAS IT THAT HE IS TO SEEK RECONCILIATION WITH THE SECOND COUNTESS OF ROSSLYN, WHO WAS MISS ANNA ROBINSON, AN AMERICAN ACTRESS, AND FROM WHOM HE WAS RECENTLY DIVORCED. HIS LORDSHIP AND HIS LATEST COUNTESS ARE SHOWN IN THE PICTURE.

IS DESCENDANT OF KING JAMES II

LONDON, Nov. 30.—Referring to the Duke of Alba negotiating a marriage with an American girl, Miss Mathilda Townsend, of Erie, Pa., and who has been in attendance upon the King of Spain in England, the Daily Graphic says: "He is the great-nephew of the Empress Eugenie, and is known in Spain as the Duke of Alba and Berwick. He is descended from that natural son of James II, by the sister of the first Duke of Marlborough, who was made Duke of Berwick by his father after the latter's abdication in 1688."

FRENCH TO BUILD MUSEUM TO DISPLAY COLLECTION OF GOBELIN TAPESTRIES

(BY PAUL VILLIERS.)

(Special Cable to The Tribune.)

PARIS, Nov. 30.—The French government has at last taken up the question of the museum of Gobelin tapestries. Every American who comes to Paris knows this museum, which is full of specimens of the art and industry of the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries. These precious works are only a temporary structure, which was made in 1877 for the purpose of the 1878 exhibition.

It was to have been replaced the next year by a permanent museum, but the French government has entirely forgotten it during the last twenty-eight years. The consequence is that the temporary museum is now in a deplorable state and is almost falling to pieces. The permanent museum is now to be built, not a day too soon.

The new theater which is shortly to be constructed on a site conceded by the city of Paris, in the Champs Elysees, which was formerly occupied by the Cirque d'Eté, is to be called the Theater des Champs Elysees.

WEALTHY AMERICANS.

This theater, which has for its founder M. Gabriel Astruc, the well-known music publisher and impresario, is said to be patronized by a large number of princely personages, while, as is well known, there are among the directors several wealthy Americans.

The theater is to contain about 3000 seats, and the stage, a little larger than that of the Sarah Bernhardt Theater, will be raised on the principles adopted at the Prince Regent's Theater at Munich. There will, besides the great theater hall, be a minor hall for small entertainments, to hold about 600 people.

M. Astruc hopes that by obtaining for his theater a distinguished intellectual patronage and directorate, he will assure for it a more substantial existence than if he simply relied upon what Paris can supply him with.

KING EDWARD WORRIED OVER KAISER'S HEALTH

LONDON, Nov. 30.—The King is very much exercised over the Kaiser's health, and has insisted on sending his favorite surgeon, Sir Frederick Treves.

The Kaiser, however, will not hear of it, because Sir Frederick is taking a holiday on the continent and has also retired from the profession. It is expected, however, that the King will communicate with Sir Frederick and that the great surgeon will examine the Kaiser's throat during the quiet stay in the Isle of Wight.

RIDES ASTRIDE CREATES TALK

Mme. Therese Ternan, Goes Horseback Riding.

PARIS, Nov. 30.—Mme. Therese de Ternan has caused a decided sensation at the Nouveau Cirque by her graceful, skillful horseback riding. In the picturesque garb of a Mexican cavalier and riding astride, the beautiful equestrian performs with also all the feats of the class known as "high school." Her appearance is the signal for rapturous applause.

53 TERRORISTS HANG IN WEEK

Russia Visits Swift Punishment on Prisoners at Odessa.

ODESSA, Nov. 30.—Since Monday of this week fifty-three terrorists have been hanged here. The swift punishment which is being meted out by the field courts-martial is having a decided effect on the disorderly element and is encouraging the police to more fearless performance of their duty.

OAKLAND IS FIRMLY ON THE THEATRICAL MAP FOR ALL TIME TO COME

OMEERS SISTERS AT OAKLAND ORPHEUM

WALLACE BROWNLOW AT IDORA

ANNA EVA FAY OAKLAND ORPHEUM

MADAME CALVE AT THE YE LIBERTY

GROUP OF GIRLS IN "ALASKAN"

PAUL EVERTON

ESTELLE WARNFIELD AT YE LIBERTY

GEORGE CUMMINGS AT THE BELL

CALVE, FOR 2 NIGHTS

Strong Bills at the Macdonough, Orpheum and Ye Liberty.

With the coming of Calve there is no longer any question of the place that Oakland has taken on the musical map of this country and hereafter no artist touring America will be satisfied without an appearance in this city. Commencing with the memorable Schumann-Heink concert, then the Yaw, de Gogorza, Gabriellowsky and Gaski events and with two successful seasons of grand opera in one year to our credit the fame of Oakland as a city with thousands of lovers of the best in the musical art has travelled all over the world and Impresario Greenbaum says that every artist he corresponds with and who formerly played only in San Francisco and Los Angeles inquires "How about Oakland?" I want to play there. I hear it is a great town for music.

Next Wednesday morning at Ye Liberty Playhouse the sale of seats for the greatest musical event in the history of Oakland, the "Calve Concert" will open and Manager Bishop expects to break all records.

The appearance of Calve here will advertise Oakland all over the world for the tour of this artist is reported in every paper in the world. As she will give but forty concerts on the entire tour which embraces the United States, Mexico and Havana, Oakland is indeed fortunate in possessing managers who guarantee this artist the biggest fee that any star in the world has ever received. Furthermore Calve only appears in three cities in the entire State—Los Angeles, San Francisco and Oakland. Manager Greenbaum is the only man in the United States who has succeeded in engaging Calve for more than a single concert but he has had her before and knows that our music lovers can always be depended on for patronage.

Another advantage our music lovers will have is in the way of prices. In Seattle, Portland, Los Angeles and other cities where Calve gives a single concert the prices range from $5.00 to $2.00 but on account of undertaking so many concerts in this vicinity Messrs. Bishop and Greenbaum are enabled to place the price of seats at $3.00 for the highest and from that down to $1.00 and every seat in "Ye Liberty Playhouse" is excellent, particularly for concerts.

The program will be a magnificent one and Calve will appear four times singing no less than a dozen songs in French, Spanish and English.

With the artist are other great stars, one being Mile. Renee Chemet, a beautiful young violinist whose playing has created a sensation wherever she has appeared both in Europe and America. M. Decrus, one of the foremost pianists of Paris, will play solos as well as the accompaniments. Complete programs will be announced in a few days.

Manager Bishop has already arranged to present Kubelik, the king of violinists, Joseph Hofmann, the wonderful pianist, and Jean Gerardi, the greatest violinist the world has ever known, and negotiations are pending with several others.

After a "Calve" concert in Oakland every great singer will be dissatisfied till they have also appeared here. All this will be good news to the many thousand music lovers in this country.

The Orpheum

Not the least remarkable feature of the new bill at the Orpheum this week is found in the fact that all of the new attractions scheduled to appear this afternoon are women. Each of these is a queen in her field, and together they cover a wide realm of entertainment.

Orpheum audiences will be regaled today by the spectacle of German maidens who sport in daring fashion on the wire; will be charmed by the sight of a renowned Spanish dancer; will be amused by the fun making of a great American comedienne, and most of all perhaps will they be startled by the exhibition which the wonderful woman, Anna Eva Fay, is to give at the Orpheum during the week.

Anna Eva Fay has never been in Oakland before, but in the large cities in the East she is an attraction of power. She has crowded houses by the month at a time in a single city, where she would display her ability as a mind reader and in other ways indicating the possession of extraordinary power. They call Miss Fay the "White Mahatma"—as a tribute to her power. She is said to rival the wonder working people of the Far East in her power to peer into the world of unseen things. She claims to have no supernatural aid whatever, but works simply on scientific grounds; nevertheless her audiences are left to gasp at the strange exhibitions she gives.

It is likely that Anna Eva Fay will be the talk of Oakland before her engagement at the Orpheum has progressed very far, and if this is the case it will be nothing new for Miss Fay. She has witnessed city after city stirred to its depths by her exhibitions, which are unique and almost uncanny. She will give at the Orpheum two separate performances, one called "In-Somnolency" and the other a cabinet séance. In both of these there are a host of wonderful feats performed by Miss Fay.

When Lotta Gladstone takes the stage there will be an entirely different atmosphere in evidence. Miss Gladstone is called "the girl with the laugh." She is a comedienne of extraordinary and rare talent. She will regale Orpheum audiences with an impersonation of a typical country girl, whose adventures in a great city form a theme of her monologue. Lotta Gladstone is like some other artists, who have had race horses, cigars, and perfumes named after them, but these aids to fame are far from being all that Miss Gladstone has to depend upon to attract attention or secure interest. She is an entertainer of exceptional skill and ability. Her career in the East has been one series of triumphs and in Oakland she is likely to become a greater favorite than elsewhere. Her list of acquaintances being extensive, caused partly through the prominence of her husband, Robert Harris, one of the racing magnates at the Oakland track. There will be a big reception for Miss Gladstone tonight when she appears.

Oterita, the famous Spanish dancer, sister to Otero, will make her first appearance on this Coast at the Orpheum this afternoon. She is a typical Spanish dancer, vivacious and with an undeniably charming.

The Sister O'Meers, graceful and daring wire artists, are just from abroad. They give an exhibition that is sensational and unique.

Ray L. Royce will have new character impersonations to offer today: Mayne Remington and her Pickaninies will amuse the crowds. The two Loretos, grotesque comedians, will remain on the bill; new Orpheum motion pictures will be shown.

The Macdonough

The new comic opera "The Alaskan" which John Cort is to present in this city at the Macdonough for four nights commencing with a matinee this afternoon aims at a gay and amusing reflex of pioneer life in and about Nome in the early days of the gold fever there.

Joseph Blithen, author of "The Chinook" and other plays successful in the West, who wrote the book and lyrics is a young newspaper man of Seattle, Wash., who was himself among the first of the gold seekers to venture "inside" the ice-locked trails, and writes of the argonauts and the country from whimsical observations and experiences he shared with the adventurers.

The composer of the opera's score, Harry Girard, was also of the early Alaskan prospectors, abandoning a successful stage career at the height of a season with Lulu Glaser in "Dolly Varden," whose leading singer he was, to try his fortune at Nome placer mining. The new opera is the result of a meeting of the pair in the Northwest, and may be said to have been written on the spot.

The humors of Northwestern placer camp life under summer sunshine and winter snows, more than a hint of a love affair begun while its principals are snowbound, and an attempt to convey some comic types of camp people are, reported ambitions of the authors. The scenes and action are confined to Nome, and near Nome. The production is in a prologue and two acts, the introduction being pictorial, pantomime and musical, the first act a gold mining camp in summer and the second a Nome home amid the gaieties of a New Year's Eve camp frolic.

In his production of the piece, Mr. Cort has faithfully preserved the atmospheric requirements of the book. Where the author calls for Esquimo dogs of the kind known in Alaska as "mushers" the management has supplied them—twelve, brought direct from Nome, and with the huskies their Alaskan driver, a well known Northwestern mail carrier brought from Alaska especially for the performance. Where mukluks, kiaks, comtaks and parkies—Alaskanese for hide boots, skin yaws and fur jackets, respectively—have been the book's requirements, Mr. Cort has brought the real thing from the country of the opera. The light effects, also, are said to convey something of the peculiar sky tones of Nome in summer and in winter, in daylight and at work, beginning tomorrow evening.

The cast has been selected with special care. Miss Agnes Cain Brown sings the prima donna role. Mr. Girard, the composer of the score, appears in the baritone part. Other important principals of the company include Edward Martindell, Teddy Webb, Anne Adair, Harold Vizard, Charles Derbyshire, Amy Leicester, William Fables and M. V. L. Smith. Choruses of Esquimo girls, Nome show girls, miners, prospectors and feminine visitors to Nome from "the outside" also appear. The production has been carefully staged by Max Pigman.

Ye Liberty

One of the most interesting of modern social dramas will be presented at Ye Liberty Playhouse the coming week, beginning tomorrow evening, when the Bishop players appear in "The Moth and the Flame," by Clyde Fitch. Nearly every member of the stock company will be in the cast, for the play is one that carries a large number of characters and contains many excellent roles for the clever people Manager Bishop has assembled under his direction.

Considered in the light of his phenomenal success and the great popularity of his work, Clyde Fitch is the foremost American dramatist. His plays are all of intense interest and full of the real story of life that holds an audience with such gripping magnetism. Not one of them has even failed to score tremendously and in the dramatic history of the present and the immediate past the name of Fitch holds first place. Some of his best known plays are "The Climbers," "The Cowboy and the Lady," "The Frisky Mrs. Johnson," "The Girl with the Green Eyes," "Nathan Hale," "The Stubbornness of Geradine," "Her Own Way," "The Woman in the Case," and "Her Great Match." These plays are associated indissolubly with the names of the brightest theatrical stars of the day.

And one of the strongest of all his works is "The Moth and the Flame," a play that deserves high rank for both strength of story and literary merit. The locale of the play is New York City at the present time and the characters are those of the wealthy society of the metropolis. The audience first meets the people of the story in the luxurious home of Mr. Wolton, where a fancy ball is being given in honor of Miss Marian Wolton, the beautiful daughter of the house. The guests are all in children's costumes, the invitations having required them to be dressed in this act the main theme of the

DORRIS GOODWIN AT IDORA

The three interior scenes will be set with accessories in keeping with the wealth and social prominence given to the characters by the author. Especially notable will be the wedding scene in the church, with the organ rolling and the choir singing the nuptial anthem.

Idora Park

Again this coming week will the old friends and new acquaintances of Idora Park have the opportunity of enjoying "The Isle of Champagne," the bright comic opera that has entertained crowded houses all the past week. The success of the production since it was begun last Monday evening augurs for a conclusion of its run that will not only please the management, but will send hundreds of more people back to their homes each evening next week refreshed after the long stress of the day.

There is everything to entertain in "The Isle of Champagne." There is the light and buoyant music that swings along at a tantalizing pace under the leadership of Paul Staindoff, there is fun of the hearty, spontaneous sort that keeps the audience

(Continued on next page.)

OAKLAND Orpheum

Twelfth and Clay Streets. Sunset Phone Oakland 2244. Home Phone 43334.

Week Commencing Sunday Matinee, December 1

MATINEE EVERY DAY! MARVELOUS VAUDEVILLE!

ANNA EVA FAY

"IN SOMNOLENCY"

ASK HER WHAT YOU WANT TO KNOW

SISTERS O'MEERS
Most Gracful and Daring Wire Artists in the World.

LA BELLE OTERITA
Sister of Otero—Danceuse from Europe.

RAY L. ROYCE
Character Artist and Impersonator.

MAYNE REMINGTON
And Her Pickaninies.

THE TWO LORETTOS
Comedy Eccentrics.

NEW ORPHEUM MOTION PICTURES.

First Appearance of

LOTTA GLADSTONE

"THE GIRL WITH THE LAUGH"

Prices—Evenings, 10c, 25c, 50c, 75c. Box Seats, $1.00. Matinee (except Sundays and Holidays), 10c, 25c, 50c.

REMEMBER! Any seat in the entire balcony at daily matinees, 10 cents, except on Saturdays, Sundays and Holidays.

Macdonough Theater

Phone Oakland 87.
Chas P. Hall, Sole Prop. and Manager.

Commencing This (Sunday) Matinee December 1, 2, 3, 4

JOHN CORT PRESENTS
The Musical Event

Of Many Seasons

The Alaskan

A Real Comic Opera III!

75 People and Orchestra

Entire elaborate production from the Knickerbocker Theater, N. Y.

Matinee—25c, 50c, 75c and $1.00.
Night—25c, 50c, 75c, $1.00, $1.50.

RACING

New California Jockey Club

Oakland Race Track.

Opening Day, Sat., Nov. 9

Races commence at 1:40 p. m.

Take street cars from any part of the city, transfer to San Pablo avenue.

THOMAS H. WILLIAMS, President.
PERCY W. TREAT, Secretary.

NOVELTY THEATER

BROADWAY AT 12TH ST.

Modern Vaudeville

Every Afternoon and Evening
Popular Prices

CONEY ISLAND PARK

Square Block of Amusements All Under Fillmore, Eddy, Turk and Webster Sts.

CONTINUOUS CIRCUS

Every day and evening. Circus numbers: The Lozlers, Aerial Trappist, Misses Japs, three people; the Van Goyens, Equilibrists and Jugglers. Flimsy Merry-Go-Round and the only Juvenile Auto Course and Giant See-Saw in the world. Come and see Yucatan Sam in the Den of Poisonous Snakes. Barrels of Fun, Hilarious and all other Coney Island, New York, attractions. An Italian Military Band of sixteen pieces; afternoons and evenings.

Admission, 10c. Children, 5c.

Orpheum Restaurant

AND LUNCH PARLOR

Just Around the Corner

Hard to Find

Bet. 12th and 13th on Clay St.

G. Hakanson and A. M. Campbell, Props.

OAKLAND ON THEATRICAL MAP FOR ALL TIME TO COME

(Continued from preceding page.)

laughing all the time Ferris Hartman, Walter De Leon, Walter Catlett and Karl Farnes Jr. are on the stage, there is singing with Sybil Page, Wallace Brownlow, Doris Goodwin and Bernice Holmes in excellent roles, and there is dancing that keeps the attractive girls of the chorus in their gayest mood for the full three acts.

"The Isle of Champagne" was written with one purpose—to provide entertainment that should be bright and clean and lively, with all the sparkle and effervescence that could be put into it. This purpose was accomplished. The opera makes no claim to serious consideration. Its atmosphere is wholly light and mirthful, the recreation it offers is admittedly thoughtless and frothy. But there is just the charm of music and beauty, and exactly the rare novelty of plot that the authors and composer aimed to combine. The story of the opera has a wealth of fun and fancy and its score a variety of melodies that compel recognition of the work for its artistic merits.

In nothing they have attempted recently have the Idora artists given the public better entertainment. Ferris Hartman, Walter De Leon, Walter Catlett, Karl Farnes Jr. and Joseph Fagnary are right in their element. They make the most of the extremely ludicrous situations that follow close upon the heels of one another. Sybil Page, Wallace Brownlow, Bernice Holmes and Doris Goodwin are happily cast. Miss Page looks prettier than ever and Miss Goodwin is even more vivacious than usual. Both Mr. Brownlow and Miss Holmes sing with their customary richness and sweetness of tone. The chorus is at its best.

The week during which "The Isle of Champagne" can be enjoyed will pass quickly and then will follow a production of "The Mascot" for which the members of the Idora company are making painstaking preparations. This offering, too, should prove as popular as those of recent weeks. It, in turn, will be succeeded by "The Toy Maker," which will have the Idora stage during the Christmas holidays to the delight of both the children and their parents.

Lion and the Mouse

When "The Lion and the Mouse" was first produced two years ago in New York, the public and critics were amazed at the picture drawn by Charles Klein of the various phases of financial and political graft. There was a clamor raised that it was untrue to life. Since then events in the various courts of the land have demonstrated beyond cavil that the author was well within the bounds of actuality.

Briefly, this is the story of the drama which has had the whole land talking since it was first produced. Judge Rossmore, sitting on the Supreme Court bench of the United States, has incurred the enmity of John Burtley Ryder, the richest man in the world, because the jurist has rendered decisions which injured Ryder's schemes. The money king has caused the financial wreck of the jurist and has set about to have him impeached by the Senate.

But the judge and the financier have one child, that of the former, Shirley, a charming girl. Ryder, banking his hopes on his boy, Jefferson, and these young people have met in Europe and fallen in love. They return to the United States and the girl learns of her father's impending disgrace. She determines to save his reputation and to fight the lion, although she be but a mouse.

A book appears, "The Octopus," by Sarah Green, in which Ryder is the thinly disguised central figure. So unmerciful is the scoring given him that the money king winces and sends for the authoress to meet him. His overtures are scorned until he has his wife write the authoress inviting her to his home.

When the mouse and the lion meet, there is a battle of wits, which is epigrammatic and brilliant. Ryder is fascinated by the womanliness, charm and delightful candor of the girl and invites Miss Green, who of course is Shirley Rossmore, to write his autobiography and to become a member of his household.

Discovery is certain, and when it comes in the great third act, the scathing denunciation of Ryder and his ilk by the daughter of the old upright judge, brings down the house. One San Francisco critic declared that the President should use this scene as a campaign document. The girl is ordered from the house by the money king, and his son, Jeff, suddenly awakening to manhood, goes with the girl.

Henry B. Harris is sending a marvellously strong company to the far West this season to present the piece, it being headed by Dorothy Donnelly and Paul Everett. "The Lion and the Mouse" will be seen at the Macdonough Theater for three nights and a Saturday matinee, starting Thursday, December 3. This will be the first Oakland appearance of the play since the disaster struck the bay.

The Bell

May Yobe, who gained international fame when, as the wife of Lord Francis Hope of England she eloped with Putnam Bradlee Strong, is to be at the Bell Theater the coming week and will sing the songs that formerly won her favor in the social world. May Yobe has a remarkable voice. It is of baritone quality and she is said to be now singing in better voice than ever before.

The Bell's program next week will include other high class acts. The Columbia Four, one of the best musical combinations ever to enter vaudeville, will be one of the features. Cummings, Thornton and Company will present a sketch entitled "A Mail Order Wife," that has won plaudits elsewhere and will probably meet with success here. Charles B. Ward, Kathryn Klare and Company will present a humorous playlet, "The Twin Plate," that is said to be very rich.

Faust Brothers, European musical pantomimists, will entertain in their own particular way.

Nick Conway of Dublin, known as "Laughing Casey," will give an Irish monologue that promises to prove a hit.

Two reels of motion pictures will be shown.

Paralysis Cured

Capt. L. B. Sargent, 4200 Grove St., 73 years old, being paralyzed, was restored to health by our system. Chiropractic Institute, 3144 San Pablo ave. Consultation free. 9 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 p. m.

DORSAX-FOR-XMAS.

Photographs—best in town. Popular prices—Albany Block, 1258 Broadway.

Piedmont Turkish Baths and Salt Water Swim, 24th Street, near Broadway—Oakland Avenue car.

MME. CALVE IS A MYSTIC

Great French Singer Dislikes to Hear Mention of Death.

One of the most peculiar phases of the personality of Madame Emma Calve who is shortly to be heard in this city in concert is the strain of mysticism which pervades her entire life. It finds expression oftenest in her antipathy to the mention of death in her presence, she has a mortal fear for the end of all things that is noticeable at all times; even the mention of death in her presence is strictly tabooed and the French newspapers which she reads are carefully censored by her manager while she is on tour, all items dealing with casualties or sudden death are carefully eliminated.

The news of a death of a close personal friend throws her into a fear of great despondency for a day. During her concert season of two years ago an incident occurred which illustrates this peculiar aversion to death. It was on this occasion that those in charge of her tour learned of this lurking horror. She was being shown about the historic Alamo in San Antonio, Texas, by her manager, who told her the story of its heroic defense. He grew eloquent in describing the massacre of the brave Texans who struggled against the overwhelming forces of Santa Anna. He closed his narrative with the following speech:

"And upon the very spot on which you are standing Madame the last of the one hundred and fifty-one men who gave up their lives for their country was butchered in cold blood by Santa Anna's Chief of Staff."

That concluded the festivities. Madame Calve, her cheeks white with fear and her whole frame vibrant with emotion, summoned her carriage and drove away without another word. She locked herself in her private car and denied herself to all visitors. Shortly afterward she sent her private secretary with the information that under no consideration would she sing that night. He announced that she was in the deepest gloom as a result of her visit to the Alamo and the thought of the bloody events with which it was associated. Readings were of no avail and the concert for that evening had to be cancelled and several thousand dollars had to be returned. It was an expensive but valuable lesson.

Quite recently Madame Calve has become devoted to the crystal gazing fad and has, during the past summer conducted a number of special readings at her chateau in the south of France. Some of her prophecies were realized in a very wonderful manner and her exploits along this line were widely commented upon in the Parisian newspapers. She carries a crystal around the country with her, and has given several readings for parties of friends in various cities.

During the past summer Madame Calve wrote a short monograph on the subject of crystal gazing, which is translated into English and published by the London Society for Psychic Research. Her explanation of the phenomena of crystal gazing is exceptionally interesting.

"It is my opinion," she writes, "that the crystal gazer becomes semi-synaptized as a result of looking for a long time into the depths of the clear crystal. Persons in a hypnotic state are much more likely to receive impressions than those in a fully conscious condition. They may be said to become super-sensitives and are able to pick up from

Newbro's Herpicide

More men and women have gotten positive results from the use of NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE than from all other hair remedies combined.

Newbro's Herpicide is the original remedy that kills the dandruff germ. It eradicates dandruff, stops falling hair and permits a natural hair development by destroying the tiny vegetable growth (a germ or microbe) that causes hair destruction.

Nature constantly struggles to supply life and vigor to the hair but the dandruff germ saps this vitality and strangles the life out of the hair.

START RIGHT BY DESTROYING THE CAUSE of Hair Loss with NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE

EXTRAORDINARY RESULTS SOMETIMES FOLLOW ITS CONTINUED USE.

IT BENEFITS A LADY SCALP SPECIALIST.

2807 Archie Ave., Chicago, Ill.

"I am sending you my photograph to show what Newbro's Herpicide has done for me."

"Since I first tried Herpicide upon my hair I have used it exclusively in giving scalp treatments to others, and I would not think of trying to get along without it."

(Signed) MRS. ANNA CONNER.

INDISPENSABLE FOLLOWING SEVERE ILLNESS.

1117 Tremont St., Denver, Col.

"I was convalescent from a critical illness of pneumonia and my hair was left in a deplorable condition, falling out and breaking off, dry, harsh and brittle. The scalp lacked nutrition and seemed dead. I used Herpicide according to directions with most beneficial results and attribute the restoration of my hair entirely to your Herpicide. I can conscientiously endorse it for doing all you claim and it gives me great pleasure to recommend it."

(Signed) MRS. M. MEGRUDE.

For regular toilet use, Newbro's Herpicide easily occupies first place. It is sold in practically every civilized country on the globe, and a single trial will show why discriminating ones prefer it. Contains no sticky substance. It will not stain or dye the hair. It stops itching of the scalp almost immediately.

Two Sizes—50c and $1.00. AT DRUG STORES.—Send 10c in stamps to the HERPICIDE CO., Dept. N., Detroit, Mich., for sample.

Be Sure You Get Herpicide

Guaranteed under the Food and Drugs Act, June 30, 1906. Serial No. 915. For sale at all drug stores. Applications at prominent barber shops. Two sizes, 50c and $1.00.

MRS. ANNA CONNER

MUSIC AT THE PARK

The following is the musical program to be rendered at the Golden Gate Park this afternoon under the direction of Paul Steindorff:

Part I—March "Electric Carnival"

(Horst) overture, "The Mill on the Cliff" (Reissiger); waltz, "Invitation to the Dance" (Weber); duet for flute and trombone, "Till's Serenade"; Louis Newbauer and Thos. Ingram, selection, "Il Trovatore" (Verdi); Part II—Overture, "Jolly Students" (Suppe); (a) characteristic, "The Dawn of Love" (Bendix); (b) "Honey Boy March" (Von Tilzer); descriptive, "On the Plantation" (Puerner); "Coronation March" (Ellenberg).

(Horst) overture, "The Mill on the Cliff" (Reissiger); waltz, "Invitation to the Dance" (Weber); duet for flute and trombone, "Till's Serenade"; Louis Newbauer and Thos. Ingram, selection, "Il Trovatore" (Verdi); Part II—Overture, "Jolly Students" (Suppe); (a) characteristic, "The Dawn of Love" (Bendix); (b) "Honey Boy March" (Von Tilzer); descriptive, "On the Plantation" (Puerner); "Coronation March" (Ellenberg).

COLUMBIA THEATER

The Passion Play at the Columbia Theater will close tonight a most successful run of three weeks. The public has shown their appreciation of clean, high-class amusement by supporting this most interesting as well as instructive drama very liberally.

PREPARING FOR LARGE PLANT

Engineers Make Soundings on Property of Western Power Company.

The Western Power Company, which recently acquired property on Brooklyn basin, south of Fifth Avenue in East Oakland, has had engineers at work, making an examination of its land in regard to the construction of a large plant.

According to report the company will, within a comparatively short time, commence the building of its plant. The preliminary work of the engineers is to ascertain what kind of foundation will be necessary. The plant, according to report, is to be a large one, and will require a strong foundation.

It is said that the plant will generate power for the Western Pacific Company, when that company completes its road into this city. Report has it that the Western Pacific Company will have an electric service from this city to San Francisco.

WICKHAM HAVENS HAS MADE MANY BIG SALES

Wickham Havens, president of Wickham Havens (Inc.), said in reference to the real estate situation for the past week: "There is noticeable a distinct increase in the volume of business during the last week. The fact that all the real estate dealers in Oakland are taking bank books and certificates is no doubt responsible for a good deal of the activity. Purchasers, who without this medium of exchange would be unable to transact business, are able to buy without sacrificing any discount for cash. We have sold during the past week three residences in Piedmont, and there is a proposition pending for two more. The macadamizing of Thirteenth Avenue from Millbury to Hampton streets in the Fourth Avenue Terrace tract has been completed on the south side. The rest of the street will not be finished until the traction company puts in the double track line, which will be in a very short time. All the real estate men and the financial experts unite in predicting a tremendously active winter and spring."

MINSTRELS OF RUGBY ACADEMY FINE SHOW

BERKELEY, Nov. 30.—Students of the Rugby Military Academy are anticipating a large attendance at their minstrel performance to be given Monday evening, December 2, in Wilkins Hall. This will be the first show given by these young men who include several fine singers and actors. They are to be assisted by the First Corps Cadet Sextette of San Francisco which is accounted the best of the amateur singing associations in the State.

The students' quartet will also sing several selections. Edman Kanavaugh is to sing a song entitled "Insanity," while Edman De County will sing "Just a Little Fond Affection." There will be a lot of Orpheum specialties given. The show is under direction of Major L. S. Remedel, commandant at the academy. An informal dance will follow at the close of the performance.

IDORA PARK & OPERA HOUSE.

Direction H. W. Bishop. TODAY MATINEE AND NIGHT AND ALL THIS WEEK

THE ISLE OF CHAMPAGNE

With Its Catechy Ballet, King Pommeroy and His Army, and Tonal Songs

ALAMEDA CO. POULTRY SHOW ANNUAL EXHIBITION. Com. Monday, and all week. The finest display ever held on the Coast.

TRY ONE: The Skating Rink, The Seaside Railway, The Barrel of Fun, The Circus, and Other Attractions are at your service.

PRICES AT THE OPERA: Matinees and Nights, 25c, 50c

Next—THE MASCOT

Liberty Playhouse

Direction H. W. Bishop. Phone Oakland 73.

This Afternoon and Tonight Last Two Times of

"AT THE WHITE HORSE TAVERN"

Prices, 25c, 50c, 75c; Matinees, 25c, 50c.

MONDAY NIGHT and All Next Week

"THE MOTH AND THE FLAME"

Clyde Fitch's best play.

CALVE Seat Sale Opens Next Wed. Morning. At 9 a. m. Concert Monday Eve., December 9. Her only appearance outside of S. F. Seats, 2.00, 2.25, 2.50, 3.00 and 3.50.

Mail Orders must be accompanied by check, money order or certificate. Address H. W. Bishop, Ye Liberty Playhouse.

The COLUMBIA THEATER

10th St., Bet. Broadway and Washington

THE LIFE OF CHRIST

THE GREAT PASSION PLAY

Sunday night will be the last of this sublime drama, after a three weeks' engagement. Thousands have seen it. You can't miss it. Continuous every hour and thirty minutes from 2 to 11 p. m. Adults 20c; children 10c.

BOWLING

The sport for rainy days. Largest exclusive bowling alleys in the West. Rates $1.00 per hour. Alleys for ladies. OAKLAND BOWLING ALLEYS, 13th, near Clay.

THE TRIBUNE BILL

OF THE PLAYS

CATO

Ladies' Tailor—Designer
521 12th St., Suite 102
Home Phone 2918.

PERFORMANCE DAILY
LADIES FREE
Children Half Price.
FURNITURE SPECIAL
9 a. m. to 6 p. m.
H. SCHELLHANS, 11TH
AND FRANKLIN.
COME AND SEE US.

MRS. L. J. WHEELLOCK
La Verite Hairdressing Parlors,
18 Telegraph Ave., Near 16th St.
Scalp, Facial and Deep Wrinkle treatment with electricity or vibration. Hair Dressing, Egg and Lemon Shampoo, Sun or Electric Dry, Massaging, Electric Needle Work, Gentlemen's and Ladies' Wigs to order. Hair Goods, etc., Phone Oakland 7744.

Gem Theater
6th St., Bet. 8th and Washington
6 NOVELTIES
6 Matinee daily, 2:30 to 4:30, 7 to 9:30. Fine ventilation; moving pictures. Admission 5c.

A. J. FELKEL
WATCHES, CLOCKS, JEWELRY
Expert Repairing a Specialty
371 12th St., Opp. St. Mark Hotel.

THEATRICAL GOODS
Curtains, Switches, Etc.
CHAS. HOFFMAN & CO.,
1185 Washington St.

PERCIVAL DRESSMAKING SCHOOL
1088 Washington St. (Over Lace House)
Only school of its kind on coast. Scientific. Satisfaction guaranteed. Phone Oakland 1834.

For Holiday Goods come to Boericke & Runyon Co.
401 12TH ST., NEAR FRANKLIN
Immense stock of latest, newest novelties.

This Week's Attractions

Macdonough	"The Alaskan"
Idora Park	"The Isle of Champagne"
Ye Liberty	"The Moth and the Flame"
Orpheum	Vaudeville
Bell	Vaudeville
Novelty	Vaudeville
Luna	Motion Pictures
Gem	Vaudeville

NEWMAN'S COLLEGE INN

BROADWAY BET. 10TH AND 11TH

A. KOVARIK Formerly of San Francisco Ladies' Tailor

1117 WASHINGTON ST., Bet. 12th and 13th Sts., Oakland.

COMBS from Paris at DIEHL'S

628 FOURTEENTH ST. PHONE OAKLAND 318.

JOSE VILLA THE FINEST OF CLEAR HAVANA CIGARS.

H. SUTLIFF, Broadway, Cor. 10th St.

HUDSON BICYCLES

American's Finest Wheel.
1500 Models Have Arrived.
From $20 up to $50, sold on installment.
Berg Cycle & Auto Supply Co.
183 12th St., Near Madison, Oakland.

For Shoppers from 11 to 2.

Noonday Luncheon

Regent Candy Store
1161 Washington St., bet. 13th and 14th
Quick service. Popular prices.

Luna Theater

470 EIGHTH ST.
Orchestral music. Advanced moving pictures for young and old. Strictly moral. Performances, 2 to 6 p. m.

CHIROPODIST

And Electric Needle Specialist
Superficial Hair, Warts and Moles permanently removed without scars.
DR. ELIZABETH JOHNSON
Parlors, 1309 Broadway, 12 Telegraph Ave. Phone Oakland 1855.

GET YOUR Phone OAK. 2948

SANTA CLAUS

Masquerade Suits at the Oakland Costumers.

CARL A. WILH, 359 1/2 10th St.

Mrs. Carrie Foss Snyder
TEACHER OF DRAMATIC ART
Studio, Pythian Castle, 12th and Allee Sts. Monday and Thursday, 2-5. Phone Oakland 1999.

Hair Is Priceless

Too valuable for allowing experiment with fakes. Consult free. Hair Dr. Kuester, here since 1891. No. 11 Telegraph Ave.

W. C. McGEORGE CO.
MANTEL, TILE, GRATES
Gas and Electric Fixtures, Electric Stoves and Heaters, Builders' Supplies.

THE HAMILTON GRATE
271 Twelfth St.
Phones: Home 2943, Oakland 2208.

SWEET PEAS

Now is the time to plant. Descriptive price list free.

H. M. SANBORN, 517 14th St.

Valuable Premiums

Free with Cigar Certificates at A. FRIEDMAN'S CIGAR STORE, Cor. 13th and Washington Sts.

COMPLAINS OF POLICE; CAPT. PETERSEN ANSWERS

Head of Detectives Replies to Protest Against Raid on Whosoever Will Mission.

To the Editor of The Oakland Tribune: I wish to register a public protest against the Oakland police department. On Wednesday night, November 27, they made a raid on the "Whosoever Will" Rescue Mission for the purpose of getting the "Whosoever Will" out of the building. They put it into the hands of a score of cranks, where there was only one standing room, kept there until 11 a. m. and then told to go to San Francisco and get a free dinner from the mission. Petersen, of the detective department, told the men that all who had employment could remain in Oakland, but all unemployed found about the mission would be run in, and if they did not return to the mission, other raids were going to be made.

There is only one industrial gospel mission in Oakland which gathers in unemployed men, gives them temporary employment, tries to lift them to a place of righteousness, secure for them employment and in place of driving them to a place of desperation and crime, to help them to place where they can keep themselves. The police are shutting their eyes to open gambling and prostitution, which is illegal. Chinese slavery, gambling and prostitution in Oakland is as wild as in any Eastern city. Let the police shut their eyes to all this and rush for a little mission that is trying to care for the product of the saloon. The action of Captain Petersen is unlawful, un-American and unconstitutional. To say nothing of it being un-Christian.

Maybe I can find in you a friend for humanity with sufficient courage to do so. I publish this article, I am yours for "Good and Humanity." The Federation of Churches' Committee for the Suppression of Vice.

J. C. WESTENBERG, Chairman.
631 Pacific St. San Francisco.
In reference to the police raid on the inmates of Whosoever Will Rescue Mission at No. 226 Ninth street, referred to in Secretary J. C. Westenbergs communication, Chief of Detectives Petersen just existing said: "Yes, but mission was raided according to orders and the police took thirty-five men out of it. The raid was ordered by the inmates and is known to the police. Beggars, thieves, ex-convicts and stoom-hangerson. In these piping times when the city is overrun with thieves and vagrants we are not taking any chances. The raid was made the night after a policeman was murdered by robbers in this city. We are not playing any favorites in lodging-houses that make a practice of harboring that class of persons, and the police also raised the Putnam and other houses. The Whosoever Will Rescue Mission has always harbored bums, vags, beggars, thieves and that class, and I told them that it would be raided as long as conditions remain as they are in this city. Men who can't work, I told them, might stay in Oakland, but all idlers of the bum and vagrant order must get out of this city as we intend to keep it clear of those kind of persons."

DATES FOR CLOSING

TRANS-PACIFIC MAILS

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 30.—The mails to leave on the Trans-Pacific steamers will close at the local post-office as follows:
By the Korea for China, Japan and the Philippines, December 10th, 10:30 a. m.; for Honolulu, 11:30 a. m.; by the transport Thomas for Honolulu and Manila, December 5th, 9 a. m.; by the Alameda for Honolulu and Australia, connecting at Honolulu with the Vancouver steamer, December 7th, 9:30 a. m.; by the Mariposa for Tahiti, December 23d, 9 a. m.
Mails to go by the Tosa Maru for China and Japan sailing from Seattle will close at the San Francisco office December 7th, 7 p. m., and mails by the Aorangi for New Zealand and Australia from the same port will close here December 3d, 7 p. m.

INTERNAL REVENUE

COLLECTIONS LARGE

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 30.—At the office of the Collector of Internal Revenue today the receipts were $490, making about $50,000 for the week. The month's receipts will aggregate more than $400,000.
The Collector of Internal Revenue does not insist upon gold, but will accept all legal tender such as national bank notes, postal and express orders and all clearing house certificates to a certain amount.
The receipts are deposited daily in one of the four national banks in this city in rotation.
The receipts at the Custom House yesterday for duties were $17,577, making a total for the month of November of $459,061. All this was paid in gold coin or United States notes.

OREGON LAND FRAUD

TRIALS TO RESUME

(Special to The Tribune).
PORTLAND, Nov. 30.—A Washington special to the Evening Telegram states Attorney-General Bonaparte is in communication with District Attorney Bristol and Francis J. Heney relative to an early resumption of the Oregon land fraud trials. On account of Heney's familiarity with land matters, it is the desire of the government to defer the hearings until he can be present.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

ASTHMA CONQUERED

This Man's Experience With Toxico, the Cure for Asthma.

HARTFORD, Conn., Nov. 30.—The medical directors of the Toxico Co., 1123 Broadway, New York City, report the case of Mr. A. H. Case, 15 Mather St., this city, who has been permanently cured of asthma by the famous Toxico treatment.
Mr. Case says: "I have had no sign of asthma since last January, but previous to that time I do not think anyone suffered so severely from this distressing malady. It took less than 30 days for the Toxico treatment to completely drive the disease out of my system. Toxico is truly a remarkable and wonderful remedy." A sample bottle will be sent free by mail to any sufferer who directs a request to the above company.

BLOOD POISON

FILES AND BLOOD POISON speedily and permanently cured by INDIAN SALVE, the only remedy for this disease. It is sold under REFUND GUARANTEE. INDIAN SALVE is purely vegetable, non-poisonous, and can be used internally as well as applied externally.
Don't waste your time and money experimenting with worthless medicines.
On sale at all druggists, or will be sent postpaid sealed wrapper upon receipt of $1.00.
FREE: A sample bottle, just enough to cure, will be sent free of cost to any sufferer who will send for one on receipt of 10c, which pays for the cost of mailing. Write to: INDIAN SALVE & MEDICINE CO., 154 222 Gates Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

FOR SALE BY
ABRAHAMSON BROS., 12th and Washington Sts.

Make no break and get in the wrong store when looking for H. Schellhaas, the furniture dealer, corner store, 408 11th street.
Specials this week.

OPENS AT 8:30 A. M. CLOSSES AT 5:30 P. M.

ABRAHAMSONS

S. E. Corner Thirteenth and Washington

$8 and $10 Waists $4.95

1000 Waists in taffetas, in plain colors and plaids, nets in white and ecru, light weight woollens in plain colors, plaids, stripes and dots; in fact the assortment is so large that you can find most any style of waist that one could want. The styles are so varied that it is impossible to attempt to describe them. We bought them from an over-stocked manufacturer at 50c on the dollar and offer them to you at half price.

On Sale Monday, $4.95

Great Reduction in Waist Department

FLANELLETTE WAISTS — In dotted, striped and plaid patterns; regular $1.50—now 98c

BLACK TAFFETA WAISTS — This lot is made up of broken lots and samples of this season's making; there is only one of its kind in most styles; values up to $8.50—now $3.95

ECRU AND WHITE NET WAISTS—Silk-lined, full ruffled sleeves, Valenciennes lace edging at neck, lace insertion and medallions for $3.29

WHITE EMBROIDERED WOOL BATISTE WAISTS — Two styles to select from; these are new styles just received; value $5—now $3.95

In the Bazaar

Our opening of the bazaar yesterday was very successful. The attendance of the hundreds of children made this occasion worth while. Abrahamson's Bazaar will be the headquarters for the Christmas shopper.

Sale of Pure Linen, Hand-Drawn Burea Scarfs, Pillow Shams, Tea Cloths 98c ea

This is not a surplus stock nor a lot of samples. It is just an exceptional buying feature of our New York office, who secured these linens at a low price. The purchasing at a low price enables us to give them 98c to you at this one price of 98c

There is not any exaggeration in the values of the scarfs, shams or squares—they are worth $2.00; some are worth $3.00.

THE SCARFS ARE 18x45—
PILLOW SHAMS 36x36—
TEA CLOTHS 30x30— 98c

They are all pure linen, hand drawn, hand hemstitched, clear designs, embroidered patterns—all clean, pure perfect goods. They are on display in our Washington Street window. The values are to $3.00, we know not to be exaggerated.

ABRAHAMSON BROS.—S. E. COR. 13th AND WASHINGTON

MAKE CHANGES IN CONSULATE

Chinese Officials No Longer Live Together as in the Past.

Do you remember that quiet household of about April days in San Francisco's old Chinatown. The Chinese Consulate, where all the wives and children of the Consul's official staff kept house under one roof on the corner of Commercial and Third streets, where the offices of the Consul were on the same floor with the big reception room, through which Chinese and Chinese ladies pattered and chattered at will?
That is all changed now. Co-operative consulting housekeeping is suddenly become obsolete—relegated to the historical dust heap of customs gone a-glimmering. No more honey-moon of consular wives to provide living quarters for families on the same polite official footing.
Sun Sze Yee, the present Consul-General, has brought about this change. When Sun Sze Yee moved his consulate from this city to San Francisco several weeks ago, he transferred the official family to a spacious residence with a garden on Canton street. The office was filled up in suitable style in a suite of rooms in the Consulate building, corner of Clay and Kearny streets.
But the dove of domestic peace would not perch above the doorway of home, sweet home on Fortieth street. Doves and dragons and American eagles make a queer sort of zoo, anyway. Consul-General and his attaches held a domestic-diplomatic conference over the matter. The decision was unanimously in favor of an official divorce.
So the women packed up their trunks and trousseaus and their gorgeous coats and the babies' rainbow-hued finery and the procession, dividing itself into little groups, made an epoch in official history. The Chinese Consulate is almost as though it had borrowed a longman's hatchet and chopped off the Chinese dragon's head.

Mrs. Sun Sze Yee is now domiciled in East Oakland with her child. Vice-Consul King and two of the secretaries have set up separate establishments in this city. Some of the attaches have taken to the Alameda and others in Berkeley.
Of course, jealousy of one another's official importance couldn't possibly have been the factor in the decision of that Fortieth-street household. As everybody knows, jealousy is green-eyed. A demon with extra that slant and are sores for blackness isn't to be credited at all.
Asked the delicate question of feminine jealousy, Vice-Consul King politely replied:
"We like the new plan. It is very nice. It is American."
"Jealousy? Well, human nature is the same the world over, and it may be that the ladies— But who can say as to that?"
Who, indeed?

WILL BEGIN MINTING SUBSIDIARY COIN

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 30.—The San Francisco mint will start Tuesday on subsidiary coin. There has been a scarcity of small coin in this city for the past week, and there has been none at the sub-treasury for several days.

Badly Mixed Up.
Abrahamson of Winterton, N. Y., had a very remarkable experience. He says: "Doctors got badly mixed up over me; one said heart disease, two called it kidney trouble, the fourth blood poisoning and the fifth stomach and liver trouble; but none of them helped me, so my wife advised, trying Electric Bitters, which are restoring me to perfect health. One bottle did me more good than all the five doctors prescribed." Guaranteed for blood poisoning, weakness and all stomach, liver and kidney complaints, by Osmond Bros., druggists, Seventh and Broadway and Twelfth and Washington streets, 50c.

WILFLEY ASKS FOR NEW JOB

Shanghai Judgeship Too Warm He Seeks Another Berth in Philippines.

Each steamer that comes from the Orient brings new stories of the woes and ambitions of Judge Leheus R. Wilfley, Judge of the United States Court at Shanghai. Some time ago charges against him were sent on to Washington, among gravest offenses charged being an insult from the bench to the Catholic Church in the Orient.

Apparently Wilfley has decided to get off the bench, and he has rushed to his old friend, Secretary of War Taft, to provide him with another place. He was Attorney-General for the Philippines under Taft, and since the visit of the Secretary of War to Japan, Wilfley has announced that he is again to be cured for in the islands. The "Cablenews," the leading Philippine paper, several weeks ago had the following dispatch from Shanghai:

"Rebtribution has overtaken Leheus R. Wilfley, United States Judge for China, and his usefulness here is over. He has hurried to Japan to meet Taft in an endeavor to save himself from dismissal. The entire community of Shanghai is hostile to him on account of various unfortunate statements he has made from the bench or in public meetings.

"Before he left Shanghai he said to his diminished circle of intimates that he had assurances he would be appointed secretary of finance and justice on the Philippine Commission. It is hoped here that he will get this position, as he has seriously injured the prestige of Americans in the Far East."

But, apparently, Manila does not share Shanghai's joy in getting rid of Wilfley, particularly if the jurist is to be loaded back on the Philippines, for under the heading, "Is There No Hope?" the Cablenews prior to Taft's visit, had the following peppy editorial on the much discussed bench of Shanghai:
"Can there be a grain of truth in Leheus Wilfley's widespread confidences to Shanghaians that he is to be made Secretary of Finance and Justice? Is this country to be afflicted with this fourth flush which we had thought ourselves rid of forever? Can it be possible that he has so hidden his long ears under the wig of judge and cloak of the missionary that he has deceived even the astute Secretary of War?"

"The Cablenews" refuses to credit it. It is probably true that very shortly, even perhaps within two days after Taft lands here, he will announce the name of the Secretary of Finance and Justice. That, say educators, David Philipines Barrows, knows who he is. He can give you the first letter of his past name and the last letter of his front name, and then have something up his sleeve.
"Doubtless we know some letters in his name, but we don't know what their relative positions are. However, if the first letter of his un-Christianized name is W and if his Christianized name begins with L, all we have to say is the Lord help the Philippines. All China is scratching itself because of Wilfley's prickly speeches, and we have enough indigestion time-servers here already."

HARBOR IS TO BE IMPROVED

War Department Engineer Makes Inquiry as to What Is Necessary.

The widening and deepening of Oakland's harbor seems to be a certainty, as the war department of the government has taken an interest in the project. John Bidle, one of the Federal engineers, having sent a communication to the Chamber of Commerce of this city asking what particular piece of harbor improvement would be desired in the event that the appropriation was not large enough to do all the work.

The directors of the Chamber of Commerce answered the query by favoring the widening of the channel between Chestnut and Fallon streets to 500 feet, the depth to be 25 feet, and in Brooklyn basin 300 feet in width and 17 feet in depth.

Secretary Stearns feels confident that the improvement will be accomplished and that the war department is determined to complete the work as soon as possible. Efforts are still being made to get the government interested in a naval station on the Alameda side of the estuary.

Developing Bust and Figure

Deep breathing helps greatly in developing the chest, taking a morning walk, and at night before retiring; afterward massage with MEDICATED Cream and three times a day take Willard White Co.'s Vaucaire Gulega Tablets. Drink plenty of cold water, avoid all drinks containing acids, and within a short time the bust measure will have increased to the extent of several inches. —Mlle. Maryn, America's great authority on health and beauty.

The remedy that all the best known authorities on Beauty Culture highly indorse. The preparation that contains the genuine imported ingredients. Buy our tablets from our drug stores, our authorized agents, and take no chance of being imposed upon by unscrupulous dealers who are offering worthless preparations, claiming them to be "just as good as ours."

See that the name Willard White Co. is on each box. White's Vaucaire Tablets make good, healthy flesh, develop the bust, restore wasted strength, make the cheeks plump and rosy; fill out the hollows of a scrawny neck. Vaucaire Gulega Tablets nourish the fat-producing cells; which is necessary to give the roundness of contour so desired and coveted by every lady of refinement. If you are thin, careworn, nervous or run down, take a box of Vaucaire Gulega Tablets and note their wonderful effect. Contains no injurious drugs. 31 per box (three weeks' treatment), six boxes for $1. Sent by mail if desired. One box of tablets more than equals two bottles of the 41 size liquid. Tablets are very superior to build, easy to take.
FREE. Send 2c for booklet and large sample of Medorose cream and face powder.
WILLARD WHITE CO., Chicago, Ill.

Monthly Special Sale

WEDDING GIFT
CHRISTMAS GIFT
BIRTHDAY GIFT

THESE QUADRUPLE SILVERPLATED BREAD TRAYS, SPECIAL $1.65 Regular $3.00

N. E. Cor. Thirteenth and Washington Sts. P. C. Pulse & Co.

1907 Packard Touring Car

$4100 with following equipment: Collapsible bumper, 5 gas lamps, generator and gas tank, 2 extra casings with covers and tire irons, Jones speedometer, road odometer, clock, seat covers throughout, trunk rack, shock absorbers, folding glass front, special top, Gaberial horn, robe rack, 5 inner tubes, in use 4 months, good as new.

Keystone Motor Car Co.
644-646 Telegraph Ave.
Phone Oakland 6496

TRIBUNE SUBSCRIBERS who fail to receive their paper before six o'clock every evening should telephone to the Circulation Department, Oakland 528, and the Carrier will be notified to deliver copy immediately.

Oakland's Progressive Store

ABRAHAMSONS
S. E. Cor. 13th and Washington.

Monday Morning

50 inches wide Broadcloth, in all the best shades, as brown, black, etc. Worsted, navy, reseda, black, etc. Worsted, navy, reseda, black, etc. For Monday $1.45 only. You will not duplicate them later for so low a price.

Monday Morning

Beauty Pins, with neat pearl settings, to a card; the 30c quality—set. 5c

Monday Morning

Just received 50 dozen Ladies' linen (stiff) embroidered collars, worked in pretty patterns of conventional and floral designs. Never sold less than 25c each. Special Monday morning—ea. 15c

Monday Morning

Leatherette Sewing Box, fitted with three skins of embroidery floss, a thimble, two spools of thread, card of buttons and card of hooks and eyes—a regular 25c box. Monday a. m. 19c

Monday Morning

30 dozen Boys' HEALTH Flannels, lined Shirts or Drawers. Colors, blue or natural; will fit boys from 12 to 15 years of age; finished seams. Regular value 50c each. Monday selling 39c

Monday Morning

10x4 Turkey Red Fringed Table Cloth, Regular $1.00. Special—ea. 69c

45x55, all Linen Loom Dye Table Tops, Regular 65c, Spe. 45c

15x25 Bleached Turkish Bath Towels, Regular 15c, Spe. 12½c

THE TRIBUNE OFFICE IN BERKELEY IS AT 2133 CENTER
STREET. TELEPHONE BERKE-LEY 180.

BERKELEY AND ALAMEDA

THE TRIBUNE OFFICE IN ALA-MEDA IS AT CORNER OF PARK STREET AND SANTA CLARA
AVENUE. TEL. ALAMEDA 559.

ST. JOSEPH'S CHURCH IS TO BE DEDICATED XMAS

SERMON BY REV. F. X. MORRISON

BERKELEY, Nov. 30.—St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Church is rapidly nearing completion and will be dedicated at a service to be held at 8 o'clock Christmas morning. Rev. Father F. X. Morrison is to preach the dedicatory sermon at this time.

The new building is located on the corner of J and A streets. The interior is nearly finished and the decorators are at work on the steeple that surmounts the front. The church is to be finished in dark tints the lower part of the walls being brown and the lights of gilt. The ceiling will be white and the pews of weathered oak.

WOMAN THROWN TO GROUND BY DERAILED CARIn Heavy Fall One Ankle Is Painfully Bruised and Sprained.

BERKELEY, Nov. 30.—Mrs. George Holmes, wife of the Professor Holmes, who is a student at the University of California, met with a painful accident at the corner of College and Alameda streets.

The car was going at a high rate of speed and when it derailed it fell over the side of the track and landed on the ground.

The injured woman was taken to her home at 2731 Bancroft way where she was attended by Dr. H. H. Rowell and is reported to be resting easily.

BUILDS BATTLESHIP
OF KITCHEN HARDWARE

BERKELEY, Nov. 30.—Feeling upon a sea of little nails in the window of a local hardware store lies the battleship California. She is three feet long with a tonnage of ten pounds. She is built entirely of hardware and kitchen sundries.

The California has an armor plate through which a bullet would pass. She is built of iron and steel and is a masterpiece of kitchen hardware.

The battleship is a masterpiece of kitchen hardware and is built of iron and steel. She is a masterpiece of kitchen hardware and is built of iron and steel.

PREFERS A FREEZER OF ICE CREAM TO HONESTY

BERKELEY, Nov. 30.—W. L. Armstrong, who is employed by the Santa Candy Company, reported to the police last night that while he was delivering some ice cream at the corner of Dwight way and Benvenue avenue some one stole a freezer of ice cream from his wagon.

JUNIOR CLASS DANCE AND PLAY A SUCCESS

BERKELEY, Nov. 30.—The Junior Day of the class of 1909 of the University was one of the most successful in the history of the class. The play was a success and the dance was a success.

LUNCHEON IN HONOR OF
MISS AVIS STERLING

BERKELEY, Nov. 30.—Miss W. F. Kelly has issued invitations for a luncheon in honor of Miss Avis Sterling. The luncheon will be held at the University on December 10.

Above the entrance will be the choir loft and the organ which is being brought from Chicago. The choir loft will be a large chandelier suspended from the ceiling and the organ will be of the same general design.

The new church is located on the corner of J and A streets. The interior is nearly finished and the decorators are at work on the steeple that surmounts the front.

The new church is located on the corner of J and A streets. The interior is nearly finished and the decorators are at work on the steeple that surmounts the front.

TROLLEY CAR COMPLETELY
WRECKS WAGONDriver Slightly Injured in Accident Near Bancroft Way.

BERKELEY, Nov. 30.—Car No. 323 of the Telegraph Traction line ran down a narrow belonging to the Pacific States telephone and Telegraph Company about 10 o'clock this afternoon demolishing it completely.

The driver, Mr. J. D. West, was slightly injured in the accident. The car was completely wrecked and the wagon was destroyed.

The injured driver was taken to the hospital and is reported to be resting easily.

MACBETH AND OTHELLO
SUBJECT OF LECTURE

ALAMEDA, Nov. 30.—The 4th lecture of the University extension course will be delivered by Professor H. M. Clapp at the University Church of the Good Shepherd.

BERKELEY HIGH TO MEET LOWELL TEAM
ON FORENSIC STANDDEBATING TEAM OF BERKELEY HIGH SCHOOL.
FROM LEFT TO RIGHT—AUBREY DRURY, PERCY
WISECARVER AND CLARENCE GRADY

Will Debate U. S. Army Question

BERKELEY, Nov. 30.—Representatives of the Berkeley High School and the Lowell High School of San Francisco will debate the question of the U. S. Army at the Berkeley High School on December 10.

LIBRARIAN'S SUCCESSOR NOT AS YET SELECTED

ALAMEDA, Nov. 30.—Librarian Frank B. Graves today concluded his labors at the Carnegie Library here and Monday will assume the head office at the Meville Library at San Francisco. As yet the library trustees have failed to select his successor.

GIRLS' HIGH SCHOOL BASKETBALL TEAM
PLAYS TIE WITH S. F. POLYTECHNIC HIGH

BERKELEY HIGH SCHOOL BASKET BALL TEAM

BERKELEY, Nov. 30.—The girls basketball team of the local high school played a tie game with the girls of Polytechnic High school in San Francisco this afternoon.

The local team is considered one of the best round the bay and has won many games this season.

TRACTION CARS
ON NEW LINEClaremont Avenue and Russell
Street Traffic to Start Today

BERKELEY, Nov. 30.—Beginning tomorrow cars will be operated on the new line from Russell street to Claremont avenue. This work has been a long time in progress but has been hurried in accordance with the petitions of the residents of the Claremont district who are greatly satisfied over the fulfillment of their wishes.

The new line was made public by the official announcement of the general manager of the Oakland Traction Company.

PLANS PAINTED
CHINA EXHIBIT

BERKELEY, Nov. 30.—Miss May Morris is arranging an exhibit of painted plans at the artist's studio. The exhibit will be open to the public from December 1 to December 10.

MUCH WORK ON THOROUGHFARES

Plan to End Controversies With Japan and Canada Is Revived

BERKELEY, Nov. 30.—A large force of men has been put to work on the thoroughfares of the city. The work is to be completed by the end of the month.

RUGBY MILITARY CADETS ACADEMY ARRANGING TO GIVE
SECOND EDITION

BERKELEY, Nov. 30.—The Rugby Military Cadets Academy is arranging to give a second edition of their book. The book is a guide to the city and is a very useful one.

ALAMEDA COURTS TO RESUME ON TUESDAY

ALAMEDA, Nov. 30.—After a long holiday the local courts will resume on Tuesday. The courts will be held at the Alameda County Courthouse.

ANNOUNCE ENGAGEMENT OF PROMINENT COLLEGE
GRADUATES AT LUNCHEON

BERKELEY, Nov. 30.—A friendship which began in undergraduate days at the University of California has resulted in the engagement of two prominent graduates, Miss Gertrude Jewett and William E. Jewett. The announcement was made at a luncheon given at noon today at the Jewett home, 2511 Benvenue avenue to a group of young friends of Miss Jewett.

ADELPHIAN CLUB MEMBERS
ARE TO HAVE BUSY MONTH Interesting Program Arranged, Containing Many Musical Numbers and Entertainments.

MISS E. TODHUNTER

ALAMEDA, Nov. 30.—The Adelpian Club has arranged a very interesting program for the month starting with Monday. The program is to be held at the club house.

The program is to be held at the club house. It will contain many musical numbers and entertainments.

JAPANESE STUDENT WRITES OF HEARST GREEK THEATER

BERKELEY, Nov. 30.—A comment on the play at the Greek Theater in the University of California is contained in a book written by a Japanese student. The book is a very interesting one and is a masterpiece of Japanese literature.

STILL GROWING, STILL BUILDING, AND GENERAL PROSPERITY

THEODORE GIER BUILDING ON FOURTEENTH, NEAR WASHINGTON STREET, WHICH WILL EVENTUALLY BE BIG RETAIL STORE IN HEART OF FASHIONABLE RETAIL DISTRICT.

LARGE STORE IN BUILDING

Theodore Gier's Former Structure to Be Occupied by Cloak House.

By the time the new retail district is partly established along Clay street, in the vicinity of Fourteenth street, the Eastern Outfitting Company will be established in its new quarters, the Gier building, located on the south side of Fourteenth street, between Washington and Clay streets. Theodore Gier sold this property some time ago to Mr. Sparks of this city, but later took a lease upon it, which will expire in June, 1909.

Another lease, which will commence at that time, has been obtained. It is said, by the Eastern Outfitting Company. It is the intention of this firm to establish a large store, using the entire building.

The structure will probably be altered and will be entirely renovated. The building is in a section of the city which will soon form a fashionable retail district.

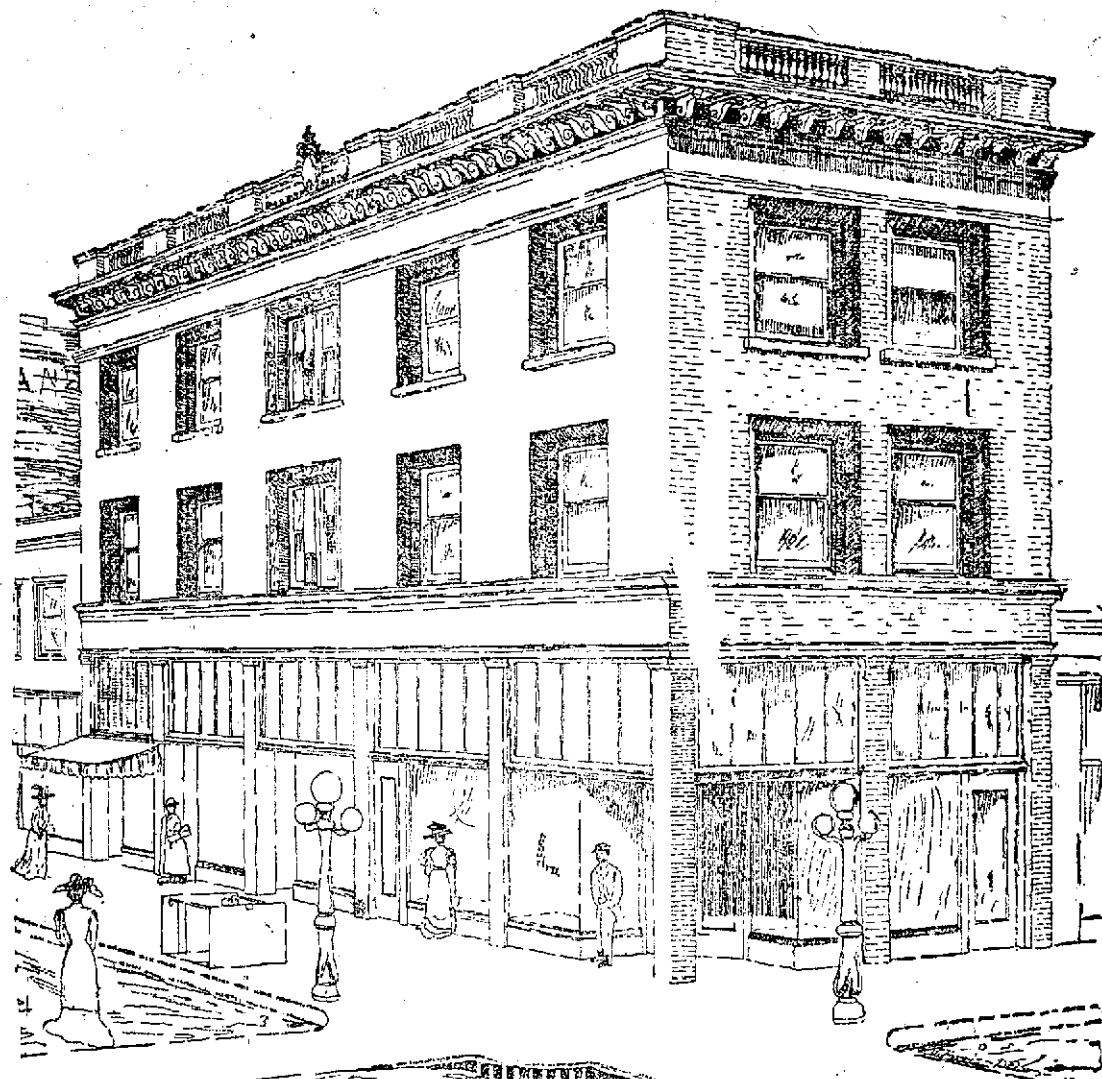

Theodore Gier will probably lease another store, or he declares he may erect a new building in the business section of the city.

LUMBER FIRM TAKES LEASE

Clerin-Hamilton Co.'s Yards on Estuary Will Handle Gigantic Business.

Another large lumber company has located on the water front of this city, the Clerin-Hamilton Company of Raymond, Wash., having obtained a ten-year lease on a portion of the De Fonroy property on Brooklyn basin. This company, when thoroughly established here, will handle over two million feet of lumber each month.

The establishment of this enormous yard in this city only emphasizes the fact that the transportation facilities which Oakland affords, are becoming recognized by big industries as the best that can be had.

THREE-STORY BUILDING TO BE ERECTED BY MARRE BROS. AT TENTH AND FRANKLIN STREETS AND CONTAIN STORES AND OFFICES.

THREE-STORY BUILDING AT TENTH AND FRANKLIN STS.

Marre Brothers to Erect Fine Structure and Establish Headquarters in This City.

The Clerin-Hamilton Company will handle most of its business from this city, which means much to the future development of Oakland's industrial section.

The concern had many places offered for a location of its yards, but this city was far in advance of all others, so closely allied are the water and rail transportation facilities. Many large lumber vessels will discharge their cargoes at the new yards and in turn the lumber will be shipped to all portions of the country.

Another large mercantile building is to be erected on Franklin street, at the northwest corner of Tenth street. The structure will be built by Marre Bros., importers of San Francisco and Jackson. The building will be three stories in height, but the steel and brick work will be such that three more stories can be added at some future date. The building will cost about $150,000. J. D. Voorhes is now preparing the plans and the work on the structure will commence as soon as the cottages now occupying the site can be removed.

Marre Bros. intend occupying a portion of the first floor and the basement and they will probably build or lease a large warehouse on the water front, as they intend to establish large headquarters in this city.

FINE STRUCTURE.
The first story of the new building will be of glazed brick and the upper stories of pressed brick, with terra cotta trimmings. Plate glass windows will be used throughout and the store fronts will have plate glass windows and copper finishes. The basement will run the entire length of the building. There will be five stories on the first floor and nine offices on each of the upper floors. The offices will be fitted with the latest conveniences and appliances.

MILLION DOLLARS WORTH OF SCHOOLS ABOUT READY

Five Magnificent Buildings, When Completed, Will Give This City an Ideal Educational System.

It will be but a matter of a few months before this city's million dollars worth of new school buildings will be ready for occupancy. The work has been rushed to completion as soon as possible, but several delays in the obtaining of materials have been a drawback. With the completion of these new educational structures, Oakland will take rank with all large cities of its size in the matter of school facilities.

The new structures are the best that money can buy and not a detail has been left out to have every convenience for the education of children of this city.

So great has been the increase of population in this city that it is absolutely necessary to occupy the new school buildings as soon as possible. There are 500 more pupils enrolled in the schools of this city at the present time than there were at the same time last year. The attendance grows larger each month, meaning that there is a steady stream of new residents coming to this city.

TAKES PRIDE.

Superintendent of Schools McLymonds takes pride in the new buildings, which have been more or less under his supervision. He declares that this city's school department will outclass that of any city of the same size. McLymonds states that the enrollment of new pupils in such large numbers has been somewhat of a surprise, but that room has been found for all, pending the occupancy of the new buildings.

The Longfellow school at Thirty-ninth and Market streets, a ten-room structure, has just been completed and was occupied this week for the first time. Six classrooms are now open with a full enrollment. The other rooms will be occupied within a short time. The building's outside walls are of re-inforced concrete and the halls are fire-proof.

The Franklin school at Ninth avenue and East Fifteenth street is a twenty-two-room structure and will be ready for occupancy by February first. The building is a class-A structure of pretty architecture. The wood finishers are now at work. When the building is ready the old wooden school, which is one of the landmarks of East Oakland, will be torn down.

BIG STRUCTURE.

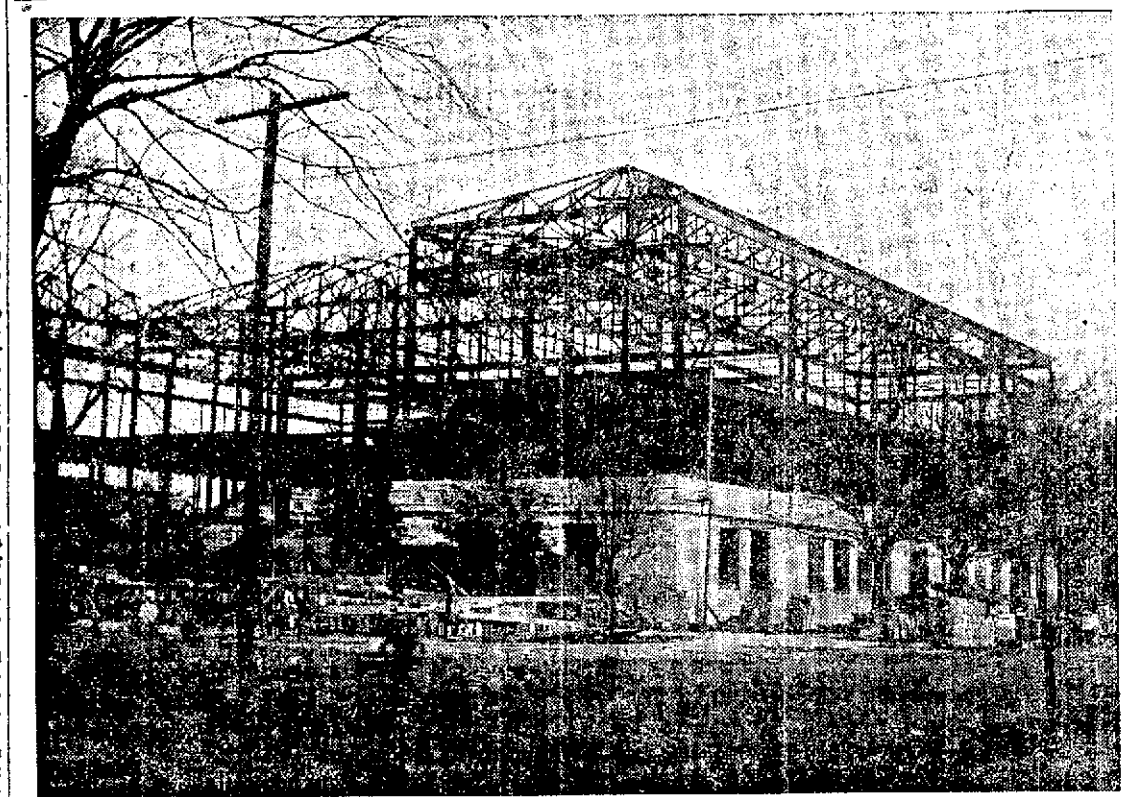

The Lincoln school, on Alice, between Tenth and Eleventh streets, is also a strictly class-A building, containing twenty-six classrooms. There has been some delay on the steel work. The structure will probably be completed by August next year.

The Prescott school in West Oakland will be ready by March 1st. The fireproofing is being installed and the roofing will soon be put in place. The structure is of class-A.

The completion of the Washington school at Sixteenth street and Shattuck avenue, has been somewhat delayed, owing to the fire-proofing work. The building is under roof and the wood finishers are at work. The structure will be ready by February 1st.

Superintendent McLymonds asserts that about $200,000 worth of land was acquired under the school bond issue, and that this land has already appreciated in value three-fold. Each of the new buildings is of a different style of architecture, and beautify the surrounding neighborhood.

NEW LINCOLN SCHOOL BUILDING, A CLASS A STRUCTURE, AND ONE OF THE FIVE EDUCATIONAL INSTITUTIONS OF THIS CITY WHOSE COST AGGREGATES A MILLION DOLLARS.

BUILDING PLANS ARE PREPARED

Many of the Architects of This City Busy With Preliminary Work.

Many of the architects of this city are busy engaged in preparing plans for various kinds of structures, from mercantile buildings to flats and cottages. The structures, it is expected, will be erected within the next year. This activity among the architects shows that there will be a building boom in this city during the next twelve months and that it will probably commence in the spring.

McCall and Wythe are among the architects who have several large plans under way. They report that at present they have orders to prepare plans for two apartment houses, six residences and one three-story flat. While these buildings at the present time are only projected, the prospective builders say they are in earnest and that they will commence construction as soon as the financial flurry has subsided.

The realty dealers are all confident that within a short time this city will experience a larger boom than ever before. They argue that the financial stress has acted as an antidote to investors and builders and that for this reason 1908 will be the banner year of the past decade.

BUYS BUILDING ON 7TH STREET

Large Transfer of Property in District Which Is Becoming Popular.

A realty transaction, which means much to that portion of the city along Seventh street and adjacent to Broadway and Washington street, was the sale this week by J. Centini of property on the south side of Seventh street, between Broadway and Franklin street, for $12,500. The purchaser of the property is M. Clemens and although he bought the property for investment purposes he may decide at some future time to erect a large building on the premises, which are now occupied by a two-story structure. The property is 25x100 feet and in a section of the city, which it is believed will experience a large building growth within a comparatively short time.

Several realty dealers state that they have had inquiries for property along Seventh street in the vicinity of the two main streets of the city and that this portion of the city is meeting with popular favor among investors.

As was published in these columns recently, a San Francisco hotel man is desirous of obtaining a long lease on a hotel to be located in this section of the city. Since that time several other hotel men have been in Oakland looking over the situation with the view of securing a location.

BIG INDUSTRY LOCATED HERE

Standard Underground Cable Company Makes Large Additions to Plant.

The extensive additions to the plant of the Standard Underground Cable Company at First and Linden streets are now complete, making the place one of the largest industries in this city, and one which attracts the eyes of the manufacturing world toward Oakland.

The company made two large additions to its plant, finding this course necessary, owing to the enormous demand for its products. The company has installed a sprinkler system throughout its building and also has its private water supply. It is said that the insurance rate on the property is the lowest on the Pacific Coast, owing to the facilities arranged for its protection from fire.

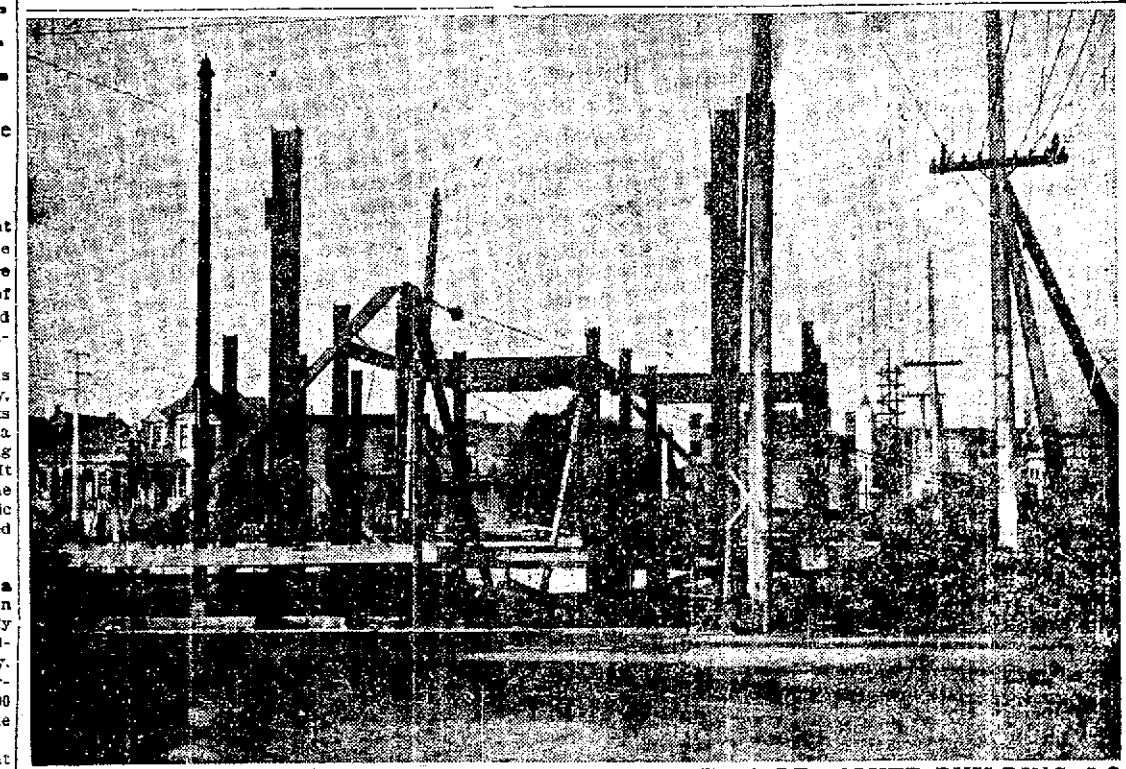

BIG INDUSTRY.

The cable company is transacting a large business and finds difficulty in keeping up with its orders. It is likely that, in the near future, increased facilities and more additions will be necessary. The company is now turning out an order, which requires the use of 100,000 pounds of copper. This is but one of the many orders turned out by this plant.

A story, which illustrates the fact that such a large industry is in operation within the borders of Oakland, unknown to many citizens, is told. Superintendent H. A. Melvin, while in the East, visited the eastern plant of the Standard Underground Cable Company. He was shown about and the question was put to him, "The Oakland plant is not quite as large as this, is it?" "No, not quite so large," replied the judge. His honor did not refer to the Oakland plant again, but as soon as he arrived home he made inquiries as to where the plant was located, so that in the future he will be more familiar with Oakland industries and can talk more lucidly.

VIEW OF CONSTRUCTION WORK ON THE NEW TAFT & PENNOYER BUILDING, LOCATED AT FIFTEENTH AND CLAY STREETS. WORK IS PROGRESSING RAPIDLY ON THE STRUCTURE.

WILL PURCHASE LARGE TRACTS

F. M. Smith Contracts to Buy Manufacturing Sites Near High Street.

Within a short time, F. M. Smith, the prominent capitalist of this city, known as the borax king, will purchase two tracts of land, embracing fifteen and one-half acres on the East side of High street and south of the right of way of the Central Pacific Company. Smith has contracted for the property, but has not announced his purpose in securing the land. The land is unimproved and it is likely that it will be used for manufacturing purposes.

Six acres of the land is the property of the old Pacific Cordage company and the agreement is to sell for $10,000. A rope plant was on this land, but it has not been in operation for some years.

Nine and one-half acres of land are owned by Jeanette Simpson, who agrees to sell for $5700.

PREDICTS BIG BUILDING BOOM

A. J. Snyder Says Present Financial Flurry is Vanguard of Prosperity.

A. J. Snyder, when interviewed this week concerning the present outlook in the realty market, said he was entirely satisfied with the present and exceedingly hopeful of the immediate future. He said:

"The recent flurry in financial circles has not decreased the interest in real estate, but on the contrary has created a rather interesting phase in the host of inquiries for moderate investments. Those inquirers for the most part are depositors in local and San Francisco banks who are looking to place their savings in income property. The consensus of their opinion is, that Oakland realty is to prove a very safe as well as profitable holding, and that the time for such investment is right now. And this is not to be wondered at when one sees the progress that is being made in the improvement of our business district."

RETAIL DISTRICT.

"Look at Fourteenth street, with the Taft & Pennoyer building, the Hotel Jefferson, Maxwell's building and others actually driving the retail trade right down that thoroughfare clear to Grove street. The big hotel and other improvements are also drawing cards for extending the retail business east on Fourteenth and Thirtieth streets. The demand for homes continues good and if buyers could have secured their money from the banks the results for this month would have more than equaled that of October or September."

REPORTS SALES.

"We have been especially fortunate in closing a large proportion of our sales, even under the present conditions, and as soon as the stringency is overcome I predict a greater and better business than we have enjoyed for some time. I have right now some twenty or thirty home-builders who have secured lots in Pleasanton territory by the lake who would have had buildings in course of construction by this time had it not been that they were debarred by the financial situation."

PAVED STREETS WILL HAVE ANNUAL PATCHING

The annual street-patching campaign has started in this city and all the paved streets in Oakland will be overhauled. The holes in the thoroughfares are patched each year and it has been found to be a good system, the streets remaining in better condition. Street department officials have been busily engaged in the past week locating and measuring

J. Twedell, 1-story 5-room cottage north side 58th street, 168 feet east of Park street; $3,500.
Williams, McGraw, addition, 710 9th street; $200.
Charles Marube, additions; $300.
G. B. Ratto & Co., alterations, 722 Washington street; $150.
Mrs. G. LaPratti, 1-story 2-room dwelling, 4900 Broadway $125.
J. N. Clark, 1-story 5-room dwelling 515 Fifth street; $250.
Mrs. Richard, an addition, 505 Vernon street; $100.
B. F. Wright, alterations and shingling, 875 East 24th street; $110.
G. B. Wright, alterations and addition 1213 Madison street; $6,000.
L. A. Discard, alterations, 722 Fifth street; $450.
Harbor Bank, alterations, 808 Broadway; $100.
Mrs. E. T. Hickey, additions, 338 13th avenue; $50.
Fannie A. Cousins, repairs, 538 1st street; $4.
J. Madera, 1-story 5-room dwelling, north side East 15th street, 5 feet east 18th avenue; $1,700.
S. C. Blanchard & Co., 1-1-1 story 7-room dwelling, east side Mira Vista avenue, 275 feet north Alta Vista; $3,500.
Mrs. W. F. Drew, 1-story 8-room dwelling, west side of Howe street, 35 feet north John street; $655.
George Burrows, alterations, 423 10th wards street; $400.
Peter Deluche, 1-story 2-room dwelling west side of Vallejo street, 5,872; $1650.
St. Andrew's Church, repairs, north east corner Magnolia and 13th street; $200.
G. H. Gray, shingling, 1718 11th street; $75.
Irving & Black, 1-story 5-room cottage west side of McCall street, 168 feet north of 57th street; $1,500.
J. C. Dowling, two 1-story 6-room bungalow, south side East 19th street 100 feet east of 11th avenue; $3,200.

STORES AND OFFICE
CENTRALLY located office with

DESIRABLE desk room to rent, w/ out use of desk. See E. Lamborn, Walker, 18 Telegraph.

FOR RENT—Second floor, 50x90 the most prominent corner in Oak Ridge, light on three sides; will give a year lease at very reasonable rent. Call O. A. Chambers, 626 13th st.

REASONABLE

DESIRABLE

Excellent place for light manufacturing, business, college, or show for commercial traveler. One room 500 square feet can be thrown together with room of 100 square feet. In 9 rooms, elevator service and all the appliances done. Smaller rooms adjacent to main floor.

Apply Manager of THE TRIBUNE see rooms in new TRIBUNE Building.

STORE for rent, 18x30, shelving and tiers furnished. This store is available and has no competitors for books, shoes, restaurant or delicatessen, ink machines, novelties, ladies' and furnishings, notions, dry goods, drugs. It is also a good corner for cereals and meats. Hughes, 22nd and Public ave

SMALL house to let, with 2 small s very reasonable; at Key Route sta 637 2nd st.

STORE, living room; good location any business; no opposition. 636

T. Leas

Two Upper Floors and

Cement Basement of the Colonial Building
222 San Pablo Ave
NEAR 16TH ST.
ELECTRIC ELEVATOR SERVICE
Steel frame building, low insurance, property lighted and suitable for nuses or high-class photographer, club or society quarters, high manufacturing plant or wholesale nos. Long lease. Low rent.

 Colonial Stationery & Art Co. on Lees

ROOMS AND BOARD Want
 23 ladies' room and board in private b'ly, central. Phone Adams 7822.
 MAN in business position wants like room and board, widow with 2 children preferred. Box 98, Tribune.
ROOM for father and be of 14,
 for boy, both willing distance.
 821. Tribune.
YOUNG man wants board and private Catholic family; state and circumstances. Box 88, Tr.
YOUNG couple wants room and in private family. Oakland, Alameda Co., Cal. Box 88, Tribune.
YOUNG mechanic desires room and board private family. Box Tribune.

FLATS FOR SALE.
 3126-3128, Adams complete; rent $18.
 656 1/2 10th st.
 SEE 10th st.

ATTORNEYS-AT-LAW
 A. D. HUGHES-Attorney at Law
 1000 Broadway

Block Oakland 355 G. G. ave.

ALEX M. RIVKOV personal injury lawyer
 Room 1115, 150 Broadway, Oakland 94612
 510/835-7000
 -at-law 150 Broadway, rooms 1115
 SF phone Oakland 4572

BLN F. WOOL NLR, Attorney and executor-at-law and notary public.
 1500 Broadway, Oakland 94612
 510/835-7000

B. H. GRIFFIN, attorney-at-law
 5 Elk Blvd. Oakland 94612
 510/835-7000

CLINTON G. LODGE, rooms 15
 50 Broadway

D. KNAPP, attorney, Office
 Broadway, phone Oakland 4047

FREDERICK E. WHITNEY, atty.
 -at-law 967 Broadway; rooms 1
 15 phone Oakland 4572

GEORGE E. DIE GOLZ, 303 Bacon
 phone Oakland 1431

GEORGE E. DIE GOLZ, 303 Bacon

northwest corner of 9th st., On room 2. telephone Oakland 38.

HAROLD L. MARTIN, attorney law Room E, 569 Broadway
HARRY W. CHIEFER, attorney law 67 Broadway, rooms 22 and JOHNSON & SILAV, law office
Broadway, rooms 42, 60 and 61
LAW OFFICES of J. L. Smith, for S. J. Smith, law office law, phone Oakland 3006. Res.
phone Spring 562
L. S. CLARK, attorney-at-law, 631 J.
S. Connelley, law office, Oper
law 567 Broadway
MELVIN J. CHAPMAN, attorney
law 567 Broadway
NYE & KINSELD, attorneys-at-law
Broadway
STANLEY MOORE, attorney-at-law
law 567 Broadway
SNOOK & CHURCH, attorneys-at-law 56 Broadway
SAMUEL DELL M'KEE, attorney law U. S. Bank Bldg., Oakland WILSON & WILSON (Mountain view), attorneys-at-law, 1001 pers-at-law 1899 Webster st.
Pine, San Francisco

PHENIX AUTOMOBILE SALES
45th st and San Pablo ave. Oak

ATHENS Garage—A specialty of oiling, waxing and polishing, fireproofing, painting, etc. Phone 100. Inspection. Cor. 85th and Tel. ave. Wm. Town, p.p.

JOHN AUTO—A fine 1927 Buick with lights bought and sold. 30th and Grand. Phone 100.

WANTED—Second-hand auto; must be bargain. We sell for 8 per cent below market. We immediately inquire car when left for sale. Stilwell & Co., auto brokers, 778 Telegraph (Cal.)

MAXWELL runabout, latest model, three months' make offer. S. T. J. Crowley, 262 Filmore st. S. F.

WHITE Garage, 118 Telegraph ave. and—Always have a bunch of good cars. We immediately inquire car when left for sale. Stilwell & Co., auto brokers, 778 Telegraph (Cal.)

Pieces Limousine, Stevens & Buick Franklin, Olds Knox and Steamers. If you like have you

MASSAGE.

A LADY wants select patrons for curing. FACTOR 5, 539 10th
END FACTOR 5, massage, 913
 5th room.
FRANKIE WILLIAMS, returned
 F. 721 Gray st., near Laverne
LOU CARTER—Alcohol massage
 Broadway, rooms 3 and 4
LADY formerly at 539 8th st., now
 21st st.; baths and massage.
MASSAGE and electric treatments
 at Hotel Newlands, 7th and W 10th.
ROME MONTAGUE—Genuine ma massage and electric treatment at 10th and Washington only Washington st. (first floor), room
MISS HASTINGS, alcohol massage clinic House, 639 Washington, room
MISS CLIFFORD—Alcohol massage
 10th and Washington only.
MAGNETIC massage and baths,
 at 1 to 15 p. m. Hill left of do TEB BATHS, scientific massage, at suite 22. Returned.
1187 Jefferson, bet. 13th and 14th—tub baths; massage. New and

CONTEST TO CLOSE DEC. 16; ONLY TWO MORE WEEKS

VOTE CERTIFICATES GOOD UNTIL 16TH Offer of Votes for New Subscribers Has Expired.

As the great $10,000 prize contest of THE OAKLAND TRIBUNE will not close until December 16, owing to the impossibility of verifying the new subscriptions before that date, the vote certificates that expire December 2 can be held and voted on December 16 if desired.

New subscribers are requested to kindly send and return the postal cards that have been mailed to them. It is impossible to credit the votes to the candidates until these postal cards are returned.

It is regretted that it has been found unnecessary to postpone the closing of the contest, but it is unavoidable, due to the failure of some of the new subscribers to promptly return the cards sent to verify their orders.

1000 VOTE OFFER EXPIRED.

The offer of 1000 votes for a new subscriber expired last night, and the candidates who failed to take advantage of this offer have only themselves to blame. Many of the candidates did take advantage of the offer and have increased their vote materially.

PAID-IN-ADVANCE.

Votes will be issued on all old and new paid-in-advance subscriptions until December 16, the close of the contest. If you have not yet secured the subscription you have promised you, now is the time to see your friends and secure their support.

MANNER OF VOTING.

Votes are given on all paid-in-advance subscriptions as follows: 100 extra votes for three months, $1.50; 500 extra votes for six months, $2.50; 1000 extra votes for one year, $4.00. 1000 extra votes for two years, $7.00. 3000 extra votes for three years, $10.00. 5000 extra votes for four years, $13.00. 7000 extra votes for five years, $16.00. 10000 extra votes for six years, $19.00. 15000 extra votes for seven years, $24.00. 20000 extra votes for eight years, $29.00. 25000 extra votes for nine years, $34.00. 30000 extra votes for ten years, $39.00. 35000 extra votes for eleven years, $44.00. 40000 extra votes for twelve years, $49.00. 45000 extra votes for thirteen years, $54.00. 50000 extra votes for fourteen years, $59.00. 55000 extra votes for fifteen years, $64.00. 60000 extra votes for sixteen years, $69.00. 65000 extra votes for seventeen years, $74.00. 70000 extra votes for eighteen years, $79.00. 75000 extra votes for nineteen years, $84.00. 80000 extra votes for twenty years, $89.00. 85000 extra votes for twenty-one years, $94.00. 90000 extra votes for twenty-two years, $99.00. 95000 extra votes for twenty-three years, $104.00. 100000 extra votes for twenty-four years, $109.00. 105000 extra votes for twenty-five years, $114.00. 110000 extra votes for twenty-six years, $119.00. 115000 extra votes for twenty-seven years, $124.00. 120000 extra votes for twenty-eight years, $129.00. 125000 extra votes for twenty-nine years, $134.00. 130000 extra votes for thirty years, $139.00. 135000 extra votes for thirty-one years, $144.00. 140000 extra votes for thirty-two years, $149.00. 145000 extra votes for thirty-three years, $154.00. 150000 extra votes for thirty-four years, $159.00. 155000 extra votes for thirty-five years, $164.00. 160000 extra votes for thirty-six years, $169.00. 165000 extra votes for thirty-seven years, $174.00. 170000 extra votes for thirty-eight years, $179.00. 175000 extra votes for thirty-nine years, $184.00. 180000 extra votes for forty years, $189.00. 185000 extra votes for forty-one years, $194.00. 190000 extra votes for forty-two years, $199.00. 195000 extra votes for forty-three years, $204.00. 200000 extra votes for forty-four years, $209.00. 205000 extra votes for forty-five years, $214.00. 210000 extra votes for forty-six years, $219.00. 215000 extra votes for forty-seven years, $224.00. 220000 extra votes for forty-eight years, $229.00. 225000 extra votes for forty-nine years, $234.00. 230000 extra votes for fifty years, $239.00. 235000 extra votes for fifty-one years, $244.00. 240000 extra votes for fifty-two years, $249.00. 245000 extra votes for fifty-three years, $254.00. 250000 extra votes for fifty-four years, $259.00. 255000 extra votes for fifty-five years, $264.00. 260000 extra votes for fifty-six years, $269.00. 265000 extra votes for fifty-seven years, $274.00. 270000 extra votes for fifty-eight years, $279.00. 275000 extra votes for fifty-nine years, $284.00. 280000 extra votes for sixty years, $289.00. 285000 extra votes for sixty-one years, $294.00. 290000 extra votes for sixty-two years, $299.00. 295000 extra votes for sixty-three years, $304.00. 300000 extra votes for sixty-four years, $309.00. 305000 extra votes for sixty-five years, $314.00. 310000 extra votes for sixty-six years, $319.00. 315000 extra votes for sixty-seven years, $324.00. 320000 extra votes for sixty-eight years, $329.00. 325000 extra votes for sixty-nine years, $334.00. 330000 extra votes for seventy years, $339.00. 335000 extra votes for seventy-one years, $344.00. 340000 extra votes for seventy-two years, $349.00. 345000 extra votes for seventy-three years, $354.00. 350000 extra votes for seventy-four years, $359.00. 355000 extra votes for seventy-five years, $364.00. 360000 extra votes for seventy-six years, $369.00. 365000 extra votes for seventy-seven years, $374.00. 370000 extra votes for seventy-eight years, $379.00. 375000 extra votes for seventy-nine years, $384.00. 380000 extra votes for eighty years, $389.00. 385000 extra votes for eighty-one years, $394.00. 390000 extra votes for eighty-two years, $399.00. 395000 extra votes for eighty-three years, $404.00. 400000 extra votes for eighty-four years, $409.00. 405000 extra votes for eighty-five years, $414.00. 410000 extra votes for eighty-six years, $419.00. 415000 extra votes for eighty-seven years, $424.00. 420000 extra votes for eighty-eight years, $429.00. 425000 extra votes for eighty-nine years, $434.00. 430000 extra votes for ninety years, $439.00. 435000 extra votes for ninety-one years, $444.00. 440000 extra votes for ninety-two years, $449.00. 445000 extra votes for ninety-three years, $454.00. 450000 extra votes for ninety-four years, $459.00. 455000 extra votes for ninety-five years, $464.00. 460000 extra votes for ninety-six years, $469.00. 465000 extra votes for ninety-seven years, $474.00. 470000 extra votes for ninety-eight years, $479.00. 475000 extra votes for ninety-nine years, $484.00. 480000 extra votes for one hundred years, $489.00. 485000 extra votes for one hundred and one years, $494.00. 490000 extra votes for one hundred and two years, $499.00. 495000 extra votes for one hundred and three years, $504.00. 500000 extra votes for one hundred and four years, $509.00. 505000 extra votes for one hundred and five years, $514.00. 510000 extra votes for one hundred and six years, $519.00. 515000 extra votes for one hundred and seven years, $524.00. 520000 extra votes for one hundred and eight years, $529.00. 525000 extra votes for one hundred and nine years, $534.00. 530000 extra votes for one hundred and ten years, $539.00. 535000 extra votes for one hundred and eleven years, $544.00. 540000 extra votes for one hundred and twelve years, $549.00. 545000 extra votes for one hundred and thirteen years, $554.00. 550000 extra votes for one hundred and fourteen years, $559.00. 555000 extra votes for one hundred and fifteen years, $564.00. 560000 extra votes for one hundred and sixteen years, $569.00. 565000 extra votes for one hundred and seventeen years, $574.00. 570000 extra votes for one hundred and eighteen years, $579.00. 575000 extra votes for one hundred and nineteen years, $584.00. 580000 extra votes for one hundred and twenty years, $589.00. 585000 extra votes for one hundred and twenty-one years, $594.00. 590000 extra votes for one hundred and twenty-two years, $599.00. 595000 extra votes for one hundred and twenty-three years, $604.00. 600000 extra votes for one hundred and twenty-four years, $609.00. 605000 extra votes for one hundred and twenty-five years, $614.00. 610000 extra votes for one hundred and twenty-six years, $619.00. 615000 extra votes for one hundred and twenty-seven years, $624.00. 620000 extra votes for one hundred and twenty-eight years, $629.00. 625000 extra votes for one hundred and twenty-nine years, $634.00. 630000 extra votes for one hundred and thirty years, $639.00. 635000 extra votes for one hundred and thirty-one years, $644.00. 640000 extra votes for one hundred and thirty-two years, $649.00. 645000 extra votes for one hundred and thirty-three years, $654.00. 650000 extra votes for one hundred and thirty-four years, $659.00. 655000 extra votes for one hundred and thirty-five years, $664.00. 660000 extra votes for one hundred and thirty-six years, $669.00. 665000 extra votes for one hundred and thirty-seven years, $674.00. 670000 extra votes for one hundred and thirty-eight years, $679.00. 675000 extra votes for one hundred and thirty-nine years, $684.00. 680000 extra votes for one hundred and forty years, $689.00. 685000 extra votes for one hundred and forty-one years, $694.00. 690000 extra votes for one hundred and forty-two years, $699.00. 695000 extra votes for one hundred and forty-three years, $704.00. 700000 extra votes for one hundred and forty-four years, $709.00. 705000 extra votes for one hundred and forty-five years, $714.00. 710000 extra votes for one hundred and forty-six years, $719.00. 715000 extra votes for one hundred and forty-seven years, $724.00. 720000 extra votes for one hundred and forty-eight years, $729.00. 725000 extra votes for one hundred and forty-nine years, $734.00. 730000 extra votes for one hundred and fifty years, $739.00. 735000 extra votes for one hundred and fifty-one years, $744.00. 740000 extra votes for one hundred and fifty-two years, $749.00. 745000 extra votes for one hundred and fifty-three years, $754.00. 750000 extra votes for one hundred and fifty-four years, $759.00. 755000 extra votes for one hundred and fifty-five years, $764.00. 760000 extra votes for one hundred and fifty-six years, $769.00. 765000 extra votes for one hundred and fifty-seven years, $774.00. 770000 extra votes for one hundred and fifty-eight years, $779.00. 775000 extra votes for one hundred and fifty-nine years, $784.00. 780000 extra votes for one hundred and sixty years, $789.00. 785000 extra votes for one hundred and sixty-one years, $794.00. 790000 extra votes for one hundred and sixty-two years, $799.00. 795000 extra votes for one hundred and sixty-three years, $804.00. 800000 extra votes for one hundred and sixty-four years, $809.00. 805000 extra votes for one hundred and sixty-five years, $814.00. 810000 extra votes for one hundred and sixty-six years, $819.00. 815000 extra votes for one hundred and sixty-seven years, $824.00. 820000 extra votes for one hundred and sixty-eight years, $829.00. 825000 extra votes for one hundred and sixty-nine years, $834.00. 830000 extra votes for one hundred and seventy years, $839.00. 835000 extra votes for one hundred and seventy-one years, $844.00. 840000 extra votes for one hundred and seventy-two years, $849.00. 845000 extra votes for one hundred and seventy-three years, $854.00. 850000 extra votes for one hundred and seventy-four years, $859.00. 855000 extra votes for one hundred and seventy-five years, $864.00. 860000 extra votes for one hundred and seventy-six years, $869.00. 865000 extra votes for one hundred and seventy-seven years, $874.00. 870000 extra votes for one hundred and seventy-eight years, $879.00. 875000 extra votes for one hundred and seventy-nine years, $884.00. 880000 extra votes for one hundred and eighty years, $889.00. 885000 extra votes for one hundred and eighty-one years, $894.00. 890000 extra votes for one hundred and eighty-two years, $899.00. 895000 extra votes for one hundred and eighty-three years, $904.00. 900000 extra votes for one hundred and eighty-four years, $909.00. 905000 extra votes for one hundred and eighty-five years, $914.00. 910000 extra votes for one hundred and eighty-six years, $919.00. 915000 extra votes for one hundred and eighty-seven years, $924.00. 920000 extra votes for one hundred and eighty-eight years, $929.00. 925000 extra votes for one hundred and eighty-nine years, $934.00. 930000 extra votes for one hundred and ninety years, $939.00. 935000 extra votes for one hundred and ninety-one years, $944.00. 940000 extra votes for one hundred and ninety-two years, $949.00. 945000 extra votes for one hundred and ninety-three years, $954.00. 950000 extra votes for one hundred and ninety-four years, $959.00. 955000 extra votes for one hundred and ninety-five years, $964.00. 960000 extra votes for one hundred and ninety-six years, $969.00. 965000 extra votes for one hundred and ninety-seven years, $974.00. 970000 extra votes for one hundred and ninety-eight years, $979.00. 975000 extra votes for one hundred and ninety-nine years, $984.00. 980000 extra votes for two hundred years, $989.00. 985000 extra votes for two hundred and one years, $994.00. 990000 extra votes for two hundred and two years, $999.00. 995000 extra votes for two hundred and three years, $1004.00. 1000000 extra votes for two hundred and four years, $1009.00. 1005000 extra votes for two hundred and five years, $1014.00. 1010000 extra votes for two hundred and six years, $1019.00. 1015000 extra votes for two hundred and seven years, $1024.00. 1020000 extra votes for two hundred and eight years, $1029.00. 1025000 extra votes for two hundred and nine years, $1034.00. 1030000 extra votes for two hundred and ten years, $1039.00. 1035000 extra votes for two hundred and eleven years, $1044.00. 1040000 extra votes for two hundred and twelve years, $1049.00. 1045000 extra votes for two hundred and thirteen years, $1054.00. 1050000 extra votes for two hundred and fourteen years, $1059.00. 1055000 extra votes for two hundred and fifteen years, $1064.00. 1060000 extra votes for two hundred and sixteen years, $1069.00. 1065000 extra votes for two hundred and seventeen years, $1074.00. 1070000 extra votes for two hundred and eighteen years, $1079.00. 1075000 extra votes for two hundred and nineteen years, $1084.00. 1080000 extra votes for two hundred and twenty years, $1089.00. 1085000 extra votes for two hundred and twenty-one years, $1094.00. 1090000 extra votes for two hundred and twenty-two years, $1099.00. 1095000 extra votes for two hundred and twenty-three years, $1104.00. 1100000 extra votes for two hundred and twenty-four years, $1109.00. 1105000 extra votes for two hundred and twenty-five years, $1114.00. 1110000 extra votes for two hundred and twenty-six years, $1119.00. 1115000 extra votes for two hundred and twenty-seven years, $1124.00. 1120000 extra votes for two hundred and twenty-eight years, $1129.00. 1125000 extra votes for two hundred and twenty-nine years, $1134.00. 1130000 extra votes for two hundred and thirty years, $1139.00. 1135000 extra votes for two hundred and thirty-one years, $1144.00. 1140000 extra votes for two hundred and thirty-two years, $1149.00. 1145000 extra votes for two hundred and thirty-three years, $1154.00. 1150000 extra votes for two hundred and thirty-four years, $1159.00. 1155000 extra votes for two hundred and thirty-five years, $1164.00. 1160000 extra votes for two hundred and thirty-six years, $1169.00. 1165000 extra votes for two hundred and thirty-seven years, $1174.00. 1170000 extra votes for two hundred and thirty-eight years, $1179.00. 1175000 extra votes for two hundred and thirty-nine years, $1184.00. 1180000 extra votes for two hundred and forty years, $1189.00. 1185000 extra votes for two hundred and forty-one years, $1194.00. 1190000 extra votes for two hundred and forty-two years, $1199.00. 1195000 extra votes for two hundred and forty-three years, $1204.00. 1200000 extra votes for two hundred and forty-four years, $1209.00. 1205000 extra votes for two hundred and forty-five years, $1214.00. 1210000 extra votes for two hundred and forty-six years, $1219.00. 1215000 extra votes for two hundred and forty-seven years, $1224.00. 1220000 extra votes for two hundred and forty-eight years, $1229.00. 1225000 extra votes for two hundred and forty-nine years, $1234.00. 1230000 extra votes for two hundred and fifty years, $1239.00. 1235000 extra votes for two hundred and fifty-one years, $1244.00. 1240000 extra votes for two hundred and fifty-two years, $1249.00. 1245000 extra votes for two hundred and fifty-three years, $1254.00. 1250000 extra votes for two hundred and fifty-four years, $1259.00. 1255000 extra votes for two hundred and fifty-five years, $1264.00. 1260000 extra votes for two hundred and fifty-six years, $1269.00. 1265000 extra votes for two hundred and fifty-seven years, $1274.00. 1270000 extra votes for two hundred and fifty-eight years, $1279.00. 1275000 extra votes for two hundred and fifty-nine years, $1284.00. 1280000 extra votes for two hundred and sixty years, $1289.00. 1285000 extra votes for two hundred and sixty-one years, $1294.00. 1290000 extra votes for two hundred and sixty-two years, $1299.00. 1295000 extra votes for two hundred and sixty-three years, $1304.00. 1300000 extra votes for two hundred and sixty-four years, $1309.00. 1305000 extra votes for two hundred and sixty-five years, $1314.00. 1310000 extra votes for two hundred and sixty-six years, $1319.00. 1315000 extra votes for two hundred and sixty-seven years, $1324.00. 1320000 extra votes for two hundred and sixty-eight years, $1329.00. 1325000 extra votes for two hundred and sixty-nine years, $1334.00. 1330000 extra votes for two hundred and seventy years, $1339.00. 1335000 extra votes for two hundred and seventy-one years, $1344.00. 1340000 extra votes for two hundred and seventy-two years, $1349.00. 1345000 extra votes for two hundred and seventy-three years, $1354.00. 1350000 extra votes for two hundred and seventy-four years, $1359.00. 1355000 extra votes for two hundred and seventy-five years, $1364.00. 1360000 extra votes for two hundred and seventy-six years, $1369.00. 1365000 extra votes for two hundred and seventy-seven years, $1374.00. 1370000 extra votes for two hundred and seventy-eight years, $1379.00. 1375000 extra votes for two hundred and seventy-nine years, $1384.00. 1380000 extra votes for two hundred and eighty years, $1389.00. 1385000 extra votes for two hundred and eighty-one years, $1394.00. 1390000 extra votes for two hundred and eighty-two years, $1399.00. 1395000 extra votes for two hundred and eighty-three years, $1404.00. 1400000 extra votes for two hundred and eighty-four years, $1409.00. 1405000 extra votes for two hundred and eighty-five years, $1414.00. 1410000 extra votes for two hundred and eighty-six years, $1419.00. 1415000 extra votes for two hundred and eighty-seven years, $1424.00. 1420000 extra votes for two hundred and eighty-eight years, $1429.00. 1425000 extra votes for two hundred and eighty-nine years, $1434.00. 1430000 extra votes for two hundred and ninety years, $1439.00. 1435000 extra votes for two hundred and ninety-one years, $1444.00. 1440000 extra votes for two hundred and ninety-two years, $1449.00. 1445000 extra votes for two hundred and ninety-three years, $1454.00. 1450000 extra votes for two hundred and ninety-four years, $1459.00. 1455000 extra votes for two hundred and ninety-five years, $1464.00. 1460000 extra votes for two hundred and ninety-six years, $1469.00. 1465000 extra votes for two hundred and ninety-seven years, $1474.00. 1470000 extra votes for two hundred and ninety-eight years, $1479.00. 1475000 extra votes for two hundred and ninety-nine years, $1484.00. 1480000 extra votes for three hundred years, $1489.00. 1485000 extra votes for three hundred and one years, $1494.00. 1490000 extra votes for three hundred and two years, $1499.00. 1495000 extra votes for three hundred and three years, $1504.00. 1500000 extra votes for three hundred and four years, $1509.00. 1505000 extra votes for three hundred and five years, $1514.00. 1510000 extra votes for three hundred and six years, $1519.00. 1515000 extra votes for three hundred and seven years, $1524.00. 1520000 extra votes for three hundred and eight years, $1529.00. 1525000 extra votes for three hundred and nine years, $1534.00. 1530000 extra votes for three hundred and ten years, $1539.00. 1535000 extra votes for three hundred and eleven years, $1544.00. 1540000 extra votes for three hundred and twelve years, $1549.00. 1545000 extra votes for three hundred and thirteen years, $1554.00. 1550000 extra votes for three hundred and fourteen years, $1559.00. 1555000 extra votes for three hundred and fifteen years, $1564.00. 1560000 extra votes for three hundred and sixteen years, $1569.00. 1565000 extra votes for three hundred and seventeen years, $1574.00. 1570000 extra votes for three hundred and eighteen years, $1579.00. 1575000 extra votes for three hundred and nineteen years, $1584.00. 1580000 extra votes for three hundred and twenty years, $1589.00. 1585000 extra votes for three hundred and twenty-one years, $1594.00. 1590000 extra votes for three hundred and twenty-two years, $1599.00. 1595000 extra votes for three hundred and twenty-three years, $1604.00. 1600000 extra votes for three hundred and twenty-four years, $1609.00. 1605000 extra votes for three hundred and twenty-five years, $1614.00. 1610000 extra votes for three hundred and twenty-six years, $1619.00. 1615000 extra votes for three hundred and twenty-seven years, $1624.00. 1620000 extra votes for three hundred and twenty-eight years, $1629.00. 1625000 extra votes for three hundred and twenty-nine years, $1634.00. 1630000 extra votes for three hundred and thirty years, $1639.00. 1635000 extra votes for three hundred and thirty-one years, $1644.00. 1640000 extra votes for three hundred and thirty-two years, $1649.00. 1645000 extra votes for three hundred and thirty-three years, $1654.00. 1650000 extra votes for three hundred and thirty-four years, $1659.00. 1655000 extra votes for three hundred and thirty-five years, $1664.00. 1660000 extra votes for three hundred and thirty-six years, $1669.00. 1665000 extra votes for three hundred and thirty-seven years, $1674.00. 1670000 extra votes for three hundred and thirty-eight years, $1679.00. 1675000 extra votes for three hundred and thirty-nine years, $1684.00. 1680000 extra votes for three hundred and forty years, $1689.00. 1685000 extra votes for three hundred and forty-one years, $1694.00. 1690000 extra votes for three hundred and forty-two years, $1699.00. 1695000 extra votes for three hundred and forty-three years, $1704.00. 1700000 extra votes for three hundred and forty-four years, $1709.00. 1705000 extra votes for three hundred and forty-five years, $1714.00. 1710000 extra votes for three hundred and forty-six years, $1719.00. 1715000 extra votes for three hundred and forty-seven years, $1724.00. 1720000 extra votes for three hundred and forty-eight years, $1729.00. 1725000 extra votes for three hundred and forty-nine years, $1734.00. 1730000 extra votes for three hundred and fifty years, $1739.00. 1735000 extra votes for three hundred and fifty-one years, $1744.00. 1740000 extra votes for three hundred and fifty-two years, $1749.00. 1745000 extra votes for three hundred and fifty-three years, $1754.00. 1750000 extra votes for three hundred and fifty-four years, $1759.00. 1755000 extra votes for three hundred and fifty-five years, $1764.00. 1760000 extra votes for three hundred and fifty-six years, $1769.00. 1765000 extra votes for three hundred and fifty-seven years, $1774.00. 1770000 extra votes for three hundred and fifty-eight years, $1779.00. 1775000 extra votes for three hundred and fifty-nine years, $1784.00. 1780000 extra votes for three hundred and sixty years, $1789.00. 1785000 extra votes for three hundred and sixty-one years, $1794.00. 1790000 extra votes for three hundred and sixty-two years, $1799.00. 1795000 extra votes for three hundred and sixty-three years, $1804.00. 1800000 extra votes for three hundred and sixty-four years, $1809.00. 1805000 extra votes for three hundred and sixty-five years, $1814.00. 1810000 extra votes for three hundred and sixty-six years, $1819.00. 1815000 extra votes for three hundred and sixty-seven years, $1824.00. 1820000 extra votes for three hundred and sixty-eight years, $1829.00. 1825000 extra votes for three hundred and sixty-nine years, $1834.00. 1830000 extra votes for three hundred and seventy years, $1839.00. 1835000 extra votes for three hundred and seventy-one years, $1844.00. 1840000 extra votes for three hundred and seventy-two years, $1849.00. 1845000 extra votes for three hundred and seventy-three years, $1854.00. 1850000 extra votes for three hundred and seventy-four years, $1859.00. 1855000 extra votes for three hundred and seventy-five years, $1864.00. 1860000 extra votes for three hundred and seventy-six years, $1869.00. 1865000 extra votes for three hundred and seventy-seven years, $1874.00. 1870000 extra votes for three hundred and seventy-eight years, $1879.00. 1875000 extra votes for three hundred and seventy-nine years, $1884.00. 1880000 extra votes for three hundred and eighty years, $1889.00. 1885000 extra votes for three hundred and eighty-one years, $1894.00. 1890000 extra votes for three hundred and eighty-two years, $1899.00. 1895000 extra votes for three hundred and eighty-three years, $1904.00. 1900000 extra votes for three hundred and eighty-four years, $1909.00. 1905000 extra votes for three hundred and eighty-five years, $1914.00. 1910000 extra votes for three hundred and eighty-six years, $1919.00. 1915000 extra votes for three hundred and eighty-seven years, $1924.00. 1920000 extra votes for three hundred and eighty-eight years, $1929.00. 1925000 extra votes for three hundred and eighty-nine years, $1934.00. 1930000 extra votes for three hundred and ninety years, $1939.00. 1935000 extra votes for three hundred and ninety-one years, $1944.00. 1940000 extra votes for three hundred and ninety-two years, $1949.00. 1945000 extra votes for three hundred and ninety-three years, $1954.00. 1950000 extra votes for three hundred and ninety-four years, $1959.00. 1955000 extra votes for three hundred and ninety-five years, $1964.00. 1960000 extra votes for three hundred and ninety-six years, $1969.00. 1965000 extra votes for three hundred and ninety-seven years, $1974.00. 1970000 extra votes for three hundred and ninety-eight years, $1979.00. 1975000 extra votes for three hundred and ninety-nine years, $1984.00. 1980000 extra votes for four hundred years, $1989.00. 1985000 extra votes for four hundred and one years, $1994.00. 1990000 extra votes for four hundred and two years, $1999.00. 1995000 extra votes for four hundred and three years, $2004.00. 2000000 extra votes for four hundred and four years, $2009.00. 2005000 extra votes for four hundred and five years, $2014.00. 2010000 extra votes for four hundred and six years, $2019.00. 2015000 extra votes for four hundred and seven years, $2024.00. 2020000 extra votes for four hundred and eight years, $2029.00. 2025000 extra votes for four hundred and nine years, $2034.00. 2030000 extra votes for four hundred and ten years, $2039.00. 2035000 extra votes for four hundred and eleven years, $2044.00. 2040000 extra votes for four hundred and twelve years, $2049.00. 2045000 extra votes for four hundred and thirteen years, $2054.00. 2050000 extra votes for four hundred and fourteen years, $2059.00. 2055000 extra votes for four hundred and fifteen years, $2064.00. 2060000 extra votes for four hundred and sixteen years, $2069.00. 2065000 extra votes for four hundred and seventeen years, $2074.00. 2070000 extra votes for four hundred and eighteen years, $2079.00. 2075000 extra votes for four hundred and nineteen years, $2084.00. 2080000 extra votes for four hundred and twenty years, $2089.00. 2085000 extra votes for four hundred and twenty-one years, $2094.00. 2090000 extra votes for four hundred and twenty-two years, $2099.00. 2095000 extra votes for four hundred and twenty-three years, $2104.00. 2100000 extra votes for four hundred and twenty-four years, $2109.00. 2105000 extra votes for four hundred and twenty-five years, $2114.00. 2110000 extra votes for four hundred and twenty-six years, $2119.00. 2115000 extra votes for four hundred and twenty-seven years, $2124.00. 2120000 extra votes for four hundred and twenty-eight years, $2129.00. 2125000 extra votes for four hundred and twenty-nine years, $2134.00. 2130000 extra votes for four hundred and thirty years, $2139.00. 2135000 extra votes for four hundred and thirty-one years, $2144.00. 2140000 extra votes for four hundred and thirty-two years, $2149.00. 2145000 extra votes for four hundred and thirty-three years, $2154.00. 2150000 extra votes for four hundred and thirty-four years, $2159.00. 2155000 extra votes for four hundred and thirty-five years, $2164.00. 2160000 extra votes for four hundred and thirty-six years, $2169.00. 2165000 extra votes for four hundred and thirty-seven years, $2174.00. 2170000 extra votes for four hundred and thirty-eight years, $2179.00. 2175000 extra votes for four hundred and thirty-nine years, $2184.00. 2180000 extra votes for four hundred and forty years, $2189.00. 2185000 extra votes for four hundred and forty-one years, $2194.00. 2190000 extra votes for four hundred and forty-two years, $2199.00. 2195000 extra votes for four hundred and forty-three years, $2204.00. 2200000 extra votes for four hundred and forty-four years, $2209.00. 2205000 extra votes for four hundred and forty-five years, $2214.00. 2210000 extra votes for four hundred and forty-six years, $2219.00. 2215000 extra votes for four hundred and forty-seven years, $2224.00. 2220000 extra votes for four hundred and forty-eight years, $2229.00. 2225000 extra votes for four hundred and forty-nine years, $2234.00. 2230000 extra votes for four hundred and fifty years, $2239.00. 2235000 extra votes for four hundred and fifty-one years, $2244.00. 2240000 extra votes for four hundred and fifty-two years, $2249.00. 2245000 extra votes for four hundred and fifty-three years, $2254.00. 2250000 extra votes for four hundred and fifty-four years, $2259.00. 2255000 extra votes for four hundred and fifty-five years, $2264.00. 2260000 extra votes for four hundred and fifty-six years, $2269.00. 2265000 extra votes for four hundred and fifty-seven years, $2274.00. 2270000 extra votes for four hundred and fifty-eight years, $2279.00. 2275000 extra votes for four hundred and fifty-nine years, $2284.00. 2280000 extra votes for four hundred and sixty years, $2289.00. 2285000 extra votes for four hundred and sixty-one years, $2294.00